First record of state institution population was 15 15 persons in 1860, 426 in 1870; from a high point of 18,267 in 1940 there was a slight drop until 1952, since which time the increase has been steady.

NATURE NOTES

Pansies were picked out of the Mabel snow by Mrs. Cyrus Hanson, St. Cloud had early January pussy-willows, and a Fairmont lilac bush had February buds. Sebeka, Staples, Warren, and Thief River Falls were all in doubt as to whether they had the last robin of fall, the first of spring, or merely winterized guests, while Thief River also had a January Meadowlark to worry about. Spring Valley had a black squirrel, Faribault a hardy January snake. While at Fairmont it took two policemen and two cab drivers to subdue Whitey and Dewey Goose and Doc Duck, booked as a quack, after the three migrants were downed in a snowstorm.

JOIN THE RED CROSS

Each year between 6,000 and 7,000 persons drown in this country. Unrecorded though, are the thousands more who do not drown, because they have the skills and knowledge to stay alive in the water. Through its water safety program, the Red Cross teaches these skills. Last year it trained 736,000 children and adults in swimming and lifesaving. Help this service of the Red Cross continue by your membership and generous contribution to the fund campaign.

National Red Cross Explains Purpose of 1955 Fund Campaign

To continue its vital aid to people in distress and to provide necessary help to our many servicemen in all parts of the world, the American Red Cross announced today it will seek $85,000,000 and 30,000,000 members in its March, 1955 campaign.

"In addition to its vast health and safety education programs and its nation-wide network of daily emergency services, the Red Cross always must keep itself in readiness to meet great national emergencies such as might result from enemy attack," Red Cross Chairman E. Roland Harriman said.

"Failure to do this would be a remission in our duty to the people of this country who for more than 70 years have looked to the Red Cross as a rallying point in time of trouble.

"This preparedness for what may come—particularly in our disaster, blood, first aid, and nursing services—requires continual strengthening of our programs. They cannot be put in moth balls, to be pulled out in case of a national emergency."

Services to the Armed Forces and veterans will again claim a major portion of the Red Cross budget this year, with $36,840,000 slated for that purpose.

Operation of the Red Cross Blood Program, which supplies 40 per cent of the blood used in the nation's hospitals, will require an estimated $14,287,000, to assure prompt and certain delivery of blood and its derivatives to thousands of sick and injured.

A total of $5,127,000 is budgeted for disaster preparedness and relief. Besides the traditional aid in natural disasters, an intensified mass-feeding training program was recently begun at the request of the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

Party Designation Measure Is Killed

Issue Is Dead for This Session of Legislature

Party designation legislation is dead for the current session of the legislature.

The Minnesota house of representatives Tuesday dealt a final blow to a bill to force members of the legislature and all county officials to run under a Republican or Democratic-Farmer Labor label.

By a vote of 68 against to 62 for, the house defeated the bill when it came up for final passage. The defeat was a surprise to many in the light of the house action Monday when the measure was given preliminary approval.

Members of the legislature have run on a non-partisan since 1913. Both major political parties have gone on record repeatedly in recent years in favor of legislators becoming candidates under a party banner.

After Speaker A. L. Johnson of Benson announced defeat of the bill, Rep. Odean Enestvedt, Sacred Heart, an opponent of the bill, made a successful parliamentary maneuver that blocked any future attempts to revive the measure.

Game Supervisor Receives Award for Conservation

Richard J. Dorer, supervisor of game for the Minnesota department of conservation is the recipient of the Doctor Robert G. Green conservation award for 1954.

The award, made annually by the Minneapolis Junior Chamber of Commerce to the individual living or working in the greater Minneapolis area who has made an outstanding contribution to the advancement of conservation, was presented to Mr. Dorer February 8 at a banquet at the Minneapolis Athletic Club. Cliff Sakry, last years winner, and executive secretary of the Minnesota Conservation Federation, made the presentation.

The award committee, headed by chairman Don Lucas, cited Dorer for "conceiving and promoting to acceptance on a nationwide level the "Save Minnesota's Wetlands" campaign.

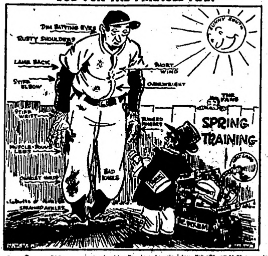
JOB FOR THE MIRACLE MAN



Dairy Committee Plans Expansion

Dairy Industry Group to Enlarge Its Scope

A movie to broaden dairy farmer representation on the Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee has been approved by the executive committee of the committee and will be submitted to the board of directors for action in the near future.

The proposal provides representation for the state's three major farm organizations plus the six dairy breed associations. To assure geographical representation, the new members would be selected from each of the state's nine congressional districts.

This is how the plan would work, according to the executive committee's report:

The state directors of each of the following organizations would select a man in each Congressional District to serve as a member of a district committee: Minnesota State Grange, Minnesota Farmers Union, Minnesota Farm Bureau, Minnesota Guernsey Breeders Association, Minnesota Jersey Cattle Club, Minnesota Ayrshire Breeders Association, Minnesota Holstein-Fresian Association, Minnesota Brown Swiss Breeders Association and Minnesota Milking Shorthorn Breeders Association.

These nine district committees, consisting of nine members each, would meet in each district and elect one as director to represent the district on the board of directors of the Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee. Each Congressional District would have a representative on the Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee selected or elected by the nine men comprising the district committee.

All of these men both members of the district committees as well as their representatives on the Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee would be active milk producers with their principal income derived from their dairy herds.

State Auto Group Now Has Total of 100,000 Members

"Mr. 100,000" lives just off the main street of America.

The Minnesota State Automobile association (AAA) announced this week that the 100,000th member of AAA in Minnesota is Norbert Bentfield, a farmer of Rt. 1, Sauk Center.

The announcement was made by the statewide motoring organization as it marked the record high membership in its 48-year history.

AAA officials said Bentfield will receive a special chromium emblem for his car with a "Mr. 100,000" crowning the top of the emblem.

In addition, Bentfield and his wife will be guests of the AAA on an all-expenses-paid weekend in the Twin Cities. They will also be guests of honor at the State Automobile Associations' annual meeting in St. Paul on October 25th of this year.

Malting Barley Contest Slated Again This Year

Cash Awards of $3,600 Are Offered: County Agents Have Blanks

At a meeting held in the Twin Cities recently, the co-sponsors of the malting barley contest agreed to renew the contest this year. The number of counties was increased to 36 this year and the cash awards will be $3,600.

The $3,600 in cash awards will be given out to over 241 winners in 36 counties this year. The purpose of the contest is to improve quality and increase acreage of malting barley, which was Minnesota's fifth most important crop last year in dollars per acre value. The average price for No. 2 malting barley was 40c a bushel higher than the average for feed quality barley at Minneapolis for the 1943-1952 period.

The co-sponsors of this contest are the Minnesota Brewers Ass'n., University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture, the Minnesota Crop Improvement association, the Northwest Crop Improvement association, and the Minnesota department of agriculture, dairy and food.

Anyone wishing to enter the contest should see his county agent, who will supply him with entry blanks and explain the simple rules of the contest. County agents now have entry blanks on hand. Entries for this year's contest will close May 15th.

Shells and Souls

With encouragement from his parents and some fundamental scientific training this young man has learned a great deal about shells. He knows, for instance, that the ocean floor is covered with millions of living creatures which would be unable to survive without the protection of the shells in which they live.

With similar encouragement from his parents, and with some fundamental religious training, this young man will learn some far more useful truths about souls. He will learn, for instance, that God's highest creature—Man—lives in a moral environment just as hostile to his survival as that ocean floor, and that Man depends for his protection not on any outer armor, but on the inner being which God has taught him to call his soul.

And when our young man compares shells and souls he will discover that, just as God provides many of his lesser creatures with the means of building up and strengthening their shells, he provides Man with the Church, the Bible, and the Gift of Prayer to enable him to strengthen his soul.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Growing Malting Barley ...PAYS!

Minnesota Farmers Received $27,489,000 For Malting Barley in 1954

Here's what Alfred E. Malmberg, Crookston, Minnesota, Grand Champion in 1951 and 1954 says: "On one field of 20 acres I got a yield of 63 bushels of premium malting barley per acre. I attribute my success to recommended crop production practices—such as the use of 70 pounds of fertilizer per acre—selection of approved varieties—and careful combining."

Last year Minnesota grown malting barley was sold at the Minneapolis Terminal for about $27,489,000. The average price for No. 2 malting barley was 40 cents a bushel higher than the average for feed quality barley at Minneapolis for the 1943-1952 period.

Premium prices paid for malting barley puts millions of extra dollars in the pockets of Minnesota farmers.

More than new

Ford's 162-h.p. Y-block V-8 and 182-h.p. Y-block Special V-8 now offer new Trigger-Torque power!

The Go-power these great engines deliver can come only from engines which are more than merely new—more than ordinary V-8 engines. And that's exactly what these Ford engines are. They are the result of the most advanced V-8 engineering—a result of Ford's experience in building more V-8's than all other makers combined.

Tried and true

Ford's 1955 engine news resulted from 23 years' experience building over 14,000,000 V-8 engines

In 1932 Ford introduced the V-8 engine to the low-price field. And it was only just recently that other makers in Ford's field adopted this kind of engine—23 years later. Yet it is interesting to note that the majority of costlier cars had joined Ford in offering V-8's some time ago. Ford's vast V-8 experience has never paid off better than this year . . . with two great Ford V-8's for '55.

Come in. Take your Test Drive today. Ford has much more to offer that's new. You'll find beautiful Thunderbird-inspired styling—comfortable new Angle-Poised Ride, to name a few.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Q—Previously VA had been deducting my GI insurance premium payments from my monthly disability compensation. My compensation has just been reduced to the point where it no longer is large enough to cover my premiums. What happens now?

A—Since your compensation payments no longer are large enough to cover your GI insurance premiums, the automatic deduction plan will stop. You will have to start paying premiums yourself.

Q—I am drawing a VA pension. My wife has just gone to work part-time to supplement our income. Am I supposed to count her salary in figuring whether my annual income falls below the legal "ceiling?"

A—No. In computing your annual income, you need not include the separate income of your wife.

Q—I applied for disability compensation at VA a year and a half ago, and was turned down. I had planned to appeal, but kept putting it off. Is it too late now?

A—Yes. Any decision of a VA rating board unappealed within one year is final. But you may submit a NEW claim for compensation and include any additional information that you might have.

Q—I am taking a trade school course under the Korean GI Bill. It will last for two years. I know that I get 30 days of authorized absences a year. If I'm not absent my first year, can I carry those 30 days over to the second year?

A—No. Carry-overs of unused absences from one year to the next are not allowed.

During the past week Bobby and Robert Davids and Vern Johnson motored over to So. Dakota where they picked up several head of cattle known as "Highland Scotties." This is a rather new strain of stock to many of us.

This particular strain of cattle are adapted to our cold climate, having come from the hill country of northern Scotland where the biting winter winds sweep down from the frigid north. They have a robe of long coarse hair over a fine, fur like undercoating. A long, steady rain hardly wet through to the skin, and they are so well insulated that the snow doesn't even melt when they lie down in it. They have very long horns and a very shaggy appearance. The Highlanders are any of five solid colors, as I understand, red, golden, black, silver or smoky. They carry their own shelter with them, having hair that reaches from 8 to 10 inches.

It has been said that when its way down there below zero a brisk 15 mile an hour wind will separate the Scotties and the other breeds better than any one can do with a horse. The latter will take for shelter and the "Scotties" will just remain to graze. The calves are so hardy, can easily be born in the snow storms and will get up promptly and nurse and frolic about in a blizzard.

There are several ranchers in other states who are raising these animals and crossing them with Herefords, the offsprings having white faces and some with Angus. They are supposed to be heavy milkers, good mothers, and not very susceptible to various other troubles. The cows are of a blocky type and supposed to be easy keepers. I haven't as yet seen these animals, but I surely think it would be interesting to have a look-see. Incidentally these Highlanders that these folks purchased came from the enormous ranch of an ex-governor of South Dakota.

CLONTARF'S FAME IS NOT BLARNEY

Clontarf is a village in north-central Swift county; there is also a Clontarf in Dublin, Ireland. The two got together recently, so to speak, in a newspaper exchange between the Irish Independent of Dublin and the Swift County Monitor of Benson. The ladies of St. Malachy's church, Swift county, issued a cook book titled "Recipe Round-up," a copy of which fell into the hands of a feature writer on the Dublin daily, who found many familiar names therein, and several family and school connections between the distant Clontarfs. The Monitor reprinted the column.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

Minnesota Historical Society

The first Bible to come to what is now Minnesota and to remain in the area was, it is believed, brought into the new frontier by Joseph Renville, one of the most interesting of Minnesota's earliest traders.

The Bible was printed in the French language and bought in France. It was beautifully printed and bound. The year that it came across the water is unknown but it arrived in the west, no doubt, before 1820.

A sad circumstance was that Renville could not read the Good Book. After it arrived at his trading post it became necessary for him to hire at least one clerk who could read the Bible to him.

Renville's home in the later years of his life was at Lac qui Parle. It was there that he helped to translate the Bible into the Dakotah language. He followed a devious, but effective, method. The Bible was read to him in English by a clerk. He then translated the oral English into French. He then took the French into the language of the Sioux. In many ways Renville was helpful to the frontier missions.

The end of the first Bible to Minnesota was tragic. After Renvilles' death the book was kept in the mission home at Lac qui Parle. The mission family wished some vegetables from the cellar. One of the young people was sent for them. The candle used to light the way in the dark cellar ignited some inflamable material. The house went up in smoke and flames and with it perished the Bible that its good owner could not read.

FROM FOREIGN LANDS

The first census of Minnesota was made in 1850. The number of people in the territory was 6077. The territory of Minnesota included much of that which is now North and South Dakota and a little of Nebraska.

This first census does not record the number of foreign born people in Minnesota. The number would be few for the total population was small. Very few of those counted were even born in the state and the population came, very largely, from other states with, of course, quite a substantial part from French speaking Canada.

By 1860 the number of foreign people in Minnesota had risen to nearly 50,000. In another ten years this number was 161,000. The high point in the number of foreign born was in 1910 when the census recorded 543,000. Then came a rapid decline. Immigration had been restricted. Older people died. In 1950 the number of foreign born white people in Minnesota was 210,000.

The trend in the proportion of foreign born to the total population has been just as interesting. In 1860 the proportion of foreign born was 35 per cent. In the three census periods which followed the proportion was almost the same. By 1900 it had declined to 28 per cent and all succeeding census figures show a substantial decline. By 1940 only ten per cent of the population of Minnesota had been born in foreign lands and by 1950 this proportion had declined to but seven per cent.

CASS EXPEDITION

Lewis Cass was a man who left his name on a large lake and a county of Minnesota.

General Cass was governor of Michigan for many years. As such he was governor of part of Minnesota. In 1818 the great area represented by the present state of Wisconsin and that part of Minnesota lying east of the Mississippi river became part of Michigan. That part of Minnesota which was under the government of Michigan was, by definition of the area, largely Northeastern Minnesota, bounded by the big river and extending westward a distance unknown.

Cass, a man famed by frontier skills, thought that he ought to visit his domain. In 1820 he made a notable expedition, leaving Detroit in the early summer, crossing the big lakes, working his way up the St. Louis river and thence to the Father of Waters. By slow marches and hard rowing the party ascended the Mississippi as far as a large lake, named in honor of the governor. This was then considered the source of Mississippi. As one of the great objectives of the expedition had been accomplished, so it was thought, and the summer season was drawing to an end, the men turned backward. They rowed, paddled and floated down the river where, at Fort Snelling, they consumed fresh vegetables out of the large garden at the fort.

The history of the Cass expedition was well written by a great historian, Henry R. Schoolcraft, who was the mineralogist on this early summer journey into the headwaters of the great river.

State People Get $32 Million Life Insurance in '54

Minnesota families received $32,625,000 during 1954 in death claim payments from their life insurance companies, the Institute of Life Insurance reports. These payments were made under 17,830 policies.

The 1954 death claims compare with $32,830,000 the year before, under 17,395 policies.

"The annual flow of death claim in this state has risen 68 per cent in the past decade," the Institute commented. "In 1944, they amounted to $19,452,000, under 13,486 policies. The increase has been primarily a reflection of the greater amount of life insurance owned and not a rise in death rates. Ownership of such protection in this state increased 112 per cent between the start of 1944 and 1954. There has been a large gain in the family security provided through this channel, with many more families provided with the means of holding together and at a higher standard of living than ever before."

Of the 1954 death claim payments in this state, $22,717,000 was under 8,486 ordinary life insurance policies; $8,244,000 was under 3,628 group life insurance certificates; and $1,674,000 was under 5,716 industrial life insurance policies.

For the nation as a whole, the 1954 aggregate of death claim payments was $2,072,206,000 under 1,578,100 policies, compared with $1,980,801,000 under 1,576,215 policies the year before and $1,204,718,000 under 1,267,030 policies in 1944.

Hospital Leaders Attend Institute at Minnesota 'U'

Albert V. White hall, executive director of the Washington Hospital service, Seattle, Wash., and Ann Friend, secretary of the council on administrative procedure, American Hospital association, Chicago, are guest speakers at the Minnesota Institute for Hospital Administrators Monday through Friday of this week, in the University of Minnesota's Center for Continuation Study.

A new feature of the University's annual institute will be a problem consultation clinic at which hospital administrators will have the opportunity to get their questions answered by four different faculty teams. Team members will be specialists on the following subjects: medical staff, medical records and professional departments; accounting, purchasing and admitting; nursing and service departments.

Cooperating with the University to present the course are the Minnesota Hospital association and the American College of Hospital Administrators.

Among hospital administrators from outside the Twin Cities listed on the faculty for the week's institute is Harold W. Peterson of Northwestern Hospital in this city.

Dairy Industry Pays Back $20,000 Loan from State

The dairy industry of Minnesota repaid a $20,000 "debt of honor" to the state Wednesday at a joint session of the legislature.

Gov. Freeman, flanked by three of the seven authors who 18 years ago sponsored the bill appropriating the $20,000 to dairy farmers, accepted the check from W. S. Moscrip, Lake Elmo, president of Minnesota Dairy Industry committee.

Present for the ceremonies were Ancher Nelson, former lieutenant governor and now administrator of the rural electrification administration; former house speaker Lawrence H. Hall, St. Cloud, and Herman Dammann, Glencoe, one-time chairman of the house dairy products and livestock committee.

Moscrip related how the money, appropriated by the 1937 legislature, was used to spark a program of advertising dairy products.

Northern States Pays County Tax

Taxes are by far the largest item in Northern States Power Company's operating costs and account for one-fourth of the cost of the utility services provided, company officials report.

NSP's 1954 tax bill of $28,600,000 is greater than the combined total of fuel costs and dividend payments and $5,000,000 more than NSP's total operating payroll.

NSP paid Pennington county a total of $867 in taxes this week. This was in payment of personal property and transmission line taxes.

EGF Attorney Complains His Tax Is Too Low

Edgar Massee, East Grand Forks attorney, didn't like the $13.06 tax statement he got from the county treasurer.

So he wrote the Polk county office in Crookston, pointing out his bill evidently was too low. Right, said the treasurer, who mailed Massee a corrected tax statement of $55.88.

Massee says he feels like a full citizen again. Several years ago Massee's name was omitted entirely and he had to request a tax bill.

Curtiss T. Olson Deputy Registrar at Detroit Lakes

Curtiss T. Olson, general agent for the American Christian Life Insurance company at Detroit Lakes, has been appointed deputy auto registrar for Detroit Lakes, according to an announcement made last week by Secretary of State Joseph Donovan.

A former Roseau farm operator, Olson was a member of the Minnesota house of representatives from 1940 through 1950. He was a candidate for Congress in 1952 and 1954.

50 Share Monday in Discussion of City's Power Supply Status

Majority of Speakers Indicate Support for Buying New Diesel Unit

Nearly 50 local citizens accepted the invitation of the city council to share Monday evening in a discussion of means of solving a looming shortage of electric power in Thief River Falls.

The group heard reports by Morris Owen, chief engineer at the municipal plant; Douglas Stewart and C. J. Hastad of Halstad, engineers who recently made a survey of the local power situation; and W. E. Dahlquist, secretary of a citizens committee recently appointed by the council to make a study of the problem.

Following the discussion, Carl E. Gjernes, council president, called for an expression of opinion by members of the audience. Of those responding, a majority appeared to favor adding to the equipment of the local plant to meet present needs. Included were James Parkins, Elmer Benson, Hilmer Lunke, Jack Forkenbrock, Lawrence Bjorkman, Kenneth Wendel and Art Christianson.

Dahlquist urged that before the council proceeds with the purchase of a new engine, it should first confer with A. L. Freeman, manager of the Minnkota Power Co-op at Grand Forks, to clear up apparent misunderstandings relative to the terms on which the co-op would be able to supply standby power to Thief River Falls.

Following the discussion, the council laid the matter over for further study.

Morris Owen supplied figures showing that the output of the local plant rose from 5,077,000 kilowatts in 1944 to 9,190,000 in 1949 and 13,881,000 in 1954. He said a peak load of 3,000 KW was hit in December, and pointed out that if the largest engine should go out of commission, and with no water available for the two turbines, the capacity of the plant would be reduced to 2,536 KW, which is insufficient to handle the peak load.

Attention also was called to the net earnings of the plant, which during the past ten years have fallen below the $100,000 mark only once, and which totaled $168,996 in 1953 and an estimated $175,000 in 1954.

The report prepared by C. J. Hastad recommended that additional generating equipment be purchased for the municipal plant, and proposed that a unit of about 1,500 KW capacity be installed now. Morris Owen stated that the new unit would not necessitate enlarging the power plant building, since it would replace a 400 KW unit installed in 1929. Hastad estimated that the cost of the new unit might run in the neighborhood of $200,000 installed.

Immunization Is Planned for Pupils in Local Schools

Cooperation of Parents in Plan Is Requested by Local School Nurse

There has been considerable interest locally in an immunization program since the publicity in the Bemidji area of a couple cases of diphtheria. For this reason, the schools are arranging for protection to be given a little earlier than usual, said Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse.

Permit slips have been given to all schools, with particular emphasis on 3rd, 6th, 9th, and 12th, and all students in 1st grade who did not attend kindergarten.

Any person who receives an inoculation for diphtheria is protected for 3 to 5 years while a vaccination for small pox protects for 5 to 6 years. Therefore, said Mrs. Race, parents are urged to have their children inoculated for diphtheria tetanus-whooping cough on entrance to school. Thereafter they should have booster shots of these 3 (or of just diphtheria-tetanus) in 3rd, 6th, 9th, and 12th grades. Re-vaccination for smallpox is suggested on entrance to school, and in 6th and 12th grades.

Any child in any school or grade who needs immunization may have them during the school program by asking their teacher or the school nurse for a permit slip. The charge is 50c for each, and the work will be done by the local doctors with each clinic taking a school.

'55 Red Cross Campaign Now Is in Progress

Large Group of Women Solicitors Start Their Rounds in City Tuesday

A large group of solicitors Tuesday started making their rounds in quest of funds for the support of the American Red Cross, and Mrs. Edward L. Gilbert, campaign chairman, asked local citizens to cooperate in supporting this worthwhile organization.

She added that $125 in advance gifts already has been received. The quota for Pennington county has been fixed at $3,150, of which $1,000 will remain in the local chapter treasury.

It also was announced that a program explaining the work of the Red Cross will be broadcast over Radio Station KTRF each Tuesday evening during March at 9 o'clock.

Commenting on the activities of the national Red Cross, Herman A. Kjos, chairman of the Pennington county chapter, said:

"In addition to its vast health and safety education programs, and its nationwide network of daily emergency services, the Red Cross always must keep itself in readiness to meet great national emergencies such as might result from enemy attack.

"This preparedness for what may come—particularly in our disaster, blood, first aid and nursing services and in our services to the armed forces—requires continual strengthening of our programs.

"They cannot be put in moth balls to be pulled out in case of a national emergency," he said.

The largest single item in the Red Cross budget for next year is $36,640,000 for services to members of the armed forces.

First aid training was given to 15,158 Minnesotans last year by instructors trained and authorized by the Red Cross.

The picture was taken Sunday at the Auditorium, where the team was greeted by nearly 1,000 supporters on its return to this city.

Nearly 1,000 persons assembled in the municipal Auditorium late Sunday afternoon to give a heart-warming welcome to members of the Lincoln high school Prowler hockey team, who had just returned from the state tournament in St. Paul with the consolation championship. Several of the players had been members of the 1953-54 team that won the state title.

Nor. Chevrolet Co. Prize Contest is Now in Progress

You or a member of your family can win a 1955 Chevrolet and a $1,000 U. S. Savings Bond to boot in a contest now in progress under the sponsorship of the Chevrolet Motor Division and the Northern Chevrolet Co.

To enter the Chevrolet "Miracle Mile" contest, a person need merely fill out an entry form, write in 25 words or less why you would like to own a 1955 Chevrolet and deposit the entry in the mailbox provided by the local dealer. Others of driving age in the family may also enter by preparing the material on plain paper and attaching them to the official form, Alvin Holznecht, manager, said.

Entry forms may be obtained at the dealership, he said.

There's a bonus of a $1,000 bond in it for every winner who takes a demonstration ride in a new Chevrolet at the time he turns in the entry form. Besides writing frankly why he would like to own a new Chevrolet, each contestant must answer four elementary questions about the car's mechanical features, answers for which may be found in the contest booklet, Holznecht said. Entries are being judged nationally on the basis of sincerity and originality rather than writing excellence, grammar and vocabulary.

The contest ends May 9 and is divided into six contest periods.

Engineers Advise Purchase by City of Added Diesel Units

Engineers C. J. Hastad of Hastad and Douglas Stewart of Thief River Falls submitted a summary and recommendations at a hearing conducted by the city council Monday evening on the question of securing additional electrical power for this city. Their statement, which follows, is based on an extensive study of the local situation made last year by Hastad and Stewart.

An analysis of the possible sources of power for the city of Thief River Falls has been made and submitted to the citizen's advisory committee. This analysis has been reviewed and discussed and the engineers preparing the report have been requested to submit recommendations based on such discussions and analysis.

The costs of electrical energy which would be produced by the municipally owned generating plant using natural gas as fuel as compared to the overall cost of energy as purchased from the Bureau of Reclamation is very nearly the same.

Bureau of Reclamation power will very likely not be available until 1957 and probably not until 1958 depending on various factors over which there is no human control.

Only a specified block of Bureau power will be available in accordance with the proposed contract, so that a period of a few years after entering into arrangements with the Bureau the City will be required to obtain its additional requirements from some source other than the Bureau of Reclamation.

Firm power will be sold by the Bureau, but dependability is not assured to be 100%. Severe storms and other acts of God could interrupt the delivery of energy to the City of Thief River Falls.

It is evident that natural gas will be available within the next two or three years. At the present time a definite source of such gas cannot be determined, but negotiations are in progress which indicate that it will certainly be available.

Minn-Kota Power Cooperative of Grand Forks, No. Dakota has offered to contract for the sale of energy on a interruptable basis which can be converted into a "stand-by" contract by exercising the rights contained in particular paragraphs in that contract together with a verbal agreement of the manager of Minn-Kota which states that it would be agreeable to his corporation to do so.

To provide the most satisfactory electrical service to the consumers it is recommended that additional generating equipment be installed by the City of Thief River Falls as outlined in alternates No. 3 and No. 4 in the analysis report. It is recommended that one generating unit of approximately 1500 KW capacity be installed in the near future and another unit of the same capacity be installed in the future when the maximum demand on the system will exceed the firm generating capacity.

Submitted by D. H. Stewart and prepared by C. J. Hastad, electrical consultant.

TRF Prowlers Win Consolation Title in State Hockey Tourney

The defending state champion Prowlers made a valiant bid to retain their title but, after a record-shattering eleven overtime period first round game against Minneapolis South, the locals, on a slap shot by Jim Westby after 51:50 of overtime play, were eliminated, losing to South, 3 to 2.

Following their loss in the first round, coach Dennis Rolle's squad entered the consolation bracket, defeating the Roseau Rams in a first round game, and then winning the consolation title by defeating the Eveleth Golden Bears, 3 to 1.

In their grueling overtime tilt against Minneapolis South on Thursday night in the St. Paul Auditorium, the Prowlers, after giving up a 1 to 0 lead to South in the first period when Dale Rasmussen banged in a rebound at 6:37, came back with a pair of goals, by Sid Vraa and Glen Carlson, to move into a 2 to 1 lead. And the Prowlers held that one goal lead until the 6:03 mark of the third period when Gerry Westby, in attempting to center-out a pass from behind the Prowler net, was credited with a goal when goalie Rod Collins deflected the disc into the net with his skate.

As the five-minute overtime periods continued to come and go, the Prowlers had several opportunities to drive the game winning marker into the net, but poor marksmanship proved costly.

The game, which faced-off at 7:00 p. m. was not completed until 12:24 a. m. the following morning, when Jim Westby, following a face-off in the Prowler zone, drove a hard shot at the Prowler net, and the drive was deflected by a Prowler defenseman, and Collins, didn't have a chance to make the save.

The final two periods of overtime, the 10th and 11th, were sandwiched in between the periods of the St. Paul Johnson and the Roseau Rams game.

In the consolation first round game against Roseau on Friday afternoon the Prowlers, with Joey Poole scoring a pair of goals and with Jack Poole and Glen Carlson adding single tallies, defeated the Rams, 4 to 3. The Prowlers held a 4 to 1 lead over Roseau midway into the third period when goals by John Larson and Dick Johnson pared the Prowler lead to 4 to 3.

The Prowlers "nailed" down the consolation honors by defeating Cliff Thompson's Eveleth Golden Bears, 3 to 1, in the consolation finals on Saturday afternoon. Joey Poole scored a pair of goals to give the Prowlers a 2 to 1 first period lead; and Jim Hall, on an assist by Duane Glass, added an "insurance" goal in the second period.

1st Round Playoff in Hockey League Finished Friday

The Northwest Hockey league will complete its first round playoffs this week, with the Crookston Pirates playing the Roseau Cloverleafs at Roseau on Thursday night, and the Thief River Falls Thieves meeting the Warroad Lakers at Warroad on Friday night.

The Pirates vs. Leafs and the Thieves vs. Lakers best-of-three series are deadlocked at one game each, and the winners of the Thursday and Friday night's tilts will gain a berth in the league finals playoffs.

The local management 's hoping that a large contingent of fans will make the trek to Warroad on Friday for the third game of the Thieves' series with the Lakers. The Thieves will share in the net proceeds of the game, and the local club's treasury surely would benefit by a large crowd at Friday's contest.

Jarle Leirfallom, St. Paul, former Minnesota commissioner of public welfare, Tuesday was named executive secretary of the state Republican party.

North Central Nets Small Profit During January

North Central Airlines continued to operate at a profitable level in January, H. N. Carr, president, disclosed today in Minneapolis.

Operating profit was $10,206 and net profit was $3,743. This not only marks the first January profit in the company's history but also extends the string of profits to nine consecutive months.

Historically, airline passenger revenue drops sharply in the winter and the industry generally operates at a loss in the first quarter of every year, Carr says. Business the rest of the year, however, offsets the early losses and goes on to bring substantial profits.

Weed Control Booklet

It may be a little early, with snowdrifts on the fields to think about weed control, but you might like to know that a new weed control help developed by the University of Minnesota is available free at the Extension Office.

It's Folder 191, "Cultural and Chemical Weed Control in Minnesota," written by four University weed control specialists.

This booklet gives tips on control of over a dozen weeds. Canada Thistle and Sow Thistle control recommendations are to use either 2,4-D or cultural means—practices of plowing or cultivating every three or four weeks until freeze-up.

Cheapest control of quack grass is cultivation—if done at the right time and with the right kind of cultivator, according to the booklet. It recommends shearing off the roots in the spring when the weeds are two or three inches long. In summer, pull roots out with a spring tooth cultivator and let them dry in the sun.

Folder 191 gives recommendations on using TCA, Dalapon, sodium chlorate and CMU effectively on quack grass, too.

Another section gives practices used on different crops. Corn, small grains, soy beans and alfalfa and clover forages are just a few included, with weed control practices listed for each.

Weeds on roadsides can be controlled with 2,4-D, 2,4,5-T or ammonium sulfamate. The booklet has recommendations for foliage sprays, stump treatment sprays, or sprays for use during the growing period of the woody plants.

Other useful information in folder 191, is a description of the herbicides and chemical sprays and the calibration and adjustment of a farm sprayer. Folder 191 is free at the county agent's office or from the Bulletin Service, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St Paul 1.

Farm Shop Safety

Many think the real toll of farm deaths happens at harvest and in the summer. But some tragic accidents happen right around home this time of the year, according to Glenn Prickett, Extension farm safety specialist at the University of Minnesota. The farm shop is one dangerous place, says he. Make sure carbon monoxide from running motors is safely channeled out into the open air. Garages do this safely with metal hoses that attach to the exhaust. Also you can buy a non-flammable solvent for cutting grease off disassembled parts — and that's far, far safer than gasoline or tractor fuel.

Output Increases

Today's farmers are producing 38 per cent more products on about the same amount of land they farmed just 15 years ago. And this increase has been with an ever-lowering population of farm workers. In 1940, one farm worker could produce enough food for 11 people. Now, working shorter hours, he grows food for 18—a gain of 63 per cent in efficiency. We still have a long way to go in another field, however. That's the area of best possible soil use and efficient fertilizing. For more information in this field attend the annual meeting of the Pennington County Soil Conservation District, March 4 at 1:30 p. m. in the City Auditorium. See you there.

CHATTING with your HOME AGENT

Marge Olson

Last week, I gave you Mrs. Otto Dale's suggestion for improving your ironing board. This week, thinking again about ironing, here is information on a time-saving way of ironing a man's shirt. By following this method, you can cut shirt ironing time from 15 minutes to 7 and even to 4½ minutes per shirt.

First sprinkling the shirt.

1. Shake, then spread the shirt flat on a work surface; smooth out as many wrinkles as possible. Sprinkle the front and the sleeves.
2. Turn the collar and yoke down over the front about one-third the length of the shirt. Sprinkle the collar. Little moisture is needed on the yoke as it absorbs moisture from the collar.
3. Fold the shirt so that the tail is on the underside. Roll lightly. (Tight rolling tends to deepen the wrinkles.)

Now the ironing:

1. Place the rolled, dampened shirt at the left end of the board. As it is unrolled the tail will fall over rear side of the board and the yoke will be toward you.
2. Pick up the right sleeve by the cuff and shoulder, and turn it placket side up. Smooth the wrinkles toward the shoulder and the cuff. Start ironing in the center of the sleeve toward the shoulder. Shift the iron to the left hand when ironing into the cuff. Shift the iron back to the right hand, and iron the inside of the cuff. Stretch and dry the seams well. Turn the sleeve over and repeat the process.
3. Iron the top of the collar and the band while the shirt is in this position.
4. Make a "Z" turn by crossing the arms and place the shirt into position for ironing the left sleeve. The right sleeve is now hanging free over the end of the board away from the rest of the dampened shirt. Iron the left sleeve and the under side of the collar and the band.
5. Using another "Z" turn, place the shirt in position to iron the yoke. Fold the yoke across the back and iron.
6. Give the shirt a one fourth turn, which places it lengthwise of the board. Iron the inside of the left of the back and yoke. Stretch and press dry the underseams of the sides to prevent puckering.
7. Fold the unironed left front over the ironed back, smooth and iron it. Press the buttonhole band, turn it back and press it on the wrong side. Retouch the front if necessary.
8. Shift the shirt slightly toward the back of the board. Iron the inside of the back. Iron the right front over the ironed back. Turn the button band over and press it on the wrong side. Touch up the side front if necessary. Turn the collar into position by folding; ironing it on to position is not necessary. Fold the shirt or hang on a hanger.

SHETLER'S 1955 CHICK PRICES

Dear Chick Customer:

Baby chick season is here again at Shetler's Hatchery.

Our first hatch comes off March 3rd, that's two weeks later than last year but hatcheries are off to a slow start all over the country.

Government reports show early chick hatches and settings for egg producing stock are down 25 to 50% from last year over the U.S.A. Layers on farms are now at the same level as for 1953.

HERE'S MORE GOOD NEWS

Last year we tried out both a new crossbred or (out cross) mating and a new strain crossed mating. The growers who tried them reported such wonderful livability and egg production that we have added another new crossbred to our matings this year. We have named this new crossbred the Northern White. This bird has caused such a sensation in the heavy egg producing areas farther south that we have included it in our matings for 1955.

Production of our Northern White, New Hampshire, and Hamp White will be somewhat limited so it would be well to place your orders for them as early as possible. Hatchings of our big Ghostley Leghorn will also be reduced considerably to make room for the new crosses and strain crosses. If you are one of our Leghorn fans, please don't wait too long before ordering them this year.

Sincerely,
ROY SHETLER

Joey Poole Again Named to All-state H. S. Hockey Team

John Delmore of Roseau Only Other 8th Region Player to Be Selected

The Prowlers' Joey Poole and St. Paul Johnson's Stu Anderson were the only two "repeaters" to be named to the all-state high school hockey squad selected by a committee that witnessed the play of teams that participated in the state tournament in St. Paul on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Poole and Anderson were all-state selections last year.

In addition to Joe Poole of the Powlers, the eighth region was given recognition when Roseau's John Delmore was also named to the 1955 all-state squad.

St. Paul Johnson, the 1955 state champions succeeding the 1954 Prowlers, gained by far the greatest honor in the all-state selections, with four Johnson players being chosen.

The 1955 all-state high school hockey squad:

Tom Wahman, St. Paul Johnson, goal.

Henry Metcalfe, South St. Paul, goal.

Larry Alm, Minneapolis South, defense.

Jack Holstrom, St. Paul Johnson, defense.

Joe Poole, Thief River Falls, forward.

John Delmore, Roseau, forward.

Bob Begen, Eveleth, forward.

Stu Anderson, St. Paul Johnson, forward.

Roger Rovick, Minneapolis Southwest, forward.

Rodney Anderson, St. Paul Johnson, forward.

Thieves Even Score in Loop Semi-finals

Defeat Warroad 8 to 1; Deciding Game of Series Set for Warroad Friday

The senior hockey Thieves evened their best-of-three semi-finals Northwest Hockey league playoffs with the Warroad Lakers by trouncing the Lakers, 8 to 1, in a game played at the Arena on Sunday afternoon. The third and deciding game of the series will be played at the Warroad Memorial rink on Friday night, and the winner of this game will move into the playoff finals against the winner of the Crookston vs. Roseau series.

Although playing without the services of local center Bud Brossoit, who was side-lined because of an injury, and defenseman Bill Juzda, who was ailing, the Thieves turned in a sharp performance in defeating the Lakers on Sunday. Jack McGill was superb in the nets for the Thieves, outguessing the Laker forwards who, on several occasions, were able to break through the defense for point-blank shots at the cage.

Larry Winder, who turned in his finest performance of the year for the Thieves racked up the game's first tally when, on a centering-out pass from Church Russell, he banged a goal into the north goal at 12:54. Swede Lund, who scored a pair of goals during the game, took a pass from Paul Bedard to beat goalie Don Gross at 17:56, giving the locals a 2 to 0 first period lead.

Goals by Lund, Chuck Lumsden, Winder, and Sheldon Bloomer in the second period boosted the Thieves margin to 6 to 0; and when Bedard hit the net at the 5:26 mark of the third period, the locals held a 7 to 0 lead. McGill's shutout hopes were shattered at the 7:50 mark when George Guilbault, with Len Webster on the assist, shoved a goal past McGill. Lumsden closed out the game's scoring with a marker at 11:04, with Rob Amundson, playing at right-wing for the Thieves, setting up the play.

The summary:

Thief River Falls (8)

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Hockey Immortality

We'll wager that the Prowler and the Minneapolis South hockey squads skated into state tournament hockey immortality when they played their record-shattering eleven-overtime period game at St. Paul on Thursday night. It was somewhat of an anti-climax to have South win the game, 3 to 2, after 51:30 of overtime play.

So long as high school hockey continues to be state tournament sport in Minnesota, so long will that Thursday night's "marathon" be remembered and recalled. That game, which was a tournament first-round affair faced-off at 7:30 p. m. on Thursday night, and it was not until 12:21 a. m. on Friday that a result was posted on the score-board. That's a hockey "believe-it-or-not" if there ever was one!

It's our belief that the 1954-55 Prowler hockey squad, coming back to defeat Roseau and Eveleth after losing that overtime heart-breaker to South, turned in a greater accomplishment in winning the consolation title than last year's powerhouse did in winning the 1954 state championship.

Coach Dennis Rolle is entitled to much praise for the development of this season's young team; and the players, too, are to be complimented for responding to the coaching. When you realize that the Prowlers lost eight varsity players — Marv Jorde, Mike McMahon, Jack Hoppe, Bob Helgoland, Jim Zavoral, Lyle Guttu, Darryl Durgin, and Les Sabo—from last year's championship squad, it's remarkable that the Prowlers this season were able to reach the state tournament and then win the consolation honors.

After taking an informal poll of the local "experts" who were in attendance at the state hockey tournament, and who have had time to digest the results of the championship round games, it appears to be the consensus that the Roseau Rams were the best team in the tourney. This opinion is made even though the Rams lost to the St. Paul Johnson and the Prowler teams. In their first-round game against Johnson, Roseau held a marked advantage in the play, and it was only through some spectacular goal-tending by Tummy Wahman that the Rams were held scoreless.

Given a win over St. Paul Johnson in their first game, there isn't a hockey fan who would argue that the Rams would not have gone on to win the state title. It's probable that the Roseau Rams, who had pointed for the state tourney all year, were too title conscious when they played their first round game.

East Side vs. Prowlers.

That is surely an awkward situation for the 31st district basketball tournament to have the defending champion Prowlers meet the East Grand Forks team in a first round game on Monday evening at 7:30 p. m. That's right, the two teams who are rated among the district's top three, with East Grand number one and the Prowlers number three, will meet in the first round.

Here's the way that came about: In a meeting of the district's cage coaches, held the other week, it was agreed that East Grand Forks was entitled to be ranked number one, and that the Crookston Pirates should be ranked as number two. These two teams should be "seeded" into the district tourney. The remaining teams had their names drawn by lot, and the district pairings made accordingly. That's the method by which the Prowlers find themselves up against coach Snooks Sullivan's East Siders on Monday night.

The Prowlers will be the definite short-enders in their game against East Side on Monday night, but coach Al Adams, after a squad shake-up caused by disciplinary action against a player, is back on even keel. They have everything to win and nothing to lose, so it's probable that the East Siders will know that they are in a ball game.

Grade School Hockey Classic

The annual grade school hockey tournament, with four teams—Northrop, Knox, Washington, and St. Bernard's—competing, will be played at the Arena on Thursday night, March 3rd.

The teams will be in competition for the Bjorkman trophy, emblematic of the city championship, and to the boys participating, that trophy has as much value as the Stanley Cup has to the hockey "pro's."

It will be worth the while for the hockey fans to stop in at the Arena on Thursday night and watch those games. There's where the future Prowler state tournament players are being made.

Miscellany

There were a couple of pretty fair ball players in town last week. We're referring to Wes and Lyle Westrum who stopped over for a visit of a couple of hours with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robinson, as they were enroute to Oslo where they visited with their grandparents. Wes and Lyle are well acquainted around here, and Wes, in his early days as a ball player, was a member of the Plummer Red Sox. Wes left on Sunday for the Giants spring training camp; and Lyle returned to Fergus Falls, where he has an insurance agency and is, in addition, the manager of the city ball team.—Isn't it strange that Bemidji, whose city officials take much pride in having their city labelled as the "ice box" of the nation; and who boast that their community is used as a winter testing grounds for arctic survival equipment, doesn't have a high school hockey team? We'll answer that question ourselves by explaining that knowing Red Wilson as we do, it's not strange that Bemidji high school doesn't have hockey. Says Red: "Your Prowlers can take care of regional hockey program, we'll take care of the football and basketball."—Since 1950, coach Dennis Rolle has brought four Prowler hockey teams to the state tournament, and these teams have compiled a record of nine wins and three losses in winning one state championship, two consolation title, and one third place victory.

Prowler Quint Ends Schedule with 2 Losses

Grand Forks Defeats Locals Friday 66-53; Grafton Wins 62 to 57

Coach Al Adams basketball Prowlers closed out their 1954-55 schedule this past week, losing a pair of games to the Grand Forks Redskins and the Grafton Spoilers. On Monday night, March 7th, at 7:30 p. m. the Prowlers will open the defense of their 31st district title when they meet the East Grand Forks Green Wave in a district tournament first round game in the fieldhouse on the University of North Dakota campus at Grand Forks.

Playing at Grand Forks on Friday night, the Prowlers, after trailing by a 16 to 12 score at the end of the first period, moved into a 31 to 25 advantage at the intermission. Guard Louis Wedul, with three field goals and a pair of free throws, sparked the Prowlers in their second period rally.

Holding the Prowlers to but four points in the third period—a field goal by Bill Frahm and a pair of free throws by Chuck Brandvold — while the Redskins were marking 21 points, coach Fritz Engel's squad gained a 46 to 35 lead; and, outpointing the Prowlers 20 to 18 in the final stanza, Grand Forks held that advantage to win by a 66 to 53 score.

In the preliminary game, the Grand Forks 'B' team defeated the Prowler 'B' team 58 to 35.

In the season's finale on Saturday night, the Grafton Spoilers, rushing off to 20 to 9 lead in the first period, were hard-pressed to defeat the Prowlers, 62 to 57 in a game played on the local court.

The Prowlers offensive punch was weakened considerably by the fact that Bill Frahm scored but one field goal during the game. Frahm picked up four personal fouls in the opening period of play and was withdrawn from the game. He returned to the game in the second half, scoring a field goal, but, on committing his fifth personal, he was forced from the game.

With Frahm being side-lined for most of the game, the Prowler scoring leaders were Chuck Brandvold and George Gifford, with 17 and 15 points, respectively. Eddie Fillatrault also was in double-figures for the Prowlers, having 11 points.

Grafton's bespectacled Dean Schumacher, a rangy forward with a "soft" hook shot, was the game's high-point player with 27 points, having nine field goals and nine free throws.

In the preliminary game, coach Joe Mrkonich's Prowler 'B' team, after building up a fifteen-point lead, were pressed to win a 58 to 53 decision over the Grafton 'B' team.

Orthopedic Clinic to Be Conducted in City on Saturday, May 14

Emphasis on the whole child—his personality problems as well as his physical disabilities—is the aim of the orthopedic field clinics now being set up in 12 Minnesota communities, to help boys and girls who have or may be developing crippling handicaps.

Schedule and counties to be served by the clinics for which no appointment is necessary include Thief River Falls, May 14, Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, and Roseau counties.

Field clinics are held each spring and fall for children up to age 21, by the crippled children services of the Minnesota department of public welfare. Crippling handicaps resulting from diseases of muscles, bones or joints—present at birth or caused by accidents—are some reasons why parents seek special help for their children at clinics throughout the state.

The family doctor refers patients to the clinic for examination by a pediatrician and an orthopedic surgeon. If necessary, arrangements are made for special medical treatment or hospitalization. Often, a physical therapist will instruct parents in home care which may strengthen weak muscles or help correct a crippling condition.

The 14-21 age group also may talk with a vocational counsellor about job education and job training for persons with physical handicaps.

Agencies cooperating in the clinics include: Gillette hospital, state division for vocational rehabilitation, state Christmas Seal organization, Minnesota-Dakota Orthopedic society, Northwestern Pediatric society, Minnesota State Medical association and local medical societies.

State TB Group Honors PTA Units for Health Work

Pennington Co. Units Given Recognition for Summer Health Roundup

Children of 71 Minnesota counties entered school last fall with a head-start on health. This information comes from the Minnesota TB and Health association which is now awarding merit certificates to school PTA's for their participation in the 1954 Summer Round-up of pre-school children.

In Pennington county, three Thief River Falls schools have earned recognition. Northrop and Washington have earned white certificates for outstanding achievement and have also reported 100% of their school beginners Mantoux tested for tuberculosis. Knox and Goodridge schools received commendable activity rating.

Over 36,000 Minnesota children were examined by doctors and dentists before school opened last fall, according to reports received by the state PTA's Summer Round-up committee from communities throughout the state. The 1954 figure is almost 13,000 above the '53 total.

Of the 513 local Parent Teacher organizations reporting, 53 have earned blue certificates for superior achievement, indicating that from 95 to 100 percent of the school beginners had examinations and any necessary medical or dental care.

White certificates for 75 to 95 percent response, go to 79 schools, and 205 get commendable rating. Certificates for participation go to 128 school PTA's.

Farmers Advised of Social Security Law

Almost everyone who gets his mail on a rural or star route should have received, during February, a small booklet on social security for farm families, the Internal Revenue Service and the Social Security Administration announced today.

A representative of the Grand Forks Social Security Office will be at the city Auditorium in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, Mar. 8 at 10.00 a. m. Individuals having any questions regarding the Social Security Act are urged to call on him at that time.

A special feature of the booklet is an application form which employers of farm workers may send to District Directors of Internal Revenue in order to obtain further instructions, the tax return forms, and an employer's identification number.

The booklet points out that, if a farm operater has a worker to whom he expects to pay at least $100 in cash wages during 1955, he needs to keep a record of the name, social security account number, and the amount of wages paid to the worker. The employer should deduct two percent social security tax from all cash wages paid to each such employee. As the employer, he must put in an equal amount, report the wages, and pay the total social security tax of four percent to the District Director of Internal Revenue.

Those farmers who do not receive a copy of this booklet through this mailing may obtain one from the District Director of Internal Revenue or the nearest social security district office.

HATS OFF

A round of cheers to the hockey Prowlers who came through so gloriously in state competition. They didn't win a championship but they did earn the respect and esteem of thousands of hockey fans, and they added to the good reputation of our community.

There was little left of last year's magnificent team at the start of this season but the few carry-overs carried over with them a lot of spirit as well as ability. The remarkable thing about this year's squad has been the progress of the youngsters who stepped into the many vacancies. They have developed fast from the rookie stage. In state competition they looked good among the best. That is a credit to their own determination, the leadership of the old-timers, and good coaching.

Hats off to a great team.

TWO VICTORIES

News from the international front has been pleasant reading during the past week. It has been pleasant for us at least as it must have been unpleasant for those who read it on the other side of the Iron Curtain.

In West Germany Chancellor Konrad Adenauer won his fight for rearmament. His Saar agreement with the French was also ratified. The European defense pact is greatly strengthened.

The French National Assembly has brought a 19-day government crisis to an end by the election of a new premier. This election came by a vote that, in France, must be considered one-sided. The new government favors ratification of the Paris Treaties to rearm West Germany as quickly as possible.

These are encouraging developments and especially so against the background of increased blustering in Red Russia. It is a most effective way of telling the Reds we are united and are not afraid of their bulling and pulling. This independent action of these nations should have a sobering influence on those who are directing Red policies.

THAT TWO-YEAR CYCLE

Last year was a great year for hens and housewives, observes the Wall Street Journal, but a poor one for poultry farmers. By last July production was so far ahead of demand that prices began their sharpest slide in 35 years, down to the lowest price since 1941.

It is estimated that the average producer received 26% to 28% less income from eggs last year despite the fact that he had many more eggs to sell. His income would have been much greater if fewer of these eggs had gone to market. Egg producers would have been better off if they had done as the fruit growers do, destroyed that portion of the crop for which there was not a fair market. They did not do it of course because they are not organized as are the fruit growers.

But the prospect is brighter. More than the usual number of hens have gone into the stew pot and production is on the way down again. It is pointed out that since 1949 we have had a regular two-year cycle of peaks and depressions in the poultry market. Fair prices have brought on over-production the next year. Traders figure this cycle will continue through this year.

MONKEY BUSINESS

House Democrats have had a lot of fun this past week with their amendment to an administration tax bill which would extend a tax on corporations that otherwise would expire. They are not opposing the extension of the corporation tax of course. Their amendment provides a $20 per person income tax cut which would more than offset the added revenue the corporations would pay. They justify this by contending the corporations were favored last year when a reduction was allowed in the excess profits tax.

But while the House Democrats put the administration in the hole it appears that the Senate Democrats will help get them out of the hole, and that should be fair enough.

It probably would be proper to observe that if the House Democrats had really been concerned about that excess profits tax bill that was passed last year they could have repealed that action now that they are in power. The fact is however that the Democrats themselves favored that action at the time. Their present maneuvering is just a little monkey business for campaign purposes.

THOSE PARK CAR STICKERS

Commenting on the $1-car-sticker-parks-admission plan adopted two years ago, the St. Paul Pioneer Press suggests that the temporary measure be extended when the present obligations are met. Under the provisions of the 1953 act a loan of $150,000 from Game & Fish funds was authorized to rehabilitate and improve our state parks, to be repaid with these car sticker receipts. This fee occasioned considerable resentment when it was first put into effect.

The reaction last year, when the benefits of the improvement program became more evident, was generally favorable. Sticker sales during the summer season totalled about $100,000, of which $40,000 was paid by visitors from other states.

It will take at least two more years to repay the original loan. That will give us more experience and two years from now it will be easier to decide whether or not the plan should be continued.

The Legislature

BY W. E. DAHLQUIST

To provide the additional dollars that will be needed to pay the increased cost of basic school aid at $92 per pupil unit Governor Freeman anticipates the windfall revenue that would come with his withholding method of income tax collection. In his budget message he estimated at $25 millions the additional revenue that would come with his current-year collection plan.

This plan has been criticized because, it has charged, it would impose upon the taxpayers an extra year's tax within the two-year period of transition. The income tax produces more than $50 million annually. The 25 million increase, therefor, would be equal to about half a year's tax.

The withholding plan would not produce a full year's additional revenue, in part because it would not be imposed with equal force on all groups of taxpayers. Most of the increased revenue would come from those to whom the withholding would apply. While the state would collect these withholdings quarterly, and therefor would still be a quarter of a year behind in the collections, the fellow on the payroll would be current, the deductions from his paycheck being made every month.

Main reason why the plan would not produce a full year's additional revenue, however, is because it would not apply as effectively to the self employed as to those on a payroll. Farmers, for instance, would continue to pay as much as they now do.

Some of the opposition to the plan is based, understandably, on this inequality in the collection of the additional revenue. But the opposition is concerned chiefly with the financial condition the state will be in two years from now if, because of a windfall, we gear our spending to a level we cannot afford.

Two years from now, it is pointed out, there will be no $30 million balance in the income tax fund to start with. And with the income tax producing only a normal return again, we would have to find an additional 50 millions just to maintain our present $80 basic school aid. At $92 the problem would be just that much more critical.

That is why the members of the legislature are taking a second look at the appropriation requests, and why, more and more, the question is asked "Is it necessary to spend so much?"

Governor Freeman has properly told the opposition to his tax and spend plan to come forth with something that is more sensible. There seems to be pretty general agreement among those who oppose more spending and more taxation, that the answer is simply to hold the line on spending. There just isn't any trick formula that will enable us to eat our cake and have it too.

From under the stage of this melancholy scene there is a ghost that whispers constantly about a coming sales tax. There is a realization among all who have a part in the action that giving ground now on spending means inevitably a sales tax two years from now. They are torn between the temptation to yield to the terrific pressure group now calling for more spending, and their fear of the wrath of those who will be called upon to pay the bills.

"Should beer pay more taxes?"

LEROY DERHAAG
Mechanic
Shakopee

"I see by the papers that half the price of a barrel of beer delivered to the retailer is taxes. Beer is my beverage, it's one of my little luxuries. I think it's paying more than its fair share of taxes now—I'm against slapping on more."

ARVID I. HANSON
Postal Clerk
St. James

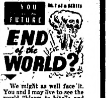
"I don't drink beer myself, so it doesn't make any difference to me personally. But I know beer is now one of our heaviest tax payers. It's the common man's beverage. In all fairness, I don't see why it should be singled out to pay more taxes."

DONALD HEINZE
Farmer
Lake Crystal

"I know it takes money to run the state and we all have to pay taxes. But why pick on beer for more? Beer means a lot to the thousands of Minnesota farmers who received over $27,000,000 for malting barley last year. Why kill the goose that lays the golden egg?"

The Federal Tax is $9 per barrel. The State Tax is $1.10 on 3.2 beer and $2.20 on strong beer. The proposed tax would be a 40% increase in state taxes. As one Minnesota editor said: "Don't Behead Our Beer." The proposed increase does not promote a favorable business climate for Minnesota industry represented by 14 state breweries, large and small. It is against the best interests of the thousands employed by this industry, of the farmers who grow and sell malting barley, and of the consumer who must pay this discriminatory sales tax.

Published in behalf of the following Minnesota Breweries:
BUB'S Winona, FITGER Duluth, FLECKENSTEIN Faribault, GLUEK Minneapolis, GRAIN BELT Minneapolis, HAMM St. Paul, HAUENSTEIN New Ulm, KIEWEL Little Falls, ROYAL BOHEMIAN Duluth, SCHELL New Ulm, SCHMIDT St. Paul



We might as well face it. You and I may live to see the world "blown to bits"; and ourselves with it! Frightening? The fact is—it is a time for fear; and yet, paradoxically, also a time for hope!

During the "Roaring Twenties," and for years before, most folks thought we were on a spiraling road to world prosperity. Nice thought, wasn't it? But where now is that world that "every day in every way was growing better and better"?

Something startling has happened. Now the words are "Fear," "World Suicide."

Dr. Harold C. Urey, nuclear scientist, writes: "I am a frightened man. . . . All the scientists I know are frightened—frightened for their lives—and frightened for your life."

An alarming turn of events, isn't it? Our world—yours and mine—is at the end of its tether; as H. G. Wells grimly put it: "The end of everything we call life is close at hand and cannot be evaded. . . . The writer is convinced that there is no way out or around or through the impasse. It is the end."

"It Is the End!"

That was in those early post-war days when there was nothing more alarming than the Atomic Bomb. Today, with no secrets to secure us, the dread Hydrogen Bomb knocks at our door. We have accepted its implications with a strange, suppressed fear.

No less a man than Dr. Albert Einstein warns us it is entirely possible that the Hydrogen Bomb can cause the "annihilation of any life on earth." And other scientists and realistic thinkers concur.

A time to be afraid?

One who lived nearly two millenniums ago, sighting down the corridors of time, saw that in these last days there would be "anguish among the nations . . . ; men's hearts fainting for fear, and for apprehension of what is coming on the world. For the forces which control the heavens will be disordered." Luke 21:25, 26 (Weymouth).

And what do you make of this: "But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up." II Peter 3:10.

A time to be afraid? Yes and no. If your hope is in this earth and in human strength and wisdom, Yes. If your hope reaches higher, No. For at the height of the crisis, when men's hearts are "failing them for fear," when all is darker than night—we shall actually "see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh." Luke 21:27, 28.

Time to Look Up!

We might as well face it. It is upon us. Exactly when, we cannot know, but we seem to be approaching it rapidly—the end of the world! But the end of the world is the beginning of a glorious eternity! (Next: A New World Coming!)

ASSESSING FOR TAXES

Minnesota Tax Study Commission points out that the "assessed value" of Minnesota property is that portion of the "full and true value" as determined by the assessor on which actual tax is levied. Iron ore is to be taxed at 50% of its full and true value, household goods at 25%, manufacturers' equipment-livestock-unplatted real estate 1/3d of full value, all other property 40% of full and true value. Wide variations were discovered throughout the state: farms in one county averaged for taxes 63.91% of acknowledged market value, resort property in another county only 8.29% of actual value. An average of 33 counties shows residential property taxed on 30.55% of its real value, commercial property 32.25%, industrial 29.21%, public utilities 46.83%, lakeshore property 19.47%, farms 46.63%. Specific recommendations are made by the Commission to correct unfair and costly discrepancies in taxing procedures.

The 1953 traffic fatality rate of 7.1 persons per 100 million-vehicles was the lowest since records have been kept.

Governor Proposes Sweeping New Setup of State Agencies

Sweeping reorganization of state government was recommended Friday by Gov. Freeman in a personal appearance before a joint session of the Legislature.

The governor proposed the revamping of 21 state departments into 10 major ones, headed by single administrators responsible to the governor.

In addition the state railroad and warehouse commission would be abolished as elective offices and many of the 58 boards, commissions and committees, and 12 semi-official agencies would be regrouped.

The all-powerful administrators would constitute a "small cabinet" of top officials, to serve in a fashion similar to the President's cabinet.

An omnibus bill containing all the recommendations, many of them patterned after the "Little Hoover" Commission proposals, now is being drafted and is expected to be introduced in the legislature this week.

Emphasizing that his plan makes no change in present functions, Gov. Freeman said it simply regroups existing functions to provide greater clarity, better service to the public, better co-ordination and control of the executive branch and more efficient operation at lower cost.

New departments would include: (1) Commerce; (2) Health; (3) Labor, and (4) Revenue.

The civil service department, which has jurisdiction over approximately 13,000 state employes, would be transferred to the department of administration under Freeman's plan.

The only major agencies which would be retained with no change are the board of education and the state teachers college board.

The state executive council would be at the top of the administrative pyramid. It is composed of the governor, attorney general, secretary of state, auditor, and treasurer.

Gov. Freeman said it was his thought that the executive council ought appropriately to have responsibility for approving all rules and regulations which have the force and effect of law.

In addition to its present functions, the executive council would take over the functions now performed by the state investment board, the state allotment board, the disaster relief commission, the land building commission, and the voting machine commission.

Other significant changes urged by Freeman are:

Transfer the appointment of the superintendent of the state crime bureau from the governor to the attorney general.

Shift the chauffeur licensing division to the highway department.

Make the state auditor the post-auditor, assuming the functions now performed by the public examiner.

Give the state treasurer supervision of investments, and transfer the sale of liquor stamps to the newly created department of revenue.

While abolishing the railroad and warehouse commission as an elective agency, it should continue its rate-making functions in a new public utilities commission. The commission would also have three members with six-year overlapping terms. (The three present commissioners would continue until their terms expire. Their successors would be appointed by the governor.)

Slight Decline In Employment During January

Non-farm jobs in Minnesota stand at 823,500, only 1,800 fewer than a year ago, according to the state department of employment security.

The job level dipped 34,900 between last December and January, reflecting the effect of winter weather and the end of the holidays on employment in the state, says Commissioner F. W. Nichols.

The decline this January was well below the 37,600 average during the past five years. The 1955 drop is the second smallest in recent years, having been exceeded only by January of 1950, the year in which the 1949 recession was coming to a close.

In 1953, 8,600 pedestrians were killed in U. S. traffic accidents. In the same year, 269,800 pedestrians were injured.

VA Offers Advice on Paying Premium on GI Insurance

Four important tips to the 200,000 veterans who have approximately $2 billion of the new post-Korea GI insurance were released today by Harry R. Pool, manger Veterans Administration Center, Fargo, North Dakota.

First, said Mr. Pool, don't send cash through the mail when paying premiums.

"Use a check or money order payable to the Veterans Administration," Mr. Pool advised. Your canceled check or money order stub will serve as a receipt for your records. If you send cash, it may be lost or stolen and you thus will run the risk of lapsing your policy."

Second, said Mr. Pool, get into the habit of paying all premiums when they are due. He added:

"Although the law allows a "grace period" of 31 days during which the policy remains in effect, even if a premium due is not paid, you should consider this provision an emergency privilege and should use it only for emergencies. Otherwise, you run the risk of lapsing your policy by forgetting to pay the premium within the grace period."

Third, said Mr. Pool, be sure you have named the beneficiary or beneficiaries to whom you want your policy paid in the event of death and in what manner.

"This information," Mr. Pool said, "Should be recorded with the VA district office to which you are paying premiums."

Fourth, said Mr. Pool, if you are paying premiums monthly, you should check the advantages of paying your premiums quarterly, semi-annually, or annually.

"You will save time, effort and money by changing from monthly to quarterly, semi-annual, or annual payments," Mr. Pool said. "The VA district office to which you are paying premiums will be glad to explain this procedure."

Second Notice Given on Truck Load Limits

A second caution notice has been issued by the Minnesota highway department to truck operators and transportation agencies that the yearly season of special weight load limitations on many trunk highways is near at hand. During the spring thawing period weight loads are limited to protect the highways against unnecessary damage. The advance warnings are to assist the truckers and transportation agencies in planning their heavier hauling operations to avoid the restriction period.

The highway department pointed out that the standing legal load limits will continue for concrete paved highways or highways with concrete base. The special restrictions will apply to most other trunk highways.

As in previous years, the state will be divided from south to north into four east-west zones extending across the state. Restriction periods will be set for each zone according to progress of the thawing season from south to north.

Notice of the effective dates for start of the restriction period in each zone will be given by the highway department in later bulletins and by posting of the highways. Special state highway maps showing the zones and the weight limitations for each highway were supplied shippers with the second notice

Restriction limits are based on gross axle weights and include the weight of both the vehicle and the load it carries.

The highway department emphasized that no permits for overweight axle loads exceeding legal or posted axle weights will be issued during the period of restriction. Highway department records show that Zone 1, the southernmost zone, usually goes under restriction early in March and that Zones 2, 3 and 4, extending successively to the state's northern boundry, are restricted shortly thereafter.

Entomologist Is Sought for Area

Purpose Is Better to Combat Insect Pests

Representative B. M. Wichterman of Plummer and Sen. Norman Larson of Ada and six other members of the legislature from northwestern Minnesota have launched a drive to get help and leadership for the farmers in their area in their fight to prevent crop losses due to insects and plant diseases.

They have introduced a bill proposing appointment of a state entomologist to be stationed permanently at the Northwest Agricultural experiment station in Crookston. The man, to be named by the state Commissioner of Agriculture, would be a member of the state entomologist's staff

"Farmers in our area have suffered substantial crop losses from insects and plant diseases," said Senator Larson and Representative Wichterman.

Besides Senator Larson and Representative Witcherman, sponsors of the bill are Representatives Everett Battles of Roseau; L. A. Affeldt, of Fosston; Walter E. Day of Bagley, and Odin Langen of Kennedy, and Senators Louis Murray of East Grand Forks and Donald Sinclair of Stephen.

The bill calls for an appropriation of $17,000 for the next two years, which sponsors called a "very modest" sum considering the vast amounts that could be saved.

The proposal was referred to committees on agriculture in both houses and sponsors said they had been assured of early hearings.

Soil Conservation Practices Gain in Minnesota in 1954

State Conservationist Says Farmers Want to Do Something about Problem

"Application of soil and water conservation practices on Minnesota farmland moved ahead faster in 1954 than in preceding years, "Herbert A. Flueck, state conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, said today.

Flueck attributed the increase to an increased desire on the part of Minnesota farmers to "do something" about their soil and water loss problems.

In 1954 Minnesota farmers in soil conservation districts alone established 11,680 acres of contour farming, 46,508 acres of strip cropping, planted 2,115 acres of trees and 180 miles of windbreaks and shelterbelts. Drainage was improved on 98,107 acres, requiring 1,000 miles of tile and 1,041 miles of open drainage ditches.

"These accomplishments are only a part of the conservation achievements of Minnesota's farmers which resulted from the efforts of all individuals and groups interested in furthering soil conservation," he said.

Prominent among groups assisting in soil conservation work, Flueck said were:

Soil conservation district supervisors who direct activities in Minnesota's 69 soil conservation districts.

The University of Minnesota agricultural extension service with its educational program in agriculture carried on by county agents in all 87 counties.

Thank You, God

Thank you, God, for my baby . . . and help me to be worthy of him. He is such a blessed little bit of humanity . . . so innocent . . untouched by the many evils of the world.

There is so much to teach him, and You have chosen me to be his teacher. You have placed a soul in my clumsy hands, and I am humble before your gift.

How well I realize that in my wonderful task I need the help of the greatest Teacher . . . Your help. My constant prayer will be for guidance . . . so that I may teach my son what is right . . . so that I may set his tiny feet in the right direction on the path of life, and guide his dear little mind into the right channels.

And when the time comes, my son will go to Church . . . because the Church is Your home on earth, and there in Your presence all that I have tried to show him will have true meaning to him, and he will believe.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Special Meeting of School Board

On Wednesday the School Board had a special meeting for the purpose of considering bids on the constructing and equipping our proposed gymnasium-auditorium. A large number of contract bidders were present and bids were opened separately on, general construction, plumbing and heating, electric wiring, bleachers, stage equipment and score board, back stops.

The low bids, in the order as given above, were as follows, $58,289.00; $10,455.00; $4,873.00; $8,488.00; $1,093.00; $505.00 and $950.00 making a total of $84,415.00. Architect and bond processing fees will be in addition to this figure. Folding bleachers and score board will be eliminated in order to reduce cost.

Due to changes recently required by the State Department of Health, regarding an elaborate ventilating system in the gym and changes made in the present sewage disposal system, the cost has increased since estimate of cost were given by the architects.

According to information gathered from boards, who have had experience with similar projects the local board have found that architects estimates are usually too low. Inger Gustafson and Ed Stennes were appointed by the board, to consult legal advice in the matter. Sletten Olson of Warren was consulted and will legally represent the district in his professional capacity. Mr. Olson is a member of the Board of Education at Warren, where similar conditions were experienced.

The three major contracts were tentatively awarded by the Board, subject to final financial arrangements. Rather than issue outstanding orders for the deficiency the board decided to call another special election asking the voters to authorize an additional $20,000.00 bond issue. In order that this authorization can be given in time to allow contractors to move heavy supplies before the roads break up this election was set for March 9th at 8:00 to 10:00 p. m.

STATE'S NEWSPAPERS RATE HIGH

That Minnesota newspapers can easily hold their own with the rest of the country is the opinion of an expert who presented at last week's Editorial Association convention in Minneapolis an analysis of 329 weekly and 23 non-metropolitan daily publications. General news, sports, and society reporting was found excellent, with farm news coverage somewhat inadequate; school news in the smaller publications was appraised as exceptional; county correspondence is heavy in Minnesota newspapers. One local news picture appears for about every three pages. 51% of the weekly newspapers carry editorials, 70% of these deal editorially with strictly local subjects and 65% of them have full editorial page. Typography, makeup, and presswork of the state's newspapers are well done. These are among interesting findings by Professor E. L. Hawkes of the School of Journalism faculty, University of Wisconsin.

The average worker in the United States loses seven-and-a-half work days a year because of illness.

FU Will Conduct 'Cost of Farming' Survey in State

Survey to Start March 8 in Marshall Co.; Series of Meetings Scheduled

Farmers in Marshall County will get a farm family survey starting on March 8th, when Farmers Union Grain Terminal association underwrites a "cost of farming" survey in the Upper Midwest, it was announced by Russel Schwandt, secretary of Minnesota Farmers Union.

The interviews will take place on the farms. The purpose of the survey is to find out directly from the farmers how much they take in, what they spend, and what they have left over to live on. That will measure the farmers' take-home pay.

Before the interviews start, a series of discussion meetings are being called. In Marshall County they will be held at one p. m. March 8th at the Gatzke Hall; at eight p. m., March 8th at the Village Hall in Holt; at one p. m., March 9th at the City Hall in Argyle; and at eight p. m. March 9th at the Stephen H. S. Auditorium. Schwandt, in charge of the survey in Minnesota, will explain the reason why Farmers Union Grain Terminal association has underwritten the farm family survey. Every farmer who wishes to take part in the farm family survey must attend one of the above listed meetings.

The farm family surveys are being made simultaneously in five Northwest states, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin. Marshall County was selected as a typical county in this farming area. The survey is expected to take four weeks.

Later, surveys will be made in other counties in the state. Additional surveys will also be made in other states, according to Mr. Schwandt.

'Save Your Vision' Week Observance Set for Mar. 6-12

High state and local officials today proclaimed the week of March 6 to 12 "Save Your Vision Week" to be dedicated to the improvement of vision.

It was pointed out that during this week, which is staged jointly in Minnesota by the State Junior Chamber of Commerce and Minnesota Optometric association, the purpose is to acquaint the public with as many facts as possible relating to their most precious possession—their eyesight.

Vic Faust, Windom State Jaycee president, said that "by bettering our vision we can improve our efficiency, reduce highway accidents, help our children to better adjustment and increase our pleasures in sports and hobbies. In short, by giving more thought and care to our eyesight, we may all live richer and better lives."

This year marks the twenty-seventh annual "Save Your Vision Week," according to Dr Leo A. Meyer, St Paul, president of the Minnesota Optometric association.

'Better Farming' Has Article on Rep. Coya Knutson

Mrs. Coya Knutson, Minnesota's neophyte congresswoman, makes a bid in the March issue of "Better Farming" to become the special Congressional representative of all American farm women.

Mrs. Knutson, in an article featured in the national farm magazine's "Better Farm Living" section, addresses the women of rural America, saying:

"I want and intend to be, to the best of my ability, the farm woman's congresswoman I would like to meet and talk with every farm wife in America, but since I can't, I hope they will at least write me about their problems and give me their suggestions for making farm living a better living."

Better Farming has supported Mrs. Knutson in her bid by instituting in the same issue of the magazine a contest in which the farm woman who writes the most constructive letter to the Minnesota congresswoman will be awarded a prize of $100.

Agricultural fairs have been a part of American life for nearly 150 years. Fairs may be traced back to the Old Testament times when the Prophet Ezekial wrote of fairs filled with livestock, metalwares, embroidery and spices.

Airline Topic at Meeting of C. C. Thursday

Region Traffic Manager Notes Rise in Traffic in January and February

An encouraging increase in passenger traffic on this segment of North Central Airlines in the first two months of 1955 was reported by John Hammer, Northern Minnesota traffic and sales manager, at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last Thursday noon in the Rex Cafe.

He stated that in January a total of 72 persons arrived at or left Thief River Falls by plane, compared to 34 in January a year ago, while in February this year 81 passengers arrived here or departed, compared to 67 in the same month of 1954.

Hammer said that three-day excursion rate now in effect is expected to have a stimulating effect on traffic.

Robert A. Wurst stated that the present schedule of the airline is not such as to appeal to many travelers. Hammer explained that to have a morning flight from Thief River Falls to Minneapolis and a return flight in the evening would involve an overnight layover in Grand Forks, which he said would add about $1,000 a month to the cost of operation.

President Ralph Luhman, who conducted the session, briefly reported on a conference he had attended in St. Paul relative to pending legislation, including the withholding income tax and the proposal to increase state school aids from $80 per pupil to $92.

Luhman announced that the next meeting of the chamber would be held in the Elks club rooms Thursday evening, March 17, and that a meeting with township officers is being arranged for Saturday, March 19.

1955 ASC Sign-up Meetings Slated at Office in TRF

Deadline for Signing for Farm Program Is Set for March 25, Says Culkins

The 1955 ASC sign-up meetings will be held daily Monday through Friday at the ASC office in the basement of the Union State Bank in Thief River Falls, P. W. Culkins, office manager, stated today. The deadline for signing up has been set as March 25. All farm owners or farm operators who intend to cooperate in the 1955 national conservation farm program are urged to sign before that date.

The USDA has announced a commodity re-seal program for all 1954 farm-stored oats, wheat, barley, rye, and flax which is now under price support loan or purchase agreement. Any producer who has storage space available for carrying over all or part of his 1954 crops will be paid approximately the same rate of storage as that paid to warehousemen.

Producers intending to re-seal their 1954 crops are urged to call at the county ASC office and complete the necessary documents as soon as possible. Producers who have commodities under purchase agreement on the farm, may convert the agreement into a loan and receive the same storage payment as other loans for the coming year.

Pennington Co. Soil Conservation Group Honors Erick Rensla

Approximately 100 persons attended the annual meeting of the Pennington county soil conservation district Friday afternoon in the municipal Auditorium. Maynard Mehrkens, secretary, presided over the session in the absence of Chairman Alfred Longren.

Mehrkens briefly outlined details of the annual report of the district, and said that all but two townships in Pennington county are now affiliated.

A highlight of the meeting was the presentation of the Minneapolis Tribune plaque for 1954 to Erick Rensla, designated as the county's outstanding soil conservationist of the year. Rensla, who farms just east of Thief River Falls on Highway 1, was presented with the award by Norman Peterson in behalf of the selection committee.

Speakers on the program included Harold Jones, soils specialist, and Dr. Rodney Briggs, agronomist, with the University extension service.

Jones spoke on forage crops and fertilizer, illustrating his points with slides. He gave general rules governing the use of fertilizers, but added that the soil must be tested before a specific recommendation can be made.

Dr. Briggs pointed out the great value of forage crops for livestock and soil improvement, and he gave advice as to the best methods of handling the crops.

A question and answer period followed the talks, and lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

Erick Rensla operates a 160-acre farm in North township, of which 150 acres is under cultivation.

The rotation on the Rensla farm is 3 years alfalfa followed by 3 years of grain. Commercial fertilizer is used on the hay and

3 Youths to Face Carnal Knowledge Charges in Court

Hearings Still under Way Indicate That Additional Youths May Be Charged

As a result of juvenile court hearings during the past ten days involving five local girls and one boy, criminal warrants have been issued charging three juvenile youths with carnal knowledge, County Attorney L. W. Rullen announced this week.

Sheriff Arthur Rambeck left Saturday for Los Angeles, California, to pick up two of the youths, who recently left this city for the West Coast, and who have waived extradition.

Rullen stated that further hearings are being conducted involving additional youths. He added that all three of the youths for whom warrants were issued had been in trouble previously and had been in the custody of the Youth Conservation Commission.

Judge Herman A. Kjos of juvenile court, said Rullen, will be requested to turn over the accused youths to the jurisdiction of district court for trial.

Mrs. Halverson to Head Easter Seal Drive in County

Campaign in Behalf of Crippled Children Will Continue Thru April 10

Mrs. Herbert G. Halverson has been named chairman of the Pennington county Easter Seal campaign for funds to help crippled children and adults.

The appointment of Mrs. Halverson was announced by Miss Edith McNaughtan, state president of the Easter Seal Society and principal of the Lindsay school for crippled children in St. Paul.

"Easter Seals helped more than 3,000 crippled children and adults in Minnesota last year," said Mrs. Halverson. "Some were given treatment. Some received equipment like wheelchairs, walkers and hospital beds. Some were provided with employment training and 207 handicapped youngsters were sent to camp.

"The number of crippled children and adults who will be able to throw away their crutches, who will learn to walk and who will gain the use of their disabled muscles this year depends a great deal on our support of Easter Seals."

The Easter Seal fund campaign begins today and continues through Easter Sunday, April 10.

Co. Fair Board Asks Issue of County Bonds

Election to Be Held soon on Bonds for Financing Fair Grounds Projects

The county board at its March session Tuesday granted a request presented by the Pennington county fair board that a special election be held to vote on the issuance of bonds by the county to finance improvements needed at the fair grounds.

The fair board earlier had secured the enactment of enabling legislation which permits the county to issue bonds for such purposes. The law, as enacted, stipulates that only the county can expend the funds. The county board indicated that the only way it would issue the bonds would be with the approval of the voters in an election.

Fair board members, in submitting their request, pointed out the acute need for a new grandstand as well as modern toilet facilities on the fair grounds. It was agreed that the election will be held as early as possible, and further information will be released shortly.

At its meeting Tuesday, the board approved a program for applying a light coat of gravel to about 80 miles of county highways, involving about 27,000 cubic yards of gravel and costing in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Ben Bendickson of River Valley will shortly take over the duties of court house engineer, following his selection Tuesday from a field of 23 applicants.

The board approved petitions calling for the dissolution of School District 69 in Bray and District 166 in Sanders and their incorporation into the St. Hilaire district, No. 102. A petition also was received calling for the dissolution of School District 44 in Cloverleaf and its incorporation into the Goodridge district, No. 8.

A preliminary hearing on County Ditch 35, scheduled for Tuesday, was adjourned to Mar. 14 because of a conflict with the township elections.

C. of C. Arranges March 19 Meeting of Town Officers

As evidence of its interest in rural affairs, the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce has arranged for a conference of township officers to be held in the American Legion club rooms Saturday afternoon, March 19, starting at 2 o'clock. Similar meetings have been held in several former years.

In announcing the meeting, President Ralph A. Luhman stated that State Senator Roy E. Wiseth and Rep. Ben Wichterman have been invited to be present to discuss pending legislation with the group.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served at the close of the meeting.

The conservation of our natural resources is part of the regular Boy Scout program.

Knickerbocker Four to Present Concert Here Friday Evening

The Northwest Concert association is presenting a bright new vocal group, the Knickerbockers, to be heard Friday, Mar. 11, at 8:15 in Lincoln high school auditorium. The group is a traveling mate to the Cliquteleers who received such enthusiastic response in many upper midwest communities last year. The program to be presented by the mixed vocal group promises to be even more interesting.

The concert includes specially selected and staged music of all types and historical periods, ranging from folk songs to operetta and musical comedy. Among the features promised for tonight's program are a concentrated presentation of "Die Fledermaus" containing the choicest portions of that national favorite and a medley called "Knickerbocker Fantasy" that was especially created for the quartet. Between these two features the group will offer music by Mozart and Stravinsky, Jerome Kern and Bernstein.

The entire show to be presented by the group is staged and directed so that solos are blended with group singing in an ever changing and always delightful spectrum of music for everyone's taste.

The four vocal stars who make up the Knickerbockers are Lorraine Donahue, Ruth Pitts, Adam Petroski and Richard Brode. All are veterans of eastern opera companies, TV, Broadway and solo recitals. Donald Christmas, is their pianist.

The 1955 tour of the upper midwest has been arranged for the Knickerbockers by the University of Minnesota Concert, Theatre and Lecture Service.

Captain A. Finlay of The Salvation Army offered prayer. The Women's Chorus of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church sang two hymns under the direction of Mrs. Art Bredeson.

Mrs. R B. Westacott spoke on legislation and outlined the possibility of Thief River Falls entertaining the state convention Aug. 9-12.

Zion church has offered their church to house and provide all meals for the group. More free rooms are needed for this convention whose delegates will come from every section of the state. Greyhound bus company has given a very reasonable chartered bus set up, so from all appearances this will be one of the largest and best WCTU conventions.

Would you share your home? Women from every church will be in attendance. Let us show the real friendly spirit of the city of Thief River Falls. Several meetings will be open to the public including The Diamond or Grand Diamond Speech contest.

Anyone who wishes to share their home, please call Mrs. Tarkel Oen, Mrs. Earle Ripley or Mrs. R. B. Westacott. Need of housing will be the only stumbling block. Your help is needed. Local hotels and motels are very cooperative but will be unable to accomodate all who would wish to attend. A decision to have this convention in our city Aug. 9-12 must be made soon. Please help.

Figures Reveal N.W. Hospital Care Is Tops

Statistical studies of medical and hospital care at Northwestern Hospital covering the past 17 month period afford some significant information for people of this area, H. W. Peterson, administrator, stated today.

Mr. Peterson stated that Northwestern Hospital is an institution accredited by the joint commission on accreditation of hospitals. In order to be accredited the quality of its medical care must come up to certain statistical standards determined by the medical profession.

The institutional death rate, which refers to patients who become deceased after 48 hours of hospitalization should not be more than 4% of total discharges. The institutional death rate of Northwestern Hospital for the past 17 months has been only 1.80% as compared with the standard of 4%.

The standard of the post-operative death rate is 1% within two weeks of admission of the surgical patient. The rate of Northwestern Hospital over the past 17 months has been only four-tenths of 1%.

The infant death rate within ten days of birth has been set at 2% of all live births. The infant death rate at the local hospital for the past 17 months has been only 1.52%. The same rate holds for stillbirths in the hospital; only 1.52% compared with the standard of 2%.

The rate for Cesarean operations in connection with births is carefully watched by the joint commission. The standard rate has been set at 4% of all births. At Northwestern Hospital during the past 16 months the rate for Cesarean sections has been only 1.98% which may be regarded as reflecting the professional integrity of the medical staff of this hospital, said Peterson.

There have been no maternity deaths in Northwestern Hospital during the past 17 months.

Peterson states that the National League of Nursing Education has set up the standard of the average number of 3.5 hours of general nursing hours per patient per day. The average number of available nursing care hours available to patients per day at Northwestern Hospital for the past 14 months has been 4.7 hours per day. Approximately 50% of this care has been afforded by the professional nursing staff and about 50% by licensed practical nurses and nurses' aides.

Rites at Warroad for Native of TRF

Wilfred Saurdiff Body Found in N. W. Angle

Funeral services were held Thursday at St. Mary's Church in Warroad for Wilfred E. Saurdiff, 55.

His frozen body was found Saturday, February 27, in a cabin on tiny Kirk Island, a part of the Northwest Angle, just off Oak Island. He had gone to his cabin there early in January.

Pilots flying over the cabin noticed tracks in the snow from time to time until last Friday when Bix Carron, Baudette pilot, flew over and observed no fresh tracks. He telephoned Saurdiff's brother Ted at Warroad.

Next day a party flew out to the cabin and found the body. Medical examiners at Baudette attributed death to cerebral hemorrhage and fixed death on or about Feb. 19.

Mr. Saurdiff was born March 17, 1899 at Thief River Falls and came to Warroad with his parents in 1902. He was a veteran of World War II and a member of the Warroad American Legion post.

Surviving are six sisters, Mrs. John Roseen, Roseau; Mrs. Hans Otterson, Washington; Mrs. Paul Parson and Mrs. Floyd Squire in California; Mrs. Tony Vickaryous, Palmer, Alaska, and Mrs. Luke Knight, Thief River Falls; and five brothers, Albert, Seattle; Paul, Grygla; Lawrence, Ted and William, Warroad.

Governor Calls on Public to Observe Girl Scout Week

Freeman Asks Citizens to Support Activities of Girl Scout Program

In a proclamation issued March 6, Governor Orville L. Freeman designated the week of March 6 to 12 as Girl Scout Week and March 12 as the 43rd anniversary of the founding of Girl Scouting in the United States.

In making the proclamation, Governor Freeman asked citizens to cooperate with and support the Girl Scouts "so that increasing numbers of girls may benefit from the splendid program of training in citizenship which the Girl Scout organization offers."

During Girl Scout Week, Scouts will demonstrate their abilities and achievements to parents, friends and supporters. Activities for each day are centered on one specific area of Scouting training — Monday on homemaking; Tuesday on citizenship; Wednesday on health and safety; Thursday on international friendship; Friday on arts and crafts, and Saturday on the out-of-doors.

In his proclamation, Governor Freeman pointed out that the Girl Scout organization has grown to more than a million and a half girl members and more than 500,000 adult leaders "who are each day living up to their promise to do their duty to God and country, to help other people at all times and to live by the Girl Scout laws of loyalty, honesty, courtesy, cheerfulness, usefulness, kindness, and helpfulness to others."

Heavy Damage in McIntosh Blaze

2 Brick Store Buildings Razed, Others Damaged

A raging fire consumed two store buildings at McIntosh Monday night and partially destroyed two others as firemen from four towns battled the flames.

The destroyed buildings, which were of brick construction, were the Jensen Super-Valu Store owned by Jens Jensen, and the Gamble Store owned by Robert Heaven.

Fire fighters brought flames under control in a restaurant belonging to Tom Dyrud and a drug store owned by Eugene Warford. However, both establishments were badly damaged.

The fire started shortly after 7 p. m. according to McIntosh Fire Chief Bennie Higdem. In spite of added assistance given by fire departments from Fosston, Winger and Erskine, fire fighting was difficult, Higdem said, because of a shortage of water. Even though McIntosh has two wells and two pumps, water became scarce due to the heavy pumping required.

COYA'S Capital CHAT

MINNESOTA'S FIRST CONGRESSWOMAN

It was my pleasure to lunch at the Shoreham Hotel with Tor Mykelbost, Infomation Officer of the Norwegian Embassy. Tor's uncle, Olaf Mykelby, lives near Crookston.

Once a week the freshmen members of Congress have breakfast together to discuss legislation. The parlimentarian Lewis Deschler of the House of Representatives addressed the group. Mr. Deschler has been parlimentarian of the House since 1928 and is considered, by most legislators, the most outstanding parlimentarian in the United States. He said that 95% of the bills are passed by unanimous consent. The bills that have trouble passing are major appropriations bills and other bills that have to do with the conduct of our Government, as distinguished from private bill legislation and public bills, more or less of local interest within states. His discussion was very interesting and I feel like a student again, when one so learned and well informed speaks with such a knowledge of the running of our government.

I had the opportunity to meet Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt this week—she was visiting on our floor. She is now on her way to Israel for a three weeks' trip.

Senator Humphrey and I were invited to lunch with York Langton at the American Association of the United Nations at their annual meeting at the Shoreham Hotel.

This was luncheon and dinner week—I attended both the American Legion reception and the Minnesota, North and South Dakota Bankers Association dinner. I sat across the table from Treasurer of the United States, Ivy Baker Priest. She told me that the first job she ever had was that of a switchboard operator and the other day she tried out the dial system at the Washington Office of the telephone company. In her office, Mrs. Priest uses a headphone all the time, which enables her to sign letters and take her calls in one operation.

On Monday, I will be one of a group to have luncheon with President Eisenhower at the White House.

G. Gunstenson and R. G. Mabey Go to Assessor School

City Assessor Richard G. Mabey and County Assessor Gunnuf Gunstenson, will attend the University of Minnesota's three-day institute for assessors Thursday through Saturday, March 10-12, in the Center for Continuation Study.

Zuver, Des Moines, Iowa, president of the National Association of Assessing Officers, will be the dinner speaker at 6 p. m. Friday, March 11.

Governor Orville L. Freeman will speak briefly during the opening session.

Don Lawrence Is Elected Head of Sportsmens Club

Vernon Forsberg Named Vice President, with Bob Mattson Secretary

Don Lawrence, who has served the past year as secretary of the Pennington County Sportsmen's club, was elevated to the presidency, succeeding Dr. James O. Disse, in the annual election last Wednesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

Others elected were Vernon Forsberg, vice president; Robert Mattson, secretary; and Elmer Bratsch, treasurer.

A contest to sign up members for 1955 was inaugurated, with the club membership divided into two teams, with the losers to take over the responsibility of preparing a fish dinner for the winning side.

The club adopted a resolution calling on the state division of game and fish to make a study of Lake Sarah south of Mentor and Red Lake river at Thief River Falls to determine whether to transfer some of the crappies from overcrowded Lake Sarah to the river here.

Byron G. Allen of Detroit Lakes to Take State Post

Gov. Freeman Tuesday named Byron G. Allen, Detroit Lakes, as new commissioner of agriculture.

He also asked William E. Revier, St. Paul, to resign as commissioner of veterans affairs and that Revier refused.

In addition, Freeman announced appointments of Raymond D. Black, Minneapolis, and Charles EE Bannister, Duluth, to the civil service board and Lloyd O. Stein, St. Cloud, to the board of tax appeals.

Allen, 51, will take office May 1. Freeman said Myron W. Clark, the present commissioner, has indicated he will stay on until then.

Allen will resign as Democratic national committeeman, a post he has held since 1948.

Benefit Auction for Heart Fund Brings in $430

The Heart Fund benefit auction held Tuesday afternoon at the Joppru Sales Barn netted the substantial sum of $430, over $80 more than was taken in at a similar event a year ago, it was announced by Ralph A. Luhman, chairman of the Pennington county unit of the Minnesota Heart association, which collects funds to finance research into heart maladies. He said merchants and others donated many valuable articles to the auction, and that bidding was brisk.

ing, changes in crop and livestock production, and a continuing shift of the population from the farm to towns and cities.

Fenske said that food is still cheap when compared to the income of the average worker, and he forecast a good future for the dairy industry due to the steadily increasing population. He counseled his hearers to practice good farming, clear thinking and right living.

Pennington Soil District Plaque Given to Rensla

pasture crops. The manure from the stock is applied to the hay ground after the first cutting of hay is taken off.

Rensla stated that by following this system his ground is easier to plow and till than it was before he started the rotation, and that his crop yields have been very good. One of the important steps in getting the program started was to establish nearly a mile of surface drainage ditches. To get this job done he had the assistance of Don Lawrence, soil conservation service technician for the Pennington county district.

Rensla keeps a herd of high producing Holstein cows. Last year his herd average was nearly 500 pounds of butterfat per cow. This production was achieved by using the home grown alfalfa hay, corn silage, good pasture with very little grain fed.

He stated that to get high production it is necessary to have good hay and pasture and that these crops along with good corn silage are his cheapest feeds.

He said that he mows the pasture during June when the growth is more than the cows can eat. This is baled and can be left in the field where the cows can eat it when they want. He has found that all the bales are eaten later in the summer.

A flock of 200 laying hens is maintained. The farm tract shelterbelt is being improved by planting more evergreen trees.

Limitations of 2, 4-D Dust

The limitations of using 2, 4-D dust containing "minor elements" were pointed out today by a University of Minnesota extension agronomist, Edwin H. Jensen.

He said there is danger from wind drift of 2, 4-D especially when crops sensitive to it are near the field being sprayed. And when it's windy there is difficulty in getting a uniform application of the dust so that it performs as it's designed to.

He points out, also, that 2, 4-D dust doesn't become effective — or "go to work" — until dew or rain has made a liquid solution of it.

There is also an added expense in applying the dust — most farmers are not equipped to apply dust, even though many have equipment to put on 2, 4-D solutions. They thus rent dusting equipment.

Jensen's fourth point is that, with rare exceptions, the minor elements are already plentiful in most Minnesota soils and adding them would give no additional crop response.

Adding minor elements is practical only on certain types of peat lands and high-lime soils, Jensen said. For more information on weed control come in to my office and pick up a bulletin called Weed Control in Minnesota for 1955.

Old But Still Good

Here's a reminder of an old practice that still is a good one. We all know that anemia can be a big problem with those pigs farrowed in the winter. If sod isn't handy, swab the udders of the nursing sows with a saturated "copperas" solution, 1-lb. copperas to 1 gallon water. Start this swabbing when the baby pigs are three to four days old and keep it up until they are eating mostly creep feed, says H. G. Zavoral, University of Minnesota extension livestock specialist. There are many methods of supplying iron to baby pigs. Choose one that is easy to do. This is one practice which should not be overlooked.

Be Careful of Blends

Rodney A. Briggs, Extension Agronomist at the University of Minnesota, says you'll want to check alfalfa blends carefully. Most of them are blends of ordinary alfalfa seed of unknown parentage and origin and are not offered as a better substitute for certified alfalfas. In long-range University of Minnesota tests none of the ordinary alfalfas — often found in the blends—have performed better, or even as good, as University-recommended varieties. Blending doesn't make a superior product. Superiority would have to come from their inherited strengths.

Stilbestrol Pointer

Feed your beef the protein supplement they need. Don't increase the percentage protein or amount merely to get more stilbestrol. There is no use feeding a high-protein supplement if a lower percentage protein carries the same amount of stilbestrol and if you get enough protein from it for your needs. So says W. E. Morris, extension animal husbandman at the University of Minnesota.

Good food buys for March include canned corn and snap beans, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture March list of plentiful foods. Also on the list is rice, beef, eggs, pork, milk and dairy products. Other protein foods which will be thrifty during March are frozen haddock, fillets, halibut and shrimp and canned tuna. In good supply are lard, butter, shortening, margarine and salad oils. Raisins, small sized prunes and fresh and processed oranges and grapefruit are plentiful for March.

Plan to do some arm chair gardening soon and choose varieties of vegetables to plant especially for freezing. It is important to plant varieties that will freeze well to have attractive, top-quality vegetables on your table.

Many fruit and vegetables varieties are tested each year in the frozen foods laboratory in the horticulture department at the University of Minnesota. These tests show that some varieties freeze better than others. On the basis of these tests, changes are made each year in the best varieties recommended for freezing.

Here are some of the varieties that have been found to be good for freezing:

Asparagus — California 500, Washington.

Green beans—(bush) — Giant stringless green pod, Topcrop, Tendergreen, Wade; (pole) — Blue Lake Stringless, Kentucky Wonder.

Wax beans—Brittle Wax, Pure Gold.

Lima beans — Burpee's Improved Bush, Fordhook No. 242, Triumph.

Brussells sprouts — Long Island Improved.

Cauliflower—Snowfall, Super Snowball, Snowdrift.

Sweet corn—(on cob)—Golden Cross Bantam, Golden Freezer, Early Golden 113.

Sweet corn—(whole kernel) — Most good garden varieties.

Peas—Burpeana Early Dwarf, Lincoln, Little Marvel, Perfection Dark Seeded, Thomas Laxton.

Spinach — Bloomsdale Long Standing, Giant Novel, New Zealand.

Summer squash — Summer Crookneck, Zucchini.

Winter squash — (for pies) — Banana, Golden Delicious, Greengold and blends of these varieties.

Winter squash—(for mashed squash) — Rainbow, Buttercup, Faribo Hybrid G, Faribo Hybrid R, Greengold.

Clip out this list and take it with you when you buy your garden seeds this winter. It will save disappointment with your frozen vegetables later.

U. S. Internal Revenue

The Three Types of Federal Income Tax Returns

In an effort to fit the income tax returns to the differing needs of the more than 50,000,000 persons who must file them, three types of returns have been provided — Form 1040A, Short-Form 1040, and Long-Form 1040.

The law expects you to pay your correct tax—no more—no less. It will pay you to think for a moment which of these three types of returns is the best and easiest form in your case. To do this you need to consider the size of your income, the sources of your income, your eligibility to deduct travel and reimbursed expenses from wages (see page 6 of the instructions with your 1954 Federal Income Tax Form), and the size of your nonbusiness deductions, such as contributions, medical expenses, etc. (listed in detail on pages 12 and 13 of the instructions).

The tax table used in computing the tax on Form 1040A and Short-Form 1940 automatically allows you approximately 10 percent of your income to cover your nonbusiness deductions.

The only three areas of North America and Europe not accessible today by railways or highways are the wilderness sections of northern Canada, Alaska and remote regions of Scandanavia.

Most Mail Saved as Fire Destroys RLF Postoffice

Two-story Brick Building Badly Damaged in Blaze Last Thursday Morning

Postal inspectors were on hand Friday to survey damage at the fire-ruined Red Lake Falls postoffice and to estimate the loss.

The two-story brick building housing the postoffice and lodge rooms was destroyed by fire Thursday morning.

Postmaster Al Buse said Friday that most of the first and second class mail was salvaged from the ruins. The mail was water-damaged but deliverable to patrons, he said.

Most of the stamps, a good share of the envelopes and other office supplies were also salvaged, he added.

The second story of the building was used as a lodge hall by the Catholic Order of Foresters and the Masonic lodge. Little of their equipment was saved.

Postoffice employes first noticed flames coming through the floor at 9:20 a. m. Five minutes later they said, smoke was so thick they had to leave the bluiding. Only a few articles of furniture was saved.

Five lines sprayed water on the blaze and firemen had little difficulty in checking its spread although an adjacent store suffered some smoke damage.

So much water was used in checking the fire that the city's water tank went dry.

Cause of the blaze has not been determined but Fire Chief Lawrence Fournier said he believed an overheated furnace may have been responsible.

A temporary postoffice has been set up in the community hall while arrangements are made for a permanent location.

Crookston and Fisher Meet in Dist. 31 Finals

Crookston Wins over Plummer 44-36; Fisher Defeats EGF 55 to 42

Coach Al Droen's Crookston Pirates and Coach Norman Wagner's Fisher Flyers gained the finals of the 31st district basketball tournament by winning their semi-finals games in the North Dakota Fieldhouse on Tuesday night.

The Crookston Pirates defeated the Plummer Cardinals; while the Fisher Flyers upset a favored East Grand Forks team. The championship finals will be played at 9:00 p. m. tonight, with a preliminary game, between Plummer vs. East Grand Forks, being scheduled for 7.30 p. m.

The Crookston Pirates were hard-pressed to edge out a luckless Plummer team, winning by a 44 to 36 score, but it was only in the final minutes of the game that the Pirates were able to build a "cushion." Crookston led a cold shooting Cardinal team, 13 to 8, at the end of the first period, and by a 19 to 17 score at the intermission.

Plummer, with Dan Kush scoring on lay ups and tip-ins, moved into the lead at the end of the third period by a 32 to 28 score. With 5:38 of the fourth period remaining to be played, and with the score at 31 to 33 for Crookston, Plummer's rangy Kush committed his fifth personal foul and was forced from the game. With Kush's loss the Plummer club gave up the advantage they had held in covering the rebounds.

Crookston's Paul Wold scored a field goal with three minutes to play, and then followed with a pair of free throws to shove the Pirates beyond the reach of the ever-trying Cardinals.

In the second game on Tuesday night's semi-finals, the Fisher Flyers, with six-foot, six-inch Dale Wagner scoring eighteen points, defeated a highly regarded East Grand Forks quint, 55 to 42. East Grand Forks jumped into an early lead at the end of the first period.

East Grand Fork's burly John Cash, in endeavoring to "cover" Dale Wagner, committed three fouls in the first period, and coach Sullivan was forced to remove him from the game. Fisher, with Wagner scoring on overhead hook shots and lay-ups, held a 22 to 20 lead at the half.

Fisher, setting up their plays in fine fashion, pulled away from the Green Wave in the third period to gain a 38 to 27 lead; and when Cash, who had returned to the East Grand line-up at the start of the second half, fouled out with five minutes to play in the fourth period, the game was "clinched" for the Flyers.

Plummer Whips Oslo to Win Subdistrict Tourney Here Friday

Coach Herb Arndt's Plummer Cardinals made a shambles of the sub-district championship finals game played here Friday night when they defeated Oslo by a top-heavy 71 to 21 score. By winning the sub-district title, the Cardinals gained a berth in this week's District 31 tourney at Grand Forks.

In a preliminary game played Friday night, for the consolation honors, the Goodridge Huskies, with Curtis Vraa scoring 18 points, defeated the Red Lake Falls Eagles, 52 to 44.

In their finals game against Oslo, Plummer raced away to a 23 to 3 first period lead, with big Dan Kush looping in five field goals and pair of free throws to spark Plummer's opening spurt. The Cardinals held Oslo to six points in the second period, to gain a 39 to 9 lead at the intermission.

A lone free throw, by Gary Gowan, was the solitary point that Oslo chalked up in the third period while the Cardinals were adding 17 points to their total to boost their lead to 56 to 10. The Cardinals reserves played the latter part of the third period and throughout the final period, out-pointing Oslo in the fourth quarter, 15 to 11.

In tournament first-round games played on Thursday night, Plummer, by a 61 to 36 score, defeated Red Lake Falls; and Oslo, in an overtime title, edged out the Goodridge Huskies, 41 to 40.

In the Oslo vs. Goodridge "thriller," Oslo, trailing by two points, 9 to 7, at the end of the first period, evened the score at 19-all at the half, and held a 32 to 30 lead at the end of the third period. Oslo's lanky Dave Mendick was instrumental in giving Coach Benson's club their third period lead, scoring three field goals and a pair of free throws.

With the score deadlocked at 39-all at the end of the regular time, Oslo marked up their winning points when Lee Nordling tallied from the free throw line. With seconds remaining, Goodridge's Dennis Kulseth had an opportunity to tie the game, but after making his first free throw try to pare the Oslo lead to one point, his second attempt rolled off the rim.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Any Arguments?

Now that the Northwest Hockey League season is officially over, as far as the Thieves are concerned, we can go "out on a limb" and name the six players that we believe to be the circuit's best in their respective positions.

In the goal we would select Roseau's Don Collins. Collins, who has been in the league the past several years, has been a standout for the Roseau Cloverleafs, and during that time we have seen him falter only once, and that was during the Leafs vs. Thieves game here on Jan. 5th. After two periods of play in that game, Roseau held a 5 to 4 lead, but in the third period the locals rammed seven goals past the bewildered Collins. We won't hold that period against Collins for it only proves that he's human.

On the blue-line we would pick the Thieves' Bill Juzda and the Grand Forks Redwings' Don Crough. Neither of these boys are noted as rushers, but they are rock-ribbed on defense, and Juzda is especially adept in shoving out soft passes to his wings and center-ice playmaker. With Juzda and Crough at the blue-line you can be certain that the opposing forwards would play "honest" hockey.

At center we would have to choose Warroad's Frank "Campbell." Campbell, who was a member of the Fort Frances Canadians when that club won the Allan Cup, has played with the Lakers a couple of years, and his play has made the Warroad club a championship contender.

There were a number of top-flight wingmen performing in the league this season, but it's our belief that Roseau's Fred Dunsmore and Crookston's Sergio Gambucci are of all-star caliber. Dunsmore, who was the league's leading pointgetter even though he was forced to play at a defense position for the Leafs, is a rugged competitor and capable of sixty-minute effort.

Gambucci, Crookston's veteran player-coach, has been a thorn for the rest of the league teams for a quite a number of years, and this season wasn't any different. It did appear that Gambucci lost some of his effectiveness when he played against the Thieves whenever the locals had Bill Juzda on defense. But that wasn't stange, for Juzda made a number of players lose their effectiveness.

Grade School Activities

The Bjorkman grade school athletic awards will be made at the high school gymnasium on Friday night. Cliff Bjorkman is the donor of the trophies that are emblematic of grade school championships in baseball football, and hockey.

The Washington grade school basketball, which has proved to be a power in the grade school league, will meet the Northrop Indians in the feature game on Friday night, with the Knox team meeting the Northrop 'B' team in a preliminary tilt.

As far as grade school basketball is concerned, Washington, with a big and rugged outfit, should be favored to defeat the smaller Northrop club. In Bob Nick, Rocky Stewart, and Lloyd Ranum, coach John Eisbrener has a solid foundation for a championship team.

The grade school hockey tournament, which had been slated for Thursday night and was postponed, was held on Saturday morning at the Arena. In first round game, Knox, with Keith Poppenhagen scoring all four of the goals, defeated a young St. Bernard's team, 4 to 1. Cody, with Larry Poole on the assist, scored the lone goal for St. Bernard's. The Washington team, although holding a wide edge in the ice play, was barely able to squeeze past Northrop in the other semi-finals tilt, winning by a 1 to 0 score, with Larson scoring on an assist from Ranum.

In the championship finals, Knox defeated Washington, 2 to 1, with Poppenhagen and Dennis Erickson scoring for the winners.

Can't be Judged on Form

We've come to the conclusion that ice hockey is a game that can't be rated on "form." We were in the crowd of 2500 fans that was in the North Dakota Winter Sports Building on Saturday night for the North Dakota vs. Minnesota league game, which, as a surprise to everyone, resulted in a 7 to 0 win for the Sioux. On Friday night the two teams had engaged in the first game of the two-game series, and the Gophers, with a fine exhibition of hockey, had trounced the Nodaks, 6 to 0. That's a difference of 13 goals between Friday night and Saturday night.

And this "formlessness" isn't limited to college and high school hockey, for the Thieves, just a week ago, walloped the Warroad Lakers, 8 to 1, in the second game of their playoff series; and then on Friday night, at Warroad, the locals lost by a 5 to 2 score.

But to get back to the Minnesota vs. North Dakota tilt. The 7 to 0 score on Saturday night is a pretty fair indication of the play that night, for the Nodaks were an "inspired" outfit, particularly in the second and third periods. One reason for the thumping that the Gophers received on Saturday night was the hapless play of the Minnesota blue-liners; and contrarily the North Dakota defense was very alert in protecting goalie Tom Yurkovich.

The best player on ice on Saturday night, according to our biased opinion, was North Dakota's swift-moving Bill Reichert. Reichert, who has been subjected to some press criticism, was a praise-deserving player on Saturday night. Reichert even outshone the famed Johnny Mayasich, who closed out his Minnesota career by being held scoreless.

Dakota Playmakers, University of North Dakota dramatic group, will present "The Curious Savage," Broadway comedy March 23-26, according to Director Andrew J. Kochman. Cast members include Jack Haugen of Thief River Falls.

Prowler Quint Is Defeated in District Play

Loses to EGF 47 to 31 in 1st Round of Tourney at Grand Forks Monday

The Prowler cagers were shorn of the district title they have won for the past three seasons when, in a first-round tournament game played at Grand Forks on Monday night, Coach Al Adams' squad dropped a 47 to 31 decision to the powerful East Grand Forks team.

Other district first round game results found the Plummer Cardinals beating the Warren Ponies, 54 to 43; the Crookston Pirates defeating the Alvarado Indians, 56 to 39; and the rangy Fisher Flyers taking the measure of the Climax Vikings, 48 to 36.

In their tilt against East Grand Forks on Monday night, the Prowlers, on field goals by Chuck Brandvold, Bill Frahm and Eddie Fillatrault, and a pair of gift tosses by Fillatrault, rushed into an 8 to 0 lead in the first four minutes of play.

Dean Dallum looped a hook shot into the east basket to give the East Siders their first two points, but Fillatrault, who played a fine game for the Prowlers, drove in for lay-up, giving the Prowlers a 10 to 2 edge. A pair of free throws by Dallum and a hook shot by Gary Saunders pared the Prowler lead to 10 to 6 at the end of the period.

East Grand Forks, with a marked superiority in covering the boards, with John Cash, Dallum, Saunders, and Ordean Thompson using their height to good advantage, took control of the game in the second period, and left the floor at the half time intermission with an 18 to 16 lead.

Bill Frahm's lay up shot in the opening minute of the third period evened the score at 18-all, but Dallum's two free throws and a rebound tip-in by Thompson shoved the Green Wave into a lead which, at the period's end, they increased to six points, 29 to 23.

Employing semi-stall tactics in the fourth period, to control the ball and force the Prowlers into numerous fouls, East Grand Forks picked up fourteen points via the free-throw line and, with a pair of field goals by Saunders and Hanson, boosted their game score to 47. The Prowlers were held to eight points in the final period with Frahm scoring a pair of field goals, Brandvold and Dick Odegaard adding two free throw points apiece.

Revenue Receipts in Minnesota Hit Peak of $309 Million in '54

A new record in revenue receipts, $309,758,000, was established for the fiscal year 1954, the Minnesota Institute of Governmental Research reported last week in St. Paul.

Harold L. Henderson, executive director, disclosed in a two-year analysis of the state's finscal operations that the 1954 receipts were $10,179,000 higher than the preceding year.

Other highlights of the list fiscal year, which ended June 30, 1954, were cited by Henderson as follows:

Expenditures exceeded receipts by $13,329,000, thereby reducing surplus funds built up in previous years.

Total revenue receipts were higher due to a $9,527,000 increase in iron ore occupational taxes, a $2,694,000 increase in gasoline taxes, a $1,751,000 increase in motor vehicle license receipts, and $1,966,000 additional income taxes.

Due to a special levy for the general fund for the first time in years, the property tax increased a million dollars.

Offsetting the increases in tax revenue receipts was a drop of $5,097,000 in federal aids.

Costs for 1954 were $323,087,000, or $8,635,000 over 1953. This was due primarily to an increase in state aids to local units of government, particularly school districts. The cost of general state government only showed no material increase.

In 14 counties in 1953, state aids amounted to more than the amounts raised locally. These counties were Aitkin, Beltrami, Cass, Clearwater, Cook Hubbard, Kanabec, Lake, Lake of the Woods, Mahnomen, Mille Lacs, Pine, Roseau and Wadena.

The major increases in costs were $530,000 for the Livestock Sanitary Board, $599,000 for old age assistance, $490,000 for 11 mental hospitals, $8,493,00 for school aids, $3,980,000 for the University of Minnesota, and $2,324,000 for debt service.

There were many decreases, the largest being that of $6,828,000 for highways, primarily due to a much smaller construction program.

The state debt of $94,708,000 on June 30, 1954, was $17,386,000 lower than that of a year earlier.

Marshall Co. Debt Is $2,131,000 for All Subdivisions

Overall bonded indebtedness in Marshall county for school districts, cities and villages, townships and the county itself increased by $837,405 or 66 per cent in 1954 according to an abstract prepared by County Auditor Levi G. Johnson. Most of the increase came from the county school districts building programs and the Warren sewage plant.

Indebtedness at the beginning of 1954 was $1,293,675 to which an increase of $944,000 issued in 1954 must be added, making a total of $2,237,675. The total was decreased by $106,600 which was paid during 1954 leaving the present indebtedness of the local governments in the county at $2,131,075.

To Honor School Patrols in State

Gov. Freeman Proclaims Observance March 20-26

Governor Orville L. Freeman today proclaimed the week of March 20 through 26 as "School Safety Patrol Week" and asked the citizens of Minnesota to show their appreciation for the very excellent work being performed by more than 17,000 members of the school safety patrol. Governor Freeman urged local organizations and groups, especially those which sponsor the safety patrols within their communities, to arrange special programs and activities in recognition of the fine contribution being made to the state's safety program by the youngsters.

In his proclamation, the Governor pointed out that:

"That school safety patrol protects the children of Minnesota in a most effective manner.

"The members of the school patrols perform a vital public service in guarding their school comrades from the hazards of traffic accidents and other dangers.

"These young members of the school safety patrols endure the discomfort of inclement weather and many other inconveniences in order to fulfill their assignments with courage and loyalty."

The Governor went on to give a word of praise to the various community and civic organizations which sponsor and aid the safety patrol and said that they deserve "high commendation" for the contribution they are making to the program."

AAA Gives Advice on Accident Aid

Automobile Association Offers Tips to Motorists

What would you do in case of an accident during a trip away from home?

The Minnesota State Automobile Association (AAA) has suggested "seven simple steps." They are intended to help you meet what could be a difficult and trying circumstance. Here is AAA's list of things to do:

1 Stop immediately after an accident.

2 Determine the extent of injury to individuals and give all the aid and comfort you can. However, don't try to move anyone who may be unconscious. You'll be helping plenty if you stop severe bleeding and keep the victim warm.

3 Call the police. If anyone is injured, the police will bring an ambulance and physician.

4 Get names and addresses of all possible witnesses.

5 Check your surroundings carefully—the position of the cars, license numbers and anything you feel has bearing on the accident. Step off distances, if possible.

6 Do not discuss the accident with the other party, do not admit liability. Remember that you have an insurance company to handle any claim against you, so leave the handling to your insurance representative.

7 Report immediately to your insurance company the details of the accident, even though it may appear trivial.

A WEED BLOOMS AGAIN

Another group of our young people are in trouble and once again there is going to be shame and sorrow in a dozen of our homes. These things happen in other communities too. We are not alone in our problem. But they have been happening too frequently here, and with too much regularity. It is clearly evident that what corrective measures we have taken have been inadequate.

Over a period of years Minnesota has been experimenting with a correction program that is referred to generally as youth conservation. We have created a youth commission at the state level, and transferred to it most of the authority that formerly was vested in our courts. As is so often the result, it appears that shifting more responsibility to the state level has resulted in a lessening of responsibility at the local level.

In this youth conservation program emphasis is given to the reformation and rehabilitation of the delinquent. That at least has been the objective of the program in theory. We have moved away from the old ideas of punishment. "The new "treatment" probably is a little inconvenient for the youthful offenders but on the whole, not unpleasant. The graduates of the course give assurance that it is nothing to fear."

The results to date of this experiment in correction are not impressive. Local law enforcement officials assert that their biggest problem is with the graduates who are returned to the community. Instead of being rehabilitated and reformed they come back to join the ranks of the recruiters, and help organize the next company of delinquents. The regular recurrence of our youth problem here in Thief River Falls gives strength to this conclusion.

It would be unfair to place all of the blame for our repeated failures on the Y. C. C. Some of the responsibility must be shouldered here at home. But the situation does indicate that it is high time we reexamine this problem with the view of developing a more realistic approach at both the state and local levels.

It is obvious that we must give some thought to the welfare of the many fine youngsters in our community as well as to the rehabilitation of those who have gone bad. It is not fair to the good, sound apples in the barrel to put the spoiled apples back among them without adequate protection from their corrupting influence. And we probably will have to retrace our steps to some extent in recognizing the fact that punishment sometimes is a necessary part of the corrective process.

CONSTRUCTION STARTED

Canada has already started construction on one section of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway and work will get under way this month on a segment to be built by our country. Improvements now authorized will provide a channel 27 feet deep to the west end of Lake Erie. Plans in the making call for the extension of this channel to the main ports on lakes Superior and Michigan.

A story on lake port development activities and prospects in Business Week credits Duluth with having a fine natural harbor, the entrances to which have already been dredged to the 27 foot depth. Under a federal harbor improvement program approach channels are now being developed.

The city of Duluth and St. Louis county are acting to provide extensive harbor improvements.

And as the ocean is being made accessible to the vast interior regions bordering on the Great Lakes, all of the Great Lakes port cities are preparing for increased use of lake shipping. With this development Minnesota will be brought closer to the rest of the world in terms of transportation costs to world markets.

THE BIG HEADACHE

Wheat has become the headache crop for the Department of Agriculture. In spite of drastic acreage cuts it is expected that the government will increase its holdings again this year. It now owns enough wheat to meet all demands for at least two years.

There are, as usual, many good suggestions for disposing of the surplus. There is much support, for instance, for the idea that it should be converted to stock feed, thus reducing stock feeding costs. But corn, and other competitive feeds, also price-supported by the government, would suffer. And so, to each solution there is opposition. The only fellows who are sure of their answers are those who do not share in the responsibility.

LIBERALS ARE CONSERVATIVE

Minnesota's liberal house of representatives proved itself to be very conservative in the spending authorized in its first major appropriation bill. Conservative leaders applauded the result and liberal leaders expressed the hope that they would be able to hold the line on all appropriations. That is encouraging news for all who do not favor higher taxes. There is only one way to keep taxes from going higher and that is by not spending more.

THE HIGH COST OF HIGH PRICES

Brazil coffee growers suffered a severe loss when their plantations were damaged by frost. Far more severe, however, is the damage they now are suffering as a result of the high prices that followed the frost reports.

Along with decreased production in Brazil came increased production in other countries and now there is a lot more coffee in the world than is being consumed. And because of high prices, consumption in our country has dropped an estimated 10 per cent.

That ten percent represents about two million bags that will be added to the stockpile of surplus coffee that will cast a shadow over the market for years to come. The coffee industry has learned the hard way how high is the cost of unreasonably high prices.

The Legislature

BY W. E. DAHLQUIST

Governor Freeman's proposals for a reorganization of state government serve the good purpose of reminding us of a need about which much has been said but little has been done.

A commission authorized by the 1949 legislature to study our state government, in the interests of "economy and efficiency," submitted a report to the 1951 session with recommendations for extensive reorganization. The report was well received and there was much favorable comment on the work of the commission and the many citizens who served on its several committees.

An omnibus bill providing for a number of the recommended changes was introduced late in the '51 session, largely as a token recognition of the commission's good work. No attempt was made to move the bill out of committee.

In the '53 session the recommendations dealing with welfare were adopted in part when the Divisions of Social Welfare and Public Institutions were combined in a new Department of Welfare. Veterans Affairs, Soldiers Home, parole activities, and Youth Conservation, recommended then, as a proper part of this expanded agency, as the governor now suggests, were dropped by the sponsors because of organized opposition. It was a matter of taking a little or getting nothing at all.

With this experience in mind I am sure Governor Freeman is wise in making it clear that he is not taking the position that all of his reorganization program must be adopted at once.

While his proposals differ in some respects, they follow the general pattern of the Little Hoover Commission report. And while it probably would be agreed that there is much to be said in favor of all of these proposals, it should be kept in mind too that there is opposition to each of the suggestions. For this reason it would be impossible, I believe, to pass an omnibus bill combining all or several of the proposals in one measure.

Legislative experience bears out the wisdom of Aesop. Using his example of stick breaking in reverse, the sponsors of reorganizations legislation probably will make better progress if they try breaking one stick at a time.

In addition to the usual opposition of those who would be adversely affected by reorganization there will be extra opposition from those who would not favor a reshuffling of the deck and a rearrangement of the Kings and Queens and Jacks at the present time. Under the circumstances it would be reasonable to suspect that, as the dealer in this interesting game, the governor probably would have an ace or two up his sleeve.

Reorganization could result in economy and efficiency, and save some dollars as well as provide a better service. But the savings here would be in terms of nickels and dimes, and would not be the solution for the state's money problems.

We might stop a little wasting at the bung, which would be good, but the real saving must be made at the spigot.

In Memoriam

In memory of Peter O. Johnson, who passed away March 12, 1950
Gone from our midst, a loved one
Gone to a place of sweet rest
Years he has toiled and has labored
For his loved ones he wanted the best.
Faithful he lived for the Master
Telling to all he might meet
Of Jesus who came to save sinners
His was a life full, complete
Gone from our midst and we sorrow
Yet not as those without hope
We shall meet in that bright glad tomorrow
Blest eternity, time without scope.
Sadly missed by his family 10p

Pursuant to adjournment the Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, convened in the Council Chambers in the Auditorium and the Municipal Building on February 28, 1955 at eight o'clock P. M. Aldermen Berg, Hunt, Honebrink, Gjernes were present. Aldermen Bell and Carlson were absent.

A large delegation approximating 50 citizens were present for a discussion of the power situation now confronting the Council, a shortage of such power due to the incapacity of the present plant equipment, which was explained by the Chief Engineer Morris Olsen. Those present also heard reports of C. J. Hastad and D. H. Stewart, Engineers, who had previously made and presented to the Council a report of a survey of the situation, which they had been authorized to prepare. Such report recommended the purchase of additional generating facilities of approximately 1500 Kilowatts capacity, which unit could be installed on the base of the present McIntosh & Seymour 600 KW unit, which would be taken out of service at an estimated total installed cost of $290,000. W. E. Dahlquist, Secretary of a Citizen's Committee previously appointed to make a study of the problem read the report of such committee and suggested that, before any action be taken in the installation of an additional unit, the Council confer with representatives of Minn-Kota Power Company of Grand Forks, N. D. as to the terms under which they would supply standby service to the City. The President of the Council then called on each of the citizens present for an expression of their opinion as to the purchase of an additional generating unit or the purchase of standby power from outside sources, a majority of those present indicating that they favored purchase of the additional generating unit.

The matter of a proposed issuance of Improvement Bonds in the amount of $180,000 was ordered laid over due to the absence of other members of the Council.

Bids for designation as depositories of public funds of the City was then brought up for consideration, bidders being Union State and Northern State Banks of Thief River Falls. Alderman Honebrink introduced a resolution designating Union State and Northern State Banks of Thief River Falls as depositories of public funds of the City for the ensuing year, approving and accepting the surety for such deposits presented with their bids and moved adoption of such resolution. Alderman Berg seconded the motion. On the roll being called all members voted in favor thereof and the resolution was declared passed and adopted.

Alderman Berg then moved adjournment to March 1, 1955 at eight o'clock P. M. which motion was seconded by Honebrink, carried and the meeting was declared so adjourned.

OUR LAND

Prepared by the Minnesota Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with University Farm, St. Paul

Good Idea to Think About

Field-work time isn't far off and here's a really worthwhile suggestion from a University of Minnesota agronomist. A. R. Schmid says that if you're seeding brome grass by mixing it with oats and drilling it in, it's wise to cultipack ahead of the drill to prevent too deep a brome seeding—also set the drill fairly shallow. Cultipacking prevents the drill from sinking too deep and also gives a firm seedbed most desirable for starting young legume and grass stands. And, in buying a pasture mixture, buy a southern brome such as Lincoln, Achenbach or Fisher. They are winter-hardy and more productive than Canadian types. The southerners also develop more grass and thus help prevent bloat.

Here's How Silting Damages

A startling example of silting was discovered recently in a very level area of the South Wabasha County Soil Conservation District. Seems a bridge built some years ago had, some believed, been put in the wrong place. The water didn't run under the bridge, but over a road farther along. Instead of moving the bridge, the contractor dug out the old channel underneath and found good black dirt seven feet deep! Topsoil had been carried off those level fields and laid down in the creek bed. Proves we need erosion control on level areas, too.

How to Handle Surplus Hay

Lawrence O'Brien, a young Dodge County Soil Conservation District farmer, contour stripcrops a tough 80. In a good hay year, he usually has too much. By the time his second hay crop rolls around, he cuts his first-year hay. If he has enough, he plows under the second-year second crop for green manure. Thus he avoids harvesting expense. He also increases his corn yields 10 to 15 bushels per acre on land on this plan. That's one way of putting fertility back in the ground and eliminating a surplus problem.

* * *

Woodlot Shrinkage Preventable

Woodlot "shrinks" because there aren't enough young high-grade trees to produce well in a productive woodlot, also because grazing animals pack-trample the ground so hard moisture can't percolate through. Be careful in grazing animals—don't let them into a young shelterbelt, and a woodlot. It can be sure death to a young shelterbelt and mean far lower profits from a woodlot. This suggestion comes from Parker Anderson, Extension Forester at the University of Minnesota.

There's even more to Chevrolet styling than meets the eye!

This is beauty with a bonus . . . for Chevrolet styling is designed to add safety and comfort while you drive, and to return greater value when you trade.

Truly modern lines are shaped by usefulness. You can see what we mean in the deep crystal curve of Chevrolet's Sweep-Sight windshield . . . a dramatic style note, certainly, but one that stems from the need for wider, safer vision. Or take high-set taillights—they add to the impressive length of line . . . but they are up where they can be seen for safety's sake.

The smart louvers across the hood aren't just decoration . . . they mark the intake for the High-Level ventilation system for cleaner, fresher air. And the whole shape of the body—its lowness, the dipped belt line—is merely a reflection of a lowered center of gravity, the added stability.

This is truly functional styling that serves you better every mile, and preserves its value against the distant day when you trade. This is Body by Fisher—another Chevrolet exclusive in the low-price field. Come in and let us demonstrate that this new Chevrolet is just as exciting to drive as to look at!

Much Progress Made in Soil Conservation Work in North Area

Soil conservation work in Northern Minnesota showed substantial gains in 1954, according to H. G. Halverson, area conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service at its offices at Thief River Falls. "During 1954," Halverson said, "three new soil conservation districts completed organization and were staffed. These districts include Clearwater, Kittson and Koochiching. In addition, territory was added to existing districts in St. Louis, Beltrami and Norman counties."

Soil conservation districts, he explained, are legal subdivisions of the state organized by farmers under state laws and governed by a board of five farmer supervisors elected by the people within the district. Technical assistance is supplied by the Soil Conservation Service.

"Last year the service worked with 2251 farmers working toward a complete farm plan in Northern Minnesota," he explained. These farm plans are based on a soil inventory of the farm, and include such items as conservation crop rotation, pasture improvement, planting of shelterbelts and windbreaks, farm drainage, provisions to improve the farm for wildlife habitat and many other conservation practices.

"Specifically, Halverson reported, "there were 126,528 acres on which soil surveys were completed; 40,016 acres treated for wind erosion control; 13,271 acres of pasture land on which some improvement practices were completed; 140 acres planted to trees; 9 miles of field windbreaks planted to protect against wind erosion; 5,438 acres of wildlife area improved and 349 miles of drainage ditches constructed which improved 32,459 acres."

Halverson stated that Don Lawrence is the farm planner assisting the district in Pennington County; LaVerne Wagner at Red Lake and John McMartin at Grygla. Farmers with conservation problems are urged to discuss them with these men or apply for assistance to their county agent or district supervisors.

24 Die in Traffic During February

Month's Total for State Lowest in Past 3 Years

Minnesota motorists during February proved to themselves a fundamental truth traffic safety experts have been expounding for years—that traffic accidents and deaths can be avoided if there is adequate driving dangers by motorists.

That is the opinion of Earl M. Larimer, director of highway safety, as he viewed—with obvious approval—the drastic reduction in deaths resulting from February traffic accidents.

"The past month," he said, "included undoubtedly some of the most dangerous driving conditions we have encountered for a long time. But despite the prevalence of icy roads, traffic deaths were held to 24, or less than one a day instead of the almost two a day we have been experiencing. That mark was the lowest for any one month since March of 1952 and was 15 below the fatalities reported in February of last year when roads were generally in excellent winter condition."

Larimore went on to say that it must be obvious to every motorist that "dangerous roads make drivers safer," even though that might sound like double talk.

"It is undoubtedly true," he went on to say, "that there were fewer cars on the roads during the recent adverse driving conditions, but it is just as true that those motorists who did venture out on the streets and highways were driving with the greatest caution and alertness they could muster."

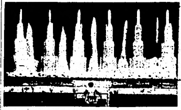
DANCING WATERS FEATURED AT BUILDERS SHOW



THE MOST UNUSUAL ENTERTAINMENT spectacle in the world — Dancing Waters — will be presented twice daily on stage at the Northwest Builders Show in the Minneapolis Auditorium March 12 through 20. A console (played like an organ) operates 18 motors, forcing tons of water through 4,000 jets to form the Dancing Waters. Multi-colored lights play over the lovely fountains. Nationally-known lecturers discussing world affairs topics and a "Queen of the Queens" contest also will be featured on stage during the 21st annual Builders Show. More than 400 displays of building supplies, home furnishings and outdoor equipment will be on display throughout the Auditorium.

Water Needed for Power Production at Garrison Dam

Second Generator at Dam Scheduled to Be Completed Late in '55

Construction of the first generator at Garrison dam is on schedule, but power probably will not be available to the Red river valley until a second unit is completed late this year, a reclamation bureau official said Thursday in Fargo.

Roscoe F. Williamson, chief of the bureau's power division at Bismarck, N. D., told members of the North Dakota electric power committee that the first generator should be completed next month.

But he said the unit will not generate power until late July or early August, adding that "lack of water is the big difficulty."

A third generator was originally scheduled for readiness in March 1956 but Williamson said is would be May 1956 before power will go to the Red river valley.

Williamson, power manager for the Missouri-Souris project, said a 100-foot depth of water on the upstream side of the dam is needed before power can be generated without complication.

The level Feb. 23 was 31 feet below the 100-foot depth, he said.

The bureau of reclamation and corps of engineers have a long-range plan for bringing the pool level to 145 feet. Most cities in the state have urged that level but opposition has developed in the Williston, N. D. area.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Uses His Head Saves His Feet

Nobody around here can remember when Pop Turner wasn't our town's postman. He must have been toting that big, heavy mail-sack since Pony Express days.

That's why it's sometimes a shock to see him these days pulling his mail bag around in a "caddy cart," a sort of light wagon that golfers use so they don't have to carry their clubs.

"Folks sometimes holler 'fore' at me and ask me how my game is," Pop reports, "but I'm not ashamed to learn something new. Just wish I'd thought about these golf gadgets years ago!"

From where I sit, it's good to see someone come up with a new wrinkle—keeps us from feeling too regimented. For instance, perhaps you've always felt that hot milk is the only thing to drink at bedtime. Then someday you meet a fellow who prefers a cold glass of beer. Well, that's his choice — and certainly he's entitled to it. We can't expect everyone to follow our old habits to the "letter."

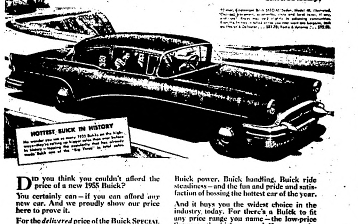
ALWAYS BETTER BUYS AT GAMBLES

You can swing this beauty for $2,376.88* delivered locally!



Did you think you couldn't afford the price of a new 1955 Buick?

You certainly can—if you can afford any new car. And we proudly show our price here to prove it.

For the delivered price of the Buick SPECIAL Sedan shown here is sharply competitive with those of the three best-known smaller cars—lower, in fact, than some models of those same cars.

Buick Sales Are Soaring

That's one big reason why Buick production and Buick sales are hitting all-time record highs today—and why Buick is outselling all other cars in America except two of the best-known smaller cars.

But an even bigger reason is this fact:

The price you pay for a Buick buys you a lot more automobile than the same money buys elsewhere.

It buys you big-car room and size and comfort and brawn. It buys you Buick styling, Buick power, Buick handling, Buick ride steadiness—and the fun and pride and satisfaction of bossing the hottest car of the year.

And it buys you the widest choice in the industry today. For there's a Buick to fit any price range you name—the low-price SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the extra-roomy SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER.

So why not come in and see how easy it is to swing the Buick beauty you've got your heart set on? Then you'll see why the thrill of the year is Buick in a lot more ways than one.

DID YOU KNOW—
—that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below any other car of 188 horsepower and 122-inch wheelbase?
—that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below some models of the three best-known smaller cars?
—that the Buick SPECIAL gives you more pounds of automobile than any other car at its low price?

Thrill of the year is Buick

BASKETBALL FEVER MOUNTS

25,000 rabid basketball fans are counting the days until Minnesota state tournament play gets under way March 24, while at least 10,000 more are pulling every visible wire to get tickets. Of which the turnover is small—most holders sit through, only a few partisans of eliminated teams pulling out before the finals. The regular season over, play throughout the state, says Art "Basketball" Johlfs, Minneapolis, one of the top statisticians and analysts of the game, is now pointed toward tournament and state championship. Five teams enter the final elimination series undefeated during the season: Austin, Cokato, New Richland, Kennedy, Walnut Grove; "presence of the four small schools is the surprise of the year," says Mr. Johlfs, "indicating the strong possibility of a darkhorse champion this year." Besides these five, favorites include Willmar, Minneapolis Washburn, Red Wing, Duluth Denfeld, Windom, Granite Falls, Bemidji, St. Louis Park, Glenwood, Benson, Breckenridge, Moorhead, Alexandria, Buhl, Chisholm, Virginia, Eveleth, Hopkins, Rochester, Winona, Wells, Mankato, Worthington.

Last on the list is Shakopee reformatory for women. Stillwater prison is midway. The last year reported the prison sold 4,000 agricultural implements and a little above 14 million pounds of twine, and produced more than $25,000 worth of printing. Thirteen of the 21 institutions engage in farming, at which in 1954 they produced a surplus of $269,018; Rochester hospital led, the prison was second, each at more than $50,000 net, with Willmar third at $33,000 net. Sandstone is now being considered as a site for inebriates to relieve the Willmar hospital and provide better service for the northwestern part of the state.

YOU AND YOUR FUTURE
No. 2 of a Series
A New World Coming!

What would this old world be like after total Atom Bomb warfare; or do you prefer not to wonder about it at all? The picture of the future is clear, however, much clearer than most people think.

We cannot be certain that The Bomb will destroy life on this earth. We do know that it is capable of doing so! But this much can be stated as a certainty: Life on this earth, as we knew it, will be completely wiped out!

Calamity howling? Not at all. On the contrary, it is supreme optimism! This seeming paradox is made clear by the remarkable promises of God that destruction of the chaotic life of this world is only preparatory to the creation of—what the Bible calls "new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness." II Peter 3:13.

So the future is bright indeed, even in view of these prophetic words: "Lo, the Eternal [God] soon shall lay the earth bare and wild, rendering it shapeless and scattering its inhabitants: . . . such is the sentence of the Eternal." And these words also: "I beheld, and, lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens were fled. I beheld, and, lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce anger."

More Than Chaos

These startling words are in the Bible. The first, Isaiah 24 (Moffatt); the second, Jeremiah 4. Bible prophecy has never, in a single instance, failed!

When can you expect the end of this world? Note that this cleansing is brought about "at the presence of the Lord." When Christ Himself returns to this earth!—as we read elsewhere also.

This is fundamental to an understanding of the future: the coming of Jesus Christ (to remove the righteous from this earth), and the desolation of the earth itself "at the presence of the Lord." It is revealed by Jesus Himself: Luke 17:26-30.

But even more fundamental to an understanding of the future is the fact of a re-creation of this world following a period of desolation! This may sound strange to modern ears, but it is gloriously certain.

Here, then, is a capsule portrayal of the next desolate world; and the "world after next"—new, re-created: "But the day of the Lord will come like a thief, on which the heavens will pass away with a rush and a roar, the elements be destroyed in the fierce heat, and the earth and all its works will vanish. . . . But in accordance with His promise we expect new heavens and a new earth, in which righteousness dwells." II Peter 3:10-13 (Weymouth).

New World Coming!

Tired of the perplexities of the world today? All of us ought to be expecting and preparing for a new and better world. It is the only outcome of affairs that makes any sense at all. It will be the only outcome!

"And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: . . . and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away. And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. . . ." Rev. 21:1-5.

And the best part of the story is that, if you choose, you can be there, in that new creation! (Next: How To Survive the End of the World.)

Income Tax Division of State Points out Those Who Must Pay

The 1954 Minnesota state income tax law provides that the following persons must file returns with the state of Minnesota, G. Howard Spaeth, state tax commissioner, announced.

1. An unmarried individual if his gross income exceeds $1,000.

2 A married individual if his gross income exceeds $2,000, provided, however, that if the aggregate gross income of both husband and wife exceeds $2,000, joint or separate returns must be filed. Regardless of whether joint or separate returns are filed, the entire gross income of both husband and wife must be accounted for.

The 1954 law allows an optional tax table to be used for adjusted gross incomes up to $10,000, which allows approximately 10% of adjusted gross income for contributions, interest, medical expense, and other non-business deductions.

The deadline for filing 1954, individual, fiduciary and partnership income tax returns has been extended from March 15th to April 15. 1954 corporation income tax returns must, however, be filed by March 15.

Forms are available at offices of county auditors and all state and national banks. They may also be obtained by writing to the State Income Tax Division, Room 213 State Office Building, St. Paul, Minnesota.

The 1954 state income tax law provides that every employer in this state must file a "Return of Information" to the state department of taxation giving the name and address of every person to whom that employer has paid salaries, wages, fees, and commissions of more than $600.00 during the year.

The term "employer" includes not only those who are required to file State income tax returns, but also:

1. Organizations which are exempt from taxation as farmers cooperative organizations, cooperative or mutual rural telephone associations, electric cooperative organizations, mutual insurance companies, etc.

2. Organizations operating churches, and religious groups of all kinds if they pay salaries or wages of more than $600.00 to their janitors, secretaries, clerks, clergymen, etc.

3. The state itself and every county, city, village, borough, township and school district.

DFL Legislative Parley Mar. 11-12

Conference to Be Held at the St. Paul Hotel

Final plans are now completed for the DFL statewide legislative conference to be held in St. Paul at the St. Paul Hotel on March 11 and 12.

The highlight of the conference will be the address by Governor Orville Freeman on Saturday afternoon. Governor Freeman will speak on his tax program and the many problems connected with trying to raise the necessary revenue to maintain the basic state services. This will be one of his first major addresses given since taking office on January 5th.

Other speakers at the conference in addition to the governor include the following people and the topics they will be talking on: Arthur Naftalin, commissioner of administration, "Reorganization of the State Government and Constitutional Revision"; Rep. Eugene Knudsen and Senator Roy Wiseth, "Farm Legislation"; Rev. Joseph Karth, "Labor Legislation"; Dr. George Selke, Governor Freeman's executive secretary, "Education Legislation"; and Rep. Sally Luther, "Welfare Legislation."

Presiding at the three sessions of the conference will be Representative Karl Grittner, Senator Raphael Salmore and Senator Harold Schultz.

Vacation Almanac Being Issued to State Motorists

A Minnesota Vacation Almanac calculated to attract tourists 'round the calendar has just been released by the state of Minnesota. This promotional piece is in easy-to-read modern print but retains an almanac flavor in its emphasis on detailed information and a number of "wood cut" illustrations.

It comes in glove compartment size for the motor tourist's quick reference. In addition to highlighting the many recreational activities for which this Land of 10,000 Lakes is famed, the almanac presents material on Minnesota history, scenic routes, places of interest, special events, climate, business facts and city life.

A copy of the attractive booklet can be obtained by writing the Division of Promotion, Department of Business Development, State Capitol, St. Paul 1, Minnesota.

N. W. Bell Co. Reports No Wire Tapping in State

In the past several days there have been reports in the newspapers of wire-tapping of telephone conversations in New York City. Commenting on these reports, Carl A. Landemoen, vice president and general manager of the N. W. Bell Telephone company for Minnesota, stated:

"I want to make it clear for the information of telephone users that the telephone company is very strongly opposed to wire tapping, and every possible precaution is taken to guard against it. I do not know of any instances of wire tpping in Minnesota."

"This company has nothing to sell but telephone service, and we realize that an important part of its value is an assurance that it will be kept confidential in nature. Our plants and equipment are designed, built, maintained and operated with the objective of taking every reasonable step to assure the secrecy of service," he declared.

Mr. Landemoen added that every new employe is informed of the legal, moral and policy reasons for maintaining secrecy, and is advised that failure to do so is grounds for and will result in dismissal.

"I wish to reiterate that we will continue to do everything possible to safeguard the privacy of telephone services," Mr. Landemoen stated.

47,000 State Youth Noting 4-H Club Week

More than 47,000 young people in Minnesota are observing National 4-H Club Week March 5-13 with open house meetings, special programs and exhibits.

Programs and exhibits will carry out the theme of the week, "Improving family and community living."

Climax of the observance will be the state 4-H radio speaking contest on Saturday, March 12. Seventeen district winners will take part in the finals Saturday morning on the University of Minnesota's St. Paul campus. Winner of the state radio speaking title will be announced following broadcast of the speeches of the two highest-scoring contestants over WCCO between 2:30 and 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

A banquet for 4-H members participating in the state contest will be given Saturday evening in the Nicollet hotel, Minneapolis, by the Minnesota Jewish council, co-sponsor of the contest with the University of Minnesota agricultural extension service.

More than 800 4-H members in Minnesota have taken part in this year's radio-speaking contest, writing their own speeches on "What Are My Opportunities and Responsibilities Under Freedom?"

According to Leonard Harkness, state 4-H club leader at the University of Minnesota, 4-H members in Minnesota have an impressive list of achievements to show what they have done in carrying out their theme, "Improving home and community living."

By applying the best scientific methods learned in their home economics and agricultural projects, they are doing much to make farming and homemaking more efficient and life on the farm more pleasant.

Four-H sons and daughters have made thousands of home yards more attractive by planting trees, flowers and lawns. They have also given farm homes a pleasant "new look" by wielding paint brushes, making new curtains and refinishing old furniture.

Through such activities as health, safety and fire prevention, some 35,000 members have assisted with community health programs and helped make homes and communities safer by conducting safety surveys and campaigns.

Airline Hopes to Boost Traffic by Excursion Fares

Special Low Rates Will Continue Thru May 31st, Says North Central Man

North Central Airlines hopes its new reduced-rate "excursion" fare now in effect at Brainerd, Bemidji and Thief River Falls will boost passenger traffic to the Twin Cities at least 30 per cent, reports John L. Hammer, traffic and sales manager in northern Minnesota.

The lower fare, which features half off on the return portion of a round-trip flight to the Twin Cities, is designed to encourage more people to go by air and prove to the Civil Aeronautics Board the need for permanent airline service over the route.

The excursion fare will apply on any round-trip flight to the Twin Cities completed within any three consecutive days in addition to date of departure. For example, a passenger can take advantage of the reduced rate if he leaves here on, say, a Friday and returns on Saturday, Sunday or Monday. Reductions are $3.96 from Brainerd, $6.88 from Bemidji and $8.80 from Thief River Falls.

Chester L. Wilson Resigns as Chief of Conservation

Chester Wilson, state conservation commissioner since 1943, resigned last week, effective March 15.

Wilson's term expired officially March 1. Some other state officials whose terms have expired are staying until their successors are appointed.

Wilson said he had expected to have his department business cleaned up within the next few weeks and then planned to "look into other opportunities that have been offered me for further services in the conservation field."

Charles Stickney, now serving as Gov. Freeman's conservation advisor, has been mentioned as a possible successor. He is a former state Production and Marketing Administration chairman.

This is our foundation mating, pure Ghostley strain, hardy Northern grown. Big, rugged, heavy winter layers and thoroughly acclimated.

They are strain crossed for greater vitality, better livability, higher egg production and the ability to stand up under extremely high egg production for longer periods. They make excellent broilers, fryers, roasters or capons.

Our Hamp Whites combine the wonderful egg laying qualities of our big Ghostley Leghorns and the famous Stone Brothers strain of high producing New Hampshires. Like most crossbreds the offspring is usually superior to the parent stock in some respects. Our Hamp Whites are especially heavy layers of large, cream colored eggs and the cockerels make excellent broilers, fryers and roasters.

A HOME OF THEIR OWN

From the time they were married Marion and Jim aspired to own their own home, but Jim was a struggling young postal clerk and Marion gave up her job when the babies started to arrive. During the years they clung to their dream even when it seemed an impossibility. They moved from apartment to duplex to rented house and always the unused house plans moved with them.

Marion and Jim were not bitter, for while their material dreams were postponed, others were realized. They raised three bouncing girls and one boy to maturity with a serenity not all parents know. Theirs was a church-going family and their youngsters took to the good way of life like ducks take to water. There were the customary childrens' diseases but no casualties on the spiritual front.

Now Jim and Marion are established in that long awaited home of their own. The children are grown and gone, but they do not feel that fulfillment has come too late. In calm assurance of a job well done they take delight in their reward—a happy, contented life of accomplishment.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

CELEBRATION FEATURES

Many Minnesota communities are making ready for a summer of celebrations.

For some villages and cities the current year represents a century of life. Glencoe, Hutchinson, Wyoming and Spring Valley will celebrate the first hundred years of their history.

Many other communities will celebrate in various ways which exemplify their resources and activities. Barnesville will have its national potato picking contest and Cokato will honor corn. Detroit Lakes, as would be expected, will pay tribute to its waters. Edgerton will have its Dutch day and Henderson will feature sauer kraut. Hopkins will honor the raspberry and Kellogg will make merry with watermelons.

Montgomery will have its Kolacky day, New Brighton a squash show and Owatonna will pay tribute to the gentle cow. Of course, Pine Island will stress its cheese and Slayton will bring to life the days of '87.

Up in the iron country, Tower will honor those who first dug ore and Two Harbors will stress the business of transportation and ore docks. Willmar will continue its Kaffe Fest and seek some new records in coffee consumption. Winona, as might well be expected, will take the theme of its celebration from the river and its early steamboats.

RED RIVER HARDSHIPS

No group of people who made early settlement in Minnesota suffered more hardship than did those who came to the Red River of the North.

These people came in a very early day before there was any real settlement in areas much more kindly and accessible.

They traveled hard and far to such a rough new land. Some of them crossed the ocean. Some came to their new homes by way of the wild Great Lakes and others by way of Hudson's Bay.

The nearest base of supplies was 600 miles distant.

In the earliest years the only implement to break the tough sod was the hoe.

Grasshoppers took their first grain crops and they had no seed.

In 1828 the grain yield was good but rats ate most of it for there were no cats in the colony.

All their cattle were killed and carried off in early disturbances and new herds had to be started from cattle driven in from the far Mississippi.

The winter of 1825 was the longest and coldest in the memory of men.

The next spring deep snow melted into high waters. The floor of a church built on the highest land was covered with five feet of water. Fish were dispersed. The buffalo near Pembina were driven to distant higher lands and people starved to death.

Some survived, living as did the Indians. Many went to the Mississippi where their descendants may be found to this day.

ITASCA STATE PARK

While the number of annual visitors in Minnesota's state parks are now numbered at about two millions, there were no parks in the state some sixty years ago.

One of the great interests of the early days in Minnesota was the Mississippi river and the source of this great Father of Waters. So much was written about it for days of little writing.

It was natural that the area near the source of this great river should be suggested as a state park. Such a plan was proposed by Joseph Wheelock in the St. Paul Pioneer Press in 1890. This was brought to the attention of the Minnesota Historical Society in a letter from Emil Geist. The suggestion was enthusiastically supported by H. N. Winchell, state geologist.

A committee within the Society was formed to secure essential legislative approval. This work was entrusted to John B. Sanborn, then serving as a state senator. An area of 35 square miles was designated as a park, "forever dedicated to the public." It was necessary to get a grant of the land from the federal government. That was obtained through the effort of one of Minnesota's congressmen, J. N. Castle.

In the earliest days of the park its management was entrusted to the Historical Society and the laws provided that the commissioner of the Society was to act as the commissioner for the management of the park.

Churches Join in Drive to Support Overseas Relief

An especially written prayer for the victims of war, destitution and disaster throughout the world will be read in thousands of Protestant churches all over America on Sunday, March 20, at services in connection with the 1955 "One Great Hour of Sharing" United Appeal for overseas relief and reconstruction.

The prayer was prepared by R. Norris Wilson, executive director of Church World Service, a central department of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.

More than $9,500,000 is being sought in 1955 for the programs supported by the seventh annual "One Great Hour of Sharing" United Appeal of the churches cooperating through Church World Service.

Dairy Advertising Program Praised

Business Leader Speaks at Minneapolis Forum

Emphasize the opportunities rather than the problems now facing agriculture, hundreds of farmers and city dwellers were told at the opening session of the annual Farm Forum in Minneapolis, March 3.

S. P. Duffy, president of Our Own Hardware Co. and general chairman of the two-day gathering, called for forum to stress the "positive side" of farming.

The hardware executive told the group, meeting under the sponsorship of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, that "business and industry can well take a cue from some of the activities of farmers today."

He cited farmer groups that are turning "their problems into opportunities." Organizations of citrus growers, apple producers, and—closer home—dairy farmers have launched sales promotional campaigns that are helping overcome their problems, Duffy said.

"The dairy farmer", he added, "especially, has been the target of much criticism. Mounting surpluses have been a source of worry to him as well as to the rest of the taxpayers."

But dairymen have "made an opportunity out of this problem," and financed their own "nationwide advertising and promotional campaign, and it's working—consumption of dairy foods is going up," Duffy said.

"Perhaps we ought to apply this same idea of self-help to other segments of business and industry—and agriculture."

Architect Is Hired to Draw School Plans

Minneapolis Firm Will Design Vocational and Grade School Buildings

Hubert H. Swanson, Minneapolis architect, was engaged by the Thief River Falls board of education Monday evening to prepare preliminary plans for projected local school building construction, including an area vocational school and a new grade school to replace the present Washington building.

Mr. Swanson has designed many school buildings thruout the state, and is currently carrying out a large project at Brainerd.

The board approved a polio vaccination program for pupils of the local schools, subject to approval of the state board of health and of the parents of the children concerned. The program calls for administration of the widely heralded Salk vaccine, probably early in April.

The board also studied a proposal for a higher scale of teachers salaries submitted recently by a faculty committee, following which final action on changes in the present scale was deferred to an adjourned session Monday evening, March 21.

Also discussed was the matter of an area meeting in this city to discuss school district reorganization in the area served by the local high school.

A date for the meeting has not been set definitely, pending word as to whether members of the team that recently made a survey of the district will be able to be present.

The board voted to apply for continuation of the teacher training department during the 1955-56 school year. Miss Emma Figart, school librarian, submitted her resignation effective at the close of the current school term.

S. Elks lodges, are shown above with R. J. Dryden, chairman of the local lodge's youth activities committee.

The two students are entered in competition for a state award of $400 and national scholarships totaling $14,000 for girls and a like figure for boys, with $1,000 awards as the top prizes. The awards are based on high scholarship and need.

Constance is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. W. W. Walters, and Dale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gust T. Craft of Plummer.

N.W. Hospital Adopts New Salary Schedule, Personnel Policies

In Show April 1

DICK WESTON

Comedy ventriloquist, who will entertain the audience at the free show to be presented in connection with the style revue in the municipal auditorium Friday evening, April 1. The occasion will mark the inauguration of Friday night store openings in Thief River Falls for the coming season.

At its monthly meeting Monday evening the board of trustees of Northwestern Hospital adopted a new salary schedule and personnel policies for the nursing staff to become effective June 1. The nursing staff is to be placed on a forty-hour week on the same date by previous action of the board.

The salary schedule and personnel policies now adopted are a further development of the aim of the board of trustees to bring these matters in line with similar arrangements in comparable hospitals in this area.

The new salary schedule applies to all nursing personnel below the classification of supervisor. It provides for a basic beginning salary and allows for stated salary increases upon the completion of six months, twelve months, eighteen months, twenty four months, three years and five years of service to the hospital.

The new policies provide for a two weeks' annual vacation with pay for all nursing personnel following one year of continuous service. Registered nurses who have been employed for two years or more are granted a three-weeks annual vacation with pay. Sick leave may be accrued up to 24 days at the rate of one day per month.

Copies of the complete personnel policies and salary schedule may be obtained by writing the Director of Nurses, Northwestern Hospital.

A main purpose of the adoption of the forty-hour week and revisions in salary schedules and policies is to place the hospital in a better position in its effort to obtain the services of professional nurses.

The board of trustees is making every effort to afford the best possible patient care, and has recognized the strong competition that exists among all hospitals for the services of professional people in the nursing service.

Gov. Freeman Asks Increase in State Taxes

Revenue Proposals Would Add About $16 Million to Various Tax Levies

Gov. Freeman's omnibus revenue producing measure, spreading approximately 16 million dollars in tax increases, was introduced in both houses of the legislature Thursday.

With the exception of the property tax, the proposal levies higher taxes on every possible major tax supporting the general revenue.

Emphasizing that the property tax has carried the brunt of the tax increases over the past years, with almost a 50 per cent property tax increase by the 1953 legislature, Gov. Freeman declared:

"In view of this, we refuse to burden property with further increases."

In a news conference attended by House and Senate authors of the 27-page bill, Gov. Freeman stressed that the administration has presented a "hold the line" budget, but that new revenue is needed to meet the present cost of government "because the prior administration was spending accumulated surpluses."

A bill increasing state fees, aimed at producing an additional three million dollars, already has been introduced.

Chief author in the House is Rep. E. J. Chilgren of Littlefork, chairman of the House Tax committee.

Minority leader Harold Schultz of St. Paul is chief author of the Senate bill, with Sens. Rafael Salmore of Stillwater and Donald Fraser of Minneapolis as co-authors.

The revenue bill, if approved by the legislature, would yield the following additional taxes for the general revenue fund:

Occupation and royalty tax increases on iron ore from 11 to 15 per cent, eight million dollars.

Increase in beer tax, from the present $1 to $1.50 on 3.2 beer, and from the present $2 to $2.75 per barrel on strong beer, $2,100,000.

A 20 per cent tax on tobacco products. This does not include cigarettes, two million dollars.

Increase to 7 per cent telephone gross earnings taxes for telephone companies servicing subscribers not residing in cities over 10,000, $1,500,000.

Revision of rates in gift and inheritance taxes $1,000,000.

Extension of 2 per cent tax on gross premiums paid for insurance policies for annuities.

Modification of labor credit in computing iron ore occupation tax, $750,000.

Art Stenberg Is Renamed to L.O'L. Creameries Board

All Officers of Huge Cooperative Also Were Reelected Last Friday

Officers of Land O'Lakes Creameries, headed by President M. H. Mauritson of Shelly, all were reelected Friday in the closing session of the annual meeting in Minneapolis.

Members of Land O'Lakes approved a resolution opposing the state milk control bill now before the Minnesota legislature.

The act would regulate production, transportation, disposal, manufacture, processing, storage and distribution of milk and milk products. The resolution said the bill is "against the best interests of our state's dairy industry."

Among other resolutions approved at closing session were:

Commendation of action to focus attention on inadequacies of the federal milk marketing order program.

Support for the proposed dairy science building at University of Minnesota.

A request for legislation standardizing requirements for trucks consistent with other states.

A recommendation for continued controls over imports of dairy products.

Protection of dairymen from such factors as diverted acres which may arise from other government programs.

District Supervisor Explains Emergency FHA Loans to Farmers

Gordon F. Klenk, state director of the Farmers Home Administration for Minnesota, announces the designation of 12 counties in Minnesota as a special emergency area through a declaration of the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to Public Law 727, 83rd Congress.

The designation includes the counties of Pennington and Red Lake, under the supervisory direction of Joel P. Rosengren of Thief River Falls.

County Supervisor Rosengren states that applications will be accepted at the following places: FHA Office, Lieberman Bldg., Thief River Falls, on Monday through Friday every week; courthouse, Red Lake Falls, on Monday March 21 and March 28; Security State Bank, Oklee, every Friday.

The purpose of these loans is to aid in financing production costs for the 1955 crops, including seed, fuel, fertilizer, spray materials and machinery maintenance.

Any established farmer, whether an owner or tenant, engaged primarily in farming in an emergency area, is eligible for consideration for a special emergency loan providing he is unable to obtain from commercial banks, co-operative lending agencies or responsible sources, the credit needed to continue his normal farming operations.

All interested farmers who are in need of this type of credit are advised to place an application with the county supervisor at an early date so as to assure that all loans may be processed in ample time for the 1955 planting season.

To facilitate early loan closing, it is asked that each prospective applicant be accompanied by his wife when making application and to have in his possession a chattel abstract continued to recent date.

C. of C. Will Meet at Noon Thursday

Luhman announced, adding that Dr. O. D. Beich and Wallace Tunberg will report on the progress of the current membership campaign.

Residents of the Thief River Falls area are invited to attend. There will be no admission but the choir follows its tradition of receiving free will offerings to help defray travel expenses.

Council Moves Along on Plan to Buy Engine

Gets Resignation from Bob Bell as Alderman; No Successor Named

The city council at a lengthy March meeting Tuesday evening took a step in the direction of buying a new Diesel unit for the municipal power plant when it engaged the services of Douglas Stewart consulting engineer, to prepare plans and specifications for the new unit and base, preliminary to issuing a call for bids.

Stewart told the council that about a month's time would be required to complete the plans.

Alderman Robert Bell of the second ward, who recently left for the West Coast, submitted a written resignation from his seat on the council after having served since January, 1954.

Action to fill the vacancy was deferred after a test vote showed two votes for Harry R. Lund, former alderman, and two for Ward Nichols, local theatre manager. Alderman Bob Carlson was absent from the session.

In an effort to eliminate the painting problem on the exterior of the sewage treatment plant, the council called for bids on applying corrugated aluminum siding, the bids to be opened at the next regular session April 19.

The council approved the application of John W. Blakey for a permit to construct a new motel at an estimated cost of $25,000 on Highway 59, about 400 feet south of the present T59 Motel.

First readings were given proposed ordinances designed to curb the dog nuisance in the city and regulating the sale of milk. The dog ordinance requires that dogs be restrained from running at large between April 15 and September 15, and provides for appointment of an officer to pick up and impound dogs who are not confined.

The proposed milk ordinance, designed to encourage the production and sale of Grade A milk, is based on a model ordinance drafted by the U. S. Public Health Service, and is almost identical with one that recently was put into effect in Bemidji.

The council confirmed the appointment by Mayor Agnes Israelson of Carl B. Larson as a member of the cemetery commission for a three-year term.

Also approved was the transfer of the 3.2 beer license at 208 Main av. N. from Ole Yatesund to Gladys Webskowski.

The mayor suggested that the council ask for the introduction of a bill in the state legislature providing for a ceiling on aldermanic salaries of $100 a month, as compared to the present limit of $50. Council members are now being paid $40 a month, and Mrs. Israelson called attention to their steadily increasing work load. No action was taken on the proposal.

A Review

Final Concert Number Well Received by Local Audience

By Miss Ruth Thren

The Knickerbockers, a vocal quartet consisting of Lorraine Donahue, soprano; Ruth Pitts, alto; Adam Petroski, tenor; and Richard Brode, baritone, presented an interesting program on Friday, March 11th, in the Lincoln high auditorium. The selections were well suited to the group's abilities as a whole. Individually speaking their vocal capabilities varied considerably, but as a suffused unit produced a blend pleasant to the ear.

The program opened with "Modern Music" by William Billings, an early American composer. Clever examples of the various styles of writing which Billings liked and used were interpreted very effectively by the quartet.

"Londonderry Air" arranged by Donald Smith was delightful listening in four-part harmony. Other numbers sung which were also arranged by Smith were "Extase" by du Parc, "Si Mes Vers Avaient des Ailes" by Hahn, "Les Gars Qui Vont a la Fete" by Poulenc, "The Wayfaring Stranger" and "Knickerbocker Fantasy," a composite of songs drawn from the music of some of our renowned Broadway composers.

"Extase" was portrayed beautifully in its solemnity by the quartet. The unusual treatment by the arranger of "The Wayfaring Stranger" did not express the mournful quality of the traditional number as well as it might have. No doubt the quartet as an entity lacked the interpretive and collective understanding of this particular arrangement necessary to bring out its true merits.

Several aforementioned French numbers were done creditably in regards to French diction. (Opinion of one who knows more of the French language than I). The uniform pronunciation by the four members of the French words was carried out very nicely.

Mozart's "Serenade" sung by Miss Donahue Miss Pitts, and Mr. Brode and "The Kerchief" by Miss Donahue, Mr. Petroski, and Mr. Brode were very enjoyable. The two lighter works of Mozart's were greatly enhanced by the use of various stage positions which added to the effectiveness of these as well as most of the other numbers.

Singularly speaking, Ruth Pitts, alto, did a remarkably pleasant rendition of "Chacun a son gout" (Each one to his own taste) from "Die Fledermaus" (The Bat) by Johann Strauss. Notable also was Richard Brode's solo "Soliloquy" (from Carousel), by Richard Rogers. An unusual but interesting presentation of the soprano aria "Monica's Waltz" (from the Medium) by Gian Carlo Menotti was sung by Lorraine Donahue.

The familiar numbers "Camptown Races" by Stephen Foster and "Polly-Wolly-Doodle All the Day" arranged by Gail Kubik, and "Dry Bones" were cleverly sung and staged. Donald Christmas at the piano added greatly to the total effectiveness of many of the selections, especially the latter.

Two encores concluded the final concert to be presented this season in Thief River Falls under the tour direction of the University of Minnesota's concert, theatre and lecture service.

Patricia Enright Dies in E. G. Forks

Had Been in Coma after Injury Three Years Ago

The long ordeal is over for pretty little Mary Patricia Enright of East Grand Forks.

The 13-year-old farm girl—who lived in a coma for a year and who was paralyzed for three years after being hit by a truck—died Sunday.

She died two hours after her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Enright, brought her from their home three miles east of East Grand Forks to the hospital for treatment of coughing attacks.

Mary Pat was struck by a truck March 4, 1952, while walking home. She went into a deep coma and for a year she lay wide-eyed and doing little more than breathing.

Two years ago she improved enough to swallow food, listen to music and form a smile. Within the past year, she improved enough to say a few words, laugh again and understand radio programs and stories read to her.

Her parents spent more than $20,000 for medical care during the three years and neighbors raised more than $11,000 to help.

There are two other children in the family, Donald, 16, and Barbara, 17.

Nearly 40 People Attend Hearing on Co. Ditch 35

Nearly 40 interested parties attended a preliminary hearing held by the county board Monday at the temporary court house in this city on the matter of improvements to County Ditch 35, lying largely in Smiley and Silverton townships. Members of the group voiced conflicting opinions, and the matter was referred back to Joseph Seidel, project engineer, for additional data on Outlet A with a view to relocating it farther west.

Four Boys Disrupt Church Services

Threw Snowballs into Meeting at St. John's

What seems to be a new type of vandalism was perpetrated at St. John's Lutheran church during its mid-week Lenten service last Wednesday evening, according to the Rev. W. P. Clausen, pastor.

Four boys, ages unknown because of the semi-darkness in which they operated, first caused a minor disturbance on the front steps of the church when Roland Mammengo, usher at St. John's, went out and told the boys to leave inasmuch as a church service was in progress.

The boys then went to the side entrance of the church, putting out the yard light. Two large snowballs then skirted the altar to crash against the door which leads into the vestry. At this particular time Pastor Clausen was in the pulpit delivering his Lenten message to an overflow congregation.

One snowball was seen to come through a rear window open for ventilation while another came from a direction which seemed to indicate that one of the boys had entered by the side entrance to take several steps up the stairway which leads to the chancel. The boys hurriedly ran off so that positive identification was impossible, although the two ushers who gave chase have strong suspicions.

Pastor Clausen stated that a ten dollar reward is being offered for information leading to positive identification of the boys.

Cpl. Bruce Bakke Sees World Hockey Event

Cpl. Bruce Bakke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bakke of this city, is stationed in Germany and he was an interested spectator at the world's hockey tournament that was played at Dortmund, Dusseldorf, and Krefeld. Bruce, in a letter to his folks here, stated that he was on leave when the tournament games began, and that, after renewing acquaintances with Dan McKinnon of Williams and Gordon Christian of Warroad, who were members of the United States team, "he practically lived with the American team. I ate my meals with them, traveled to the games on the official team bus, and got in to the games free with the players."

Bakke adds that the first game he saw was the United States vs. Canada tilt and he said; "Canada won that one, 12 to 1, you know. The game started out pretty well. In the first couple of minutes the U. S. team spent most of the time in the Canadian zone, but the Canucks were just too good for the U. S. The Canadians were a real bunch of professionals, and after the first period the States team lost heart. I doubt if the Canadians could beat them by eleven goals again."

With regard to the U. S. vs. Russia game, Bruce stated that "the Russians were clearly the better team in winning by a 3 to 0 score, but the scrappy U. S. team couldn't be scored upon until they had two men off the ice with penalties. Then the Reds scored twice, and they got a third goal in the second period when goalie Don Rigazio was screened on a close-in play.

"The Russians were the fastest team in the tournament, but they used this advantage only when back-checking. They completely bottled up the U. S. attack by their speedy back-checking. When going forward, the Player with the puck would circle just on his own side of the red-line (where he couldn't be checked) until his teamates were even with him and then they would go forward, three or four men abreast. The Russians were a smart passing team and played completely different than anything the U. S. team had ever faced before. If the two teams were to play again the result would perhaps be reversed."

Cpl. Bakke was in attendance when the U. S. and the Czechs played to a 4 to 4 tie, and when the U. S. team trounced the Polish team, 10 to 0. In a resume of the tournament, Bakke stated that, except for such players as McKinnon, Christian, Rube Bjorkman of Roseau, Dick Dougherty of International Falls, and goalie Rigazio "I was quite disappointed with the team that represented the U. S. in the tournament. They were great guys and a Swedish sports writer told me that they were the best behaved team he'd ever seen the Americans sent abroad.

"But they weren't particulary good hockey players. Many of them were servicemen who had played no hockey at all this season until the tryouts were held in the States. A couple of the boys had just left the service and hadn't even skated for two years.

"Any team in the Northwest Hockey league back home could have beaten this team, and I'm sure that an All-Star team from that league would have been selected from eligible Americans and finished either first or second in the tourney, and given Canada a good fight for the championship. Next year, with Minnesota's John Mariucci as coach, and with such players as John Mayasich eligible, I'm quite sure that the results will be better."

On a humorous note Bakke added "About the best bunch of guys as a whole were the Yugoslavians. They were entered in the 'B' tournament as they were not rated as good enough to compete in the 'A' division against Canada, Russia, United States, Sweden, and several others. They were extremely friendly and cheerful. The equipment they had was pathetic, and the American players would give the boys some sticks, helmets and such. One of their guys had had his skull cracked in seven pieces with a big gap right in the center of his forehead. He would go around asking everyone he meets to take their finger and press his head to feel where the bone is missing. One of our defensemen gave the fellow a helmet."

Glenn Prickett Coming

You will probably see elsewhere in the paper that Glenn Prickett, Extension Specialist in Safety, is coming to Pennington County March 18. Mr. Prickett will conduct a Safety meeting in the Civic & Commerce room at 8:00 on Friday evening. This meeting will be of special interest to 4-H club members and leaders as Mr. Prickett will have some good ideas on how to make the 4-H Safety Activity more inclusive.

Certified Seed Program

There seems to be some confusion about the certification of seed with the farmers in Pennington county. Many feel that there is something magic about growing certified seed, and that it's hard to get started in the program. This and many other questions will be answered on Friday afternoon at the Civic & Commerce rooms, because all interested farmers are invited to attend this meeting. We will meet at 1:30 on Friday, March 18. Bob Lambert, Representative of the Minnesota Crop Improvement Association, will be on the program, as well as movies and a panel discussion. Oh yes, another thing — Free Lunch! See you there.

Brood Sow Care and Feeding

Nine pigs per sow were raised by Minnesota Swine Honor Roll farmers in recent years. That's three and a half pigs per sow more than the average farmer raises successfully. How do honor roll farmers raise more pigs per sow?

A University of Minnesota Folder, No. 90, "Care and Feeding of Brood Sows," has many of the answers. H. G. Zavoral, livestock specialist who wrote it, gives many practical pointers on how to produce big litters of healthy piglets.

Zavoral says proper sow feeding during her gestation helps assure larger size and better vigor at farrowing time. And the bigger the pigs at birth, the bigger they are at weaning and the sooner they reach marketable age.

A thrifty sow, not overly fat, should go on a good ration two or three weeks before she is bred. She should be gaining weight, says Zavoral. This means she'll "start" larger litters and have more chance of carrying more pigs through to live birth.

It's a good idea to record the date each sow is bred. This will help you estimate her farrowing time.

When she's carrying pigs, the sow should have plenty of good feed. Quality is important, Zavoral emphasizes. Feeding a variety of good rations is better than the same old stuff day after day—even a good ration can become boring and there's danger of that one ration being short of some small but important feeding factor.

In the booklet, Zavoral lists the exact ingredients for several different high quality rations. He also gives a ration for after farrowing.

If you think you may have been missing out on possible higher litters and healthier pigs, pick up a copy of this bulletin at the Extension Office or write for one at the Bulletin Room, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1.

We have at the extension office, a number of quantity recipes—serving 50 and 100 people. If you are on a committee for a church supper and need new ideas for meals you are most welcome to look over these recipes. Many of them are in recipe books printed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the school lunch program, and they include many one-dish recipes so popular at church suppers. You will find them helpful, I am sure.

* * *

Here is a recipe—not in quantity—for you to try this week. It's a Lenten hot dish, and the recipe comes from Mrs. Donavon Narverud of Thief River Falls. Besides very tasty, it is rich in body-building protein contained in the milk, tuna and nuts. Here is Mrs. Narverud's recipe for almond-tuna casserole.

1 10½-oz. can cream of mushroom soup
¼ cup milk
1 6-oz. can tuna
½ cup toasted almonds, chopped or diced
2 cups cooked rice
½ teaspoon salt
whole almonds

Heat the soup with milk, flake tuna, mix with diced almonds, rice and salt. Turn into casserole and garnish with whole almonds. Bake 25 minutes at 350 degrees. Serves 6. Mrs. Narverud suggests that you serve the hot dish with a tossed green salad and lemon sherbet. Sounds good doesn't it?

* * *

If you mothers are concerned about the meager breakfasts your young school children eat, you may be interested in a new trend which may help to solve this problem.

The trend is to make the hearty breakfast dish a nourishing milk soup.

Many children like soup, and since it is hot and tasty, it has a pick-up value far beyond its actual content. This news comes from Ina Rowe, extension nutritionist at the University of Minnesota. A hot soup is filling and satisfying and "stays with" the youngsters better than the same ingredients would in cold form.

However, a hot soup does not take the place of a breakfast fruit. If the children will accept hot cereal and milk or toast with ham or bacon and eggs, in addition to fruit, there would be probably no nutritional advantage in changing to soup. But many children will not take time to eat these breakfasts, yet would accept a bowl of soup. It is for the non-breakfast eaters particularly that soup might be a worthy addition.

As an appetizing soup Miss Rowe suggests cream of potato, made with potatoes, some other seasoning vegetable such as onions, celery or carrots, plus plenty of milk. For variety this soup may be seasoned with bacon cut into small bits and cooked until crisp. This type of soup can be made in large quantities and kept in the refrigerator for a day or two, reheating as much as is required for breakfast. It is a time saver for both you and members of your family, since it can be put on the table in very short order and eaten quickly.

Why not try Miss Rowe's suggestion?

Social Security Man Here Tuesday

Booklet Explaining Law's Effects on Farmers Mailed

A representative of the Grand Forks Social Security Office will be at the City Auditorium in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, March 22, at 10:00 a. m. Individuals having any question regarding the Social Security Act are urged to call on him at that time.

Almost everyone who gets his mail on a rural or star route should have received, during February, a small booklet on social security for farm families, the internal revenue service and the Social Security Administration announced today.

A special feature of the booklet is an application form which employers of farm workers may send to District Directors of Internal Revenue in order to obtain further instructions, the tax return forms, and an employer's identification number.

Those farmers who do not receive a copy of this booklet through this mailing may obtain one from the district director of internal revenue or the nearest social security district office.

Farmers Needing Canadian Durum Seed Urged to Act

Congresswoman Coya Knutson today urged all farmers who need durum seed from Canada for idle acres in addition to their wheat acreage allotment, to immediately send a request and information to the Department of Agriculture. Before durum seed is allowed to come across the Canadian border, the farmer must jot down and send to the Director, Foreign Trade Programs Division, Foreign Agricultural Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. the following information:

1. Name and address of shipper.
2. Name and address of ultimate consignee.
3. Port of entry.
4. The name of the kind and the number of bushels of each variety.
5. The crop registration or crop certificate number as distinguished from the grade certificate number.

Under the recent legislation passed by Congress, known as the durum wheat bill, a farmer may plant durum on diverted acres in addition to acreage allotted to wheat.

The department of Agriculture will forward these permits to the "Collector of Customs" at the specified port of entry and will authorize him to permit entry of the shipment. A carbon copy of the permit will be sent to the shipper and ultimate consignee.

Charged by the highway patrol with careless driving, Lloyd R. Knutson, city, paid a fine of $10 and $4 costs. Harold W. DeMars, charged by the patrol with permitting the unlawful operation of his car, was given a suspended $5 fine and paid $4 costs.

Fire Razes Barn Near RLF March 4

Fire believed to have started from a short circuit destroyed a 26 by 58 foot barn on the Nap Emard farm three miles east of Red Lake Falls Friday, March 4. The structure was already a mass of flames when the fire was discovered.

The Red Lake Falls fire department responded and assisted in keeping flames from spreading to nearby farm buildings. There was no livestock in the barn but about 100 chickens and 500 bales of straw were burned. Emard states that the loss is partially covered by insurance.

1955 Chevrolet Trucks out Mar. 25

Northern Chevrolet Co. to Display New Models

Chevrolet introduces a fresh approach to the design of commercial cars and trucks in a completely new line of 1955 models that will be unveiled at the Northern Chevrolet Co. Friday, March 25.

The vehicles climax a two-year development program. To produce highway carriers that would answer more closely the specialized demands of modern traffic conditions, company engineers talked to hundreds of farmers, merchants, manufacturers, cross-country transporters and the most important man in the trucking industry—the driver.

Following are a few of the highspots of the 1955 models:

As an answer to the truckers' desire for "more compact" design, most wheelbases have been reduced, some as much as eight inches.

Wider panel bodies and a consequent gain in load space.

An entirely new and distinctive pickup, called the "Cameo Carrier."

A reduction in maximum cab heights, up to seven inches on brand new "Low-Cab-Forward" models, and improved cab comfort.

Crookston Will Face Bemidji in Region Eight Tourney on Friday

The Crookston Pirates, the district 31 titleholders will attempt to dethrone the defending regional chapion Bemidji Lumberjacks on Friday night when, in a first-round eighth regional basketball tournament game at the North Dakota University fieldhouse, they tip-off against coach Bun Fortier's team at 7:30 p. m.

The second game of the regional first-round play will find the Kennedy team champions of district 32 and boasting a winning streak of 26 games, will meet Ada, the district 30 champions, at 9:00 p. m. The regional championship finals and the consolation finals will be played on Saturday night.

The Crookston Pirates, playing an alert type of basketball, won the 31st district championship on Wednesday night when they scored a 45 to 39 win over a rangy Fisher team.

Coach Al Droen's Pirates sped into a commanding lead in the first period, holding a 9 to 1 lead at one time, and held a 11 to 5 margin at the end of the quarter. Fisher, with big Dale Wagner getting three field goals, outpointed the Pirates in the second period, 16 to 13, and trailed by only three points 24 to 21 at the intermission.

The second half found the Pirates hard-pressed to hang on to their lead, and at one time in the third period, Coach Norm Wagner's Fisher Flyers came within a point of tying the Pirates, trailing by a 28 to 27 score. Crookston, with Hank Hulst doing the bulk of the scoring, pulled away to 34 to 29 lead at the end of the third period.

Hulst, with four free throws and a field goal, kept the Pirates ahead of the Flyers in the fourth quarter, and coach Droen's squad well-earned their 45 to 39 win.

In a thrilling preliminary game, the East Grand Forks Green Wave, the pre-tournament favorite, edged out the Plummer Cardinals, 49 to 47, when forward Gary Saunders connected with a jump shot from the corner of the court with two seconds of play, breaking a 47-all deadlock.

The hustling Plummer Cardinals, after trailing by a point at the end of the first and second periods, moved into a 33 to 31 lead at the close of the third period. The Cardinals held a lead until late in the period when East Grand Forks' fine guard, Paul Hanson, tied the score at 39 to 39. The East Siders moved in 47 to 43 lead with three minutes of play remaining, but Duane Nelson and Lee Vigstol racked up Cardinal field goals to knot the game at 47-all with 1:42 to play. East Grand Forks controlled the ball during the remainder of the game, setting up Saunders' game-winning shot.

Midget & PeeWee Ice Teams to Play G. Forks Saturday

Local Sextets to Seek Revenge for Last Week's Defeats in Two Matches

The local Midget and PeeWee hockey teams will be out after revenge on Saturday night when they meet the Grand Forks Midget and PeeWee hockey teams in a double-header on the Arena ice. Playing at Grand Forks on Sunday afternoon, the local Midgets dropped an 8 to 0 decision, while the local PeeWees were beaten, 3 to 0. The proceeds of the two games here on Saturday night, and it is hoped that a large corwd of fans will be in attendance as the hockey season makes its final bow, will go to the Thief River Falls Hockey Association, the organization that promotes and sponsors the Midget, PeeWee, and senior hockey programs.

The first game on Saturday night, between the Grand Forks Midgets and the local Midgets, will face-off at 7:00 p. m.; and it is expected that the second game on the bill, between the Grand Forks PeeWees and the local PeeWees, will get under way at 8:15 p. m. Admission prices for adults will be $1.00, while the admission for students will be 25c.

In the games played at Grand Forks on Sunday, the Grand Forks Midgets, with Warren Stokes scoring three goals during the game, held a 2 to 0 lead at the end of the first period, and a 6 to 0 advantage at the end of the second period. In the PeeWee title, the Grand Forks club, scoring in every period, shutout the locals to win by a 3 to 0 score.

Prowler Hockey Players Guests of Lions Wednesday

A dozen members of the 18-man Lincoln high school hockey team, which won consolation honors in the recent state tournament in St. Paul, were guests at the Lions club luncheon meeting Wednesday noon in the Rex Cafe. The players were called on to introduce themselves, and short talks were givn by Coach Dennis Rolle and by Derwood Lund, coach of the B squad.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Hopes and Wishes

We'll wager that the great majority of the basketball fans in districts 30, 31, and 32, and perhaps in district 29, too, will be hoping and wishing that Crookston or Kennedy or Ada will be able to break the stranglehold that the Bemidji Lumberjacks have had on the eighth region's basketball title.

We can assure the Crookston Pirates, the Kennedy Rockets, and the Ada Vikings that it will take more than the hopes and wishes of the fans to defeat the Lumberjacks. It's been remarkable how the Bemidji coaches, year in and year out, have been able to instill "desire" and "hunger" into the Bemidji cagers. The Lumberjacks play every game as if the state title is in the balance.

The Crookston Pirates will meet the Lumberjacks in a regional first round game at 7:30 p. m. on Friday night in the North Dakota fieldhouse, but it will be a major upset if coach Al Droen's Pirates are able to outpoint coach Bun Fortier's well-conditioned Jacks.

Crookston, lacking height, is forced to rely on team speed, a press, and fine out-court shooting, to gain their victories; but that's the stuff Bemidji has plenty of, and the Pirates will be a ten-point short-ender on Friday.

Personally, we would have liked to see coach Snooks Sullivan's burly and rugged East Siders against Bemidji. With lenient officiating, East Side's John Cash would have been a tough customer under the boards, and if Ron Nisbet and Paul Hanson were "on" with their shooting from the circle, Bemidji would have been in a tussle.

The Kennedy Rockets, with a winning streak of 26 games, have received much favorable publicity, and have been designated as the team that could be this year's "Jack killers." We've seen the Rockets in action this year, and they are a talented and high-scoring club, but we doubt if they have the experience or tournament wisdom to cope with a team of Bemidji's proven caliber.

Fact is, Kennedy, with two sophomores—Gary Olstad and Wayne Langen—two juniors—Virgil and Vince Sonju—and one senior—Mark Nyberg—will perhaps have difficulty in subduing coach Harvey McMullen's in-an-out Ada club in a first round game on Friday night.

That game, the Ada vs. Kennedy game, could be a thriller, especially if Ada's Sherman Moe and Kennedy's Virg Sonju are shooting at their best.

Incidentally, a factor that could have an effect on the outcome of the regional games would be "calling" of the games by the officials. The officials who "worked" the district tournament games—Dave Wolf and Orville Iwen—called a "tight" game, and several of their decisions had a vital bearing on the outcome of the tournament. It's possible that the Plummer Cardinals would have beaten the Crookston Pirates if they, the Cardinals, hadn't lost Dan Kush on personals; and it's a cinch that East Grand Forks, if they had been able to use John Cash throughout the game, would have gotten past Fisher.

Lou Fillipi of Little Falls and Harvey Schue of Brainerd will "call" the regional tournament games on Friday night. They're from the territory that specializes in agressive basketball, and they are acquainted with Bemidji's all-court press, too.

The Best Ever

We've been watching high school basketball tournaments for more years than we care to remember, but we've never witnessed a finer first period of high school basketball than that turned in by the Minot Magicians and the Williston Coyotes in the semi-finals of the North Dakota state Class A tourney at Grand Forks on Friday night.

The score at the end of the hectic first period of play was 25 to 24, in favor of Minot. That, a 25 to 24 score, is remarkable for tournament play, for ordinarily the teams, feeling the pressure of tournament competition, will be tense and cautious during the opening minutes of the game.

The crowd of 8000 fans was thrilled by the uncanny marksmanship of the two teams. Williston, with a team that averaged six-feet, two-inches in height, and with plenty of weight to go with that height, hit on 12 field goals in 15 tries in the first period; and Minot, just an inch shy of Williston in team average height, dropped in 9 field goals in 13 tries. And except for couple of lay-ups, that came as the result of some nimble footwork and sharp passing, most of these shots were 15 or 20-footers.

Minot, which won the semi-finals game from Williston by a 71 to 61 score, went on to win the North Dakota Class A title by trouncing Dickinson, 60 to 37 in the finals on Saturday night.

We did get quite a shock when we saw Minot's Ray Pederson shoot his free throws by jump shooting. Pederson, who made five for five from the gift shot line, would step back a pace or two, make a jump and flip the ball through the hoop. For those of us who had our free-throw training by the two-hand under-hand toss method, it was quite a jolt to see Pederson's jump shot. We just wonder what Leoanrd Thune, Prowler basketball coach here in the 1920's, would have said if he had seen those free - throw jumps. They were "hope shots" back in those days.

The Last Chance

It'll be a long, long summer, and perhaps hot and dusty, too, so, to develop some cooling memories, it'll probably be wise to attend the hockey games that are scheduled for the Arena rink on Saturday night between the Grand Forks Midgets and PeeWees and the local Midgets and PeeWees. The two Grand Forks clubs took the measure of the local teams on Sunday, winning by 8 to 0 and 3 to 0 scores, and those scores have made the local boys very unhappy. We have it on the word of coach Paul Bedard, and with "amens" from all the boys, that the results will be different on Saturday night.

$1,137,000 Is Spent on Marshall Roads in '54

Recommending that no additional mileage be added to county road system until the present system is rebuilt to an adequate standard, Marshall County Highway Engineer H. T. Swanson presented his annual report to the Marshall county board and gave a budget estimate of almost a million dollars to be spent on county roads during 1955. This compares with $1,137,000 spent on county roads during 1954, says the Warren Sheaf.

Mr. Swanson also recommended to the board that brushing and spraying should be continued in an effort to reduce excessive snow plowing. Another recommendation is that a central repair shop should be constructed as soon as funds are available.

During the year two Adams motor graders at $18,944 each were added making the total fleet of 16 graders, and two John Bean sprayers were purchased. A gravel pit, amounting to 17.24 acres in sections 27 and 28, Como township was acquired through condemnation for $500 and four acres south of Warren were purchased for a storage yard and shop site for $22,500.

Over 1,450 miles of road were maintained in the county during the year including 196.8 miles of state aid roads, 556.5 miles of county aid roads and about 700 miles of township roads.

A total of 1,264 miles of brush, along county roads and drainage ditches, were sprayed at an average cost of $11.92 per mile or $14.60.

In addition on state aid roads, 12.1 miles of grading and soil stabilized gravel base was completed, 5.7 miles of grading and sand gravel sub-base done, 2 bridges built and 56 miles of maintenance graveling completed.

On county aid roads a total of 11.1 miles were graveled and graded, 1 bridge was completed and 61 miles of gaveling done.

OVERTIME IN NORTH DAKOTA

In its seventh overtime day the North Dakota legislature last week brought to a close the longest session in the history of the state. Because our neighbors did not complete their work in the allotted time is nothing to be disturbed about. As the problems with which a legislature must deal become more complex it is reasonable to expect that more time will be required to agree on the solutions.

Here in Minnesota, with only a few weeks to go before the constitutional time limit, many members of the legislature will be working long hours each day, seven days a week, in an effort to get the necessary business of the session completed. If, in the final hours, an extra day or two are needed for the completion of the chores, let us not be too critical of a little clock covering. A little overtime in the closing hours of a regular session would be far less costly for the taxpayers than a special session. There is no extra pay for the members for this overtime work.

STARTING TO MOVE

Last week an important segment of the dairy farmers of Minnesota were passing resolutions at their Land O'Lakes convention in support of a self-help program. At the same time a number of Minnesota politicians, state and national, were passing resolutions asking for more government help for the industry. That is good. As the industry tries to help itself it will be easier to get support for a more liberal government assistance program.

The late John Brandt had little confidence in the politicians. As a minority group, hopelessly outnumbered by the consumers, he knew the dairy farmers would get a lot of fine speeches but little solid support from the vote seekers. And this year's Land O'Lakes meeting, with its emphasis on self-help, would have been very encouraging to Brandt.

But there is need for government assistance to get a self-help program under way too. The industry must have special authority to do for itself the things that need to be done. And to start a program of marketing control probably will require some financial assistance. With the industry leaders and the politicians working together we should get some results.

WELCOME RUSSIAN FARMERS

It was surprising to us to learn that there is some opposition to the proposal that Russian farmers should be encouraged to visit our country and inspect our farm operations. Fortunately President Eisenhower thinks it is a good idea. We may expect, therefore, that, if their own government permits them to come they probably will be made to feel welcome when they get here.

It isn't always easy to dissociate governments and their people. A few years ago we were at war with the governments of Germany and Japan. Now we are getting along well with the people of those nations under new governments, and that is as it should be.

At the present time we do not like the governments of Russia and China. That doesn't mean that we have to hate the Russian and Chinese people. And getting better acquainted with the people could prove to be a good way to get along better with their governments.

WE DON'T WANT HYSTERIA

Val Peterson, national Civil Defense administrator, last week told a Senate Armed Services committee that we all should build some kind of an air raid shelter right now and stock these shelters with a five-day supply of food. We are glad to pass along this information, although we are not greatly impressed with the suggestion and probably will not get around to digging our own shelter this week.

Life today is a hazardous thing for all of us even if they don't start throwing A bombs at us. The possibility of being bombed is just another risk we, individually, are going to take in stride.

We do not mean to speak lightly of what may be a very great danger. The next Pearl Harbor, if it comes, would be planned to practically exterminate us.

But we are not impressed with the proposal that a hole in the ground and a five-day food supply for each of us is the answer to that kind of an attack. If we need bomb shelters then let's build bomb shelters, and let's do whatever else needs to be done. But let it be done by plan, where and how it needs to be done, as an organized effort under sound leadership.

And let us not get excited. One thing we don't want is hysteria and the officials who are giving direction to the program as it unfolds can contribute much to its success just by remaining calm themselves.

LITCHFIELD AND REA

(Willmar Tribune)

Every electric power plant in the nation is facing the problem of meeting the demands for more electricity. In this part of the nation they are all looking forward to the supplies that will be available when the MVA dams will be in production.

In this connection we saw a report of the situation at Litchfield, whose municipal plant was one that pioneered in the movement. This report shows how that plant is meeting the issue by tieing up with the huge REA steam plant at Elk River. At the beginning of the REA of Meeker county, the Litchfield plant was sympathetic and did everything they could to help them get started. Now they are getting help from the REA. So far the Elk River plant has an available surplus of capacity. We quote from a report in the Litchfield Independent:

> It has been the policy of the Litchfield Power Commission to prepay some of the bonds coming due in 1957, the heavy year of bond paying for the new structure built several years ago to help provide power for the needs of Litchfield and the REA.
>
> This reserve fund of $169,937.95 has been built up over the past several years to add generating equipment for the future needs of the City of Litchfield and the REA. The first expenditure is anticipated for later this year when a sub station and lines will be constructed to include additional power from Elk River REA plant. This cost for the lines and sub station will amount to approximately $130,000.00 and the City Plant has the money on deposit ear marked for this expenditure.
>
> This Elk River power will provide economic power for both the City of Litchfield and the REA.
>
> This hook-up with Elk River will make it possible for the City of Litchfield to postpone the purchase of generating equipment for several years or for an indefinite period as the Bureau power from the Missouri river dam is expected to be available within a few years.

The Legislature

BY W. E. DAHLQUIST

The Robert Stover incident still is tops as a topic of conversation in Capitol corridors. It is not the arrest of a prominent state official for driving while drunk that keeps the conversation stew simmering. Stover had been drinking over too long a period of time for the driving charge to occasion any surprise. The surprising thing and the thing that is still much talked about, is the admission of Attorney General Miles Lord that he had directed a state detective to follow Stover.

The interest of the Attorney General in Stover's activities is not believed to have been due to any concern about highway safety, but rather to find an immediate reason for removing him from office as Commissioner of the Department of Civil Service.

A circumstance which, while not conclusive, tends to establish this as a cloak-and-dagger conspiracy, is the fact that one of the arresting officers "happened" to be one of the prominent candidates for appointment as director of the Minnesota bureau of criminal apprehension, an office that is under attorney general jurisdiction. It is not easy to accept this circumstance as merely coincidental.

Members of the legislature are experienced politicians and they know there is no book of rules or code of ethics governing politics as an arena of combat. They know that even in our enlightened society there is a technique of force and a technique of cunning in the art of establishing and maintaining political authority. They know there have been times when a pellet of poison was a far more effective weapon than either the pen or the sword.

Here in Minnesota, in recent years, a fairly high ethical standard has been maintained in the procedure of settling our political differences. There has been a lot of bluster and blow but, in general, the bitterness has been softened by confining the arguments to issues rather than to personalities.

That is why the members of the legislature are disturbed about the Stover incident. They are not accustomed to this ruthless method of disposing of someone who stands in the way. They are concerned about the casualness with which it was done and defended. As one legislator expressed it, "Evidently we now are dealing with an official who has no scruples."

The men who are making the conversation in the corridors of the Capitol are not unaware of the fact that the voters have elected a new set of state officials. They realize that these officials have responsibility. It is expected that they will make replacements as vacancies occur, and in some instances they will be justified in creating vacancies.

But not many will go along with the idea that public officials have a right to become peeping Toms, or that it is proper to dispose of those who stand in their way by trick methods.

There is an honorable and fair way to accomplish these purposes. One old timer, a veteran of many campaigns, put it this way, "If we must choose between the methods of force or trickery let's have force. I have some chance to defend myself if I run into brass knuckles in a dark alley."

The Stover affair is going to make conversation for a long time. Developments will be watched closely to see if this incident establishes the pattern for future action—if from now on state officials will have to hire their own hatchet men to keep them from being "tailed" and possibly "trapped" into political oblivion.

"March is so changeable. Cold one day - warm the next. Do I still need your 'De-Icer' Gas?"

"Yes. Engine stalling caused by carburetor icing happens most at temperatures from 28° to 58°. Standard Premium Gasoline prevents it!"

You'll need the protection of Standard White Crown Premium Gasoline, on warm days or cold. The "De-Icer" additive prevents ice from forming on the throttle plate of the carburetor, which can cut off the fuel mixture during idling . . . It's a high octane gas made for knock-free performance in old cars or new. For a tankful of worry-free, anti-stall gasoline—stop at Standard today.

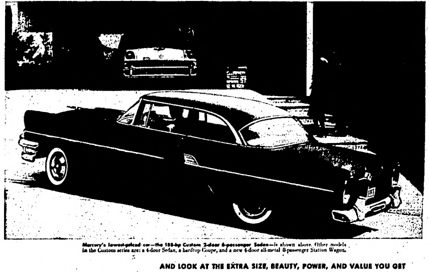
Don't say you can't afford a Mercury before you check the price of this one



Mercury's lowest-priced car—the 188-hp Custom 2-door 6-passenger Sedan—is shown above. Other models in the Custom series are: a 4-door Sedan, a hardtop Coupe, and a new 4-door all-metal 8-passenger Station Wagon.

Mercury's prices start below 13 models in the low-price field*

*Based on comparison of manufacturers' suggested list or factory retail prices.

AND LOOK AT THE EXTRA SIZE, BEAUTY, POWER, AND VALUE YOU GET

- Mercury is bigger than the "low-price" cars . . . in length, width, and wheelbase.
- You get exclusive styling—Mercury's stand-out styling is shared by no other car.
- You get high horsepower plus SUPER-TORQUE V-8 performance in every Mercury. (There is 188 horsepower in the Customs and Montereys, 198 horsepower in the ultra-smart Montclairs).
- There's a 4-barrel vacuum-operated carburetor standard on every model at no extra cost. You enjoy 2-barrel economy for normal driving, 4-barrel pickup for fast getaways and safer passing.
- Revolutionary new high-compression spark plugs provide top performance at all speeds —help prevent fouling and pre-ignition.
- You save when you buy. Compare our allowance on your present car. It's based on high-volume sales. We can be generous.
- You protect future trade-in value. Mercury consistently leads its field for resale value.

IT PAYS TO OWN A MERCURY—FOR FUTURE STYLING, SUPER POWER

Galileo, Italian astronomer and physicist, invented a practical thermometer back in 1952, made of a large air-filled bulb and a glass tube containing water. When the air became heated it expanded and pushed the water level down, thus permitting a guage of the amount of heat.

In the average American home today, electricity does the work which would require the labor of 35 servants, each working a 40-hour week.

The Linsell town meeting was held at the Ezra Davy home on Tuesday. The usual business was discussed and voted on. It was decided that the county snow plow would be allowed to plow out the driveways of the farmers at their request and to be paid for to the town clerk by the farmer. He is to put up some sort of sign by the road signifying that he wants his driveway cleared of snow and the plow will come in. That applies to next year's snow I believe.

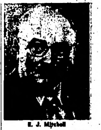
Tells How to Double Flax Yield

Nine simple practices, if followed, will enable the average Pennington County flax grower to double his flax yield per acre, according to E. J. Mitchell, secretary of the Flax Development Committee and a leading authority on flax farming. Mitchell's 9 rules:



E. J. Mitchell

1. Build fertility, organic content and moisture holding capacity of soil with rotations containing plenty of legumes and grass. This can't be done in one season.
2. Control weeds in previous crops.
3. Pick clean field. If flax follows small grains, prompt after-harvest working of stubble usually leaves field in good shape for flax. Heavy stands of clean soybeans also leaves field clean for flax. Grass, turned under last August, is hard to beat.
4. Preserve clean surface by shallow spring working.
5. Sow early. Flax resists freezing well. Sowing at wheat or oats planting time helps flax develop ahead of weeds, summer drouth and heat.
6. Sow good seed of high-yielding rust-resisting variety, cleaned, tested, treated with Ceresan or Panogen.
7. Fertilize if needed.
8. Pack Seed bed . . either before or after sowing . . . or both. Firm seedbed speeds germination and helps control weeds by giving a heavier, more even stand.
9. Spray with MCP or TCA if weeds threaten.

It doesn't cost much more to raise a bumper flax crop than a poor one," Mitchell points out, "Even if yield were increased only 50% net profit would likely be doubled."

THIS AND THAT FROM HERE AND THERE

DUCKS DO GET AROUND

Last issue of Minnesota Conservation has a fascinating account, with "migration maps", of the state's duck-banding projects. Comes about the same time from Oklee an account of a blue-winged teal banded August 5, 1954, being shot 39 days later in Jamaica, British West Indies. There is one previous instance of Cuban recovery, two of South American recovery. Several Minnesota-banded redheads have been taken on the Maryland and Delaware coast, and in Texas. Minnesota teal recoveries include birds from Montana, Nebraska, Illinois, Indiana and many from central and northern Canada.

1954 Road Accidents in State Down 7 Pct., But Fatalitites Gain

Accidents on Minnesota streets and highways decreased by 7.6 per cent during 1954 under 1953 figures, according to a report issued today by Earl M. Larimer, director of highway safety. A total of 46,953 mishaps were reported to the state accident records section, as compared with 50,831 in the previous year.

Fatal accidents also were down, with eight fewer in 1954 than in 1953. Fatalities, however, did not follow the same pattern, with 639 persons being killed in 1954 traffic accidents, as compared with 638 in 1953.

"This wide variation between total accidents and fatalities," Larimore pointed out," again indicates that the differences between a personal injury or property damage mishap and a fatal accident is more often than not a matter of pure luck. Some motorists who live thru what could have been a fatal accident attribute their survival to their guardian angels. Others, with a more fatalistic train of thought, say that it 'just wasn't their time to die.'"

Relying too heavily upon either guardian angels or 'not time to die,' Larimer cautioned, is what too often results in fatal accidents.

"If every motorist would exert every human effort to drive carefully," he asuggested, "and not leave so much of their safety and well-being to other factors, as good a reduction could be made in traffic deaths as has been made in overall traffic accidents."

He pointed out fatalities and accidents can be drastically cut down if motorists will drive with a realization that any improper action on their part can result in serious consequences. An outstanding example of that fact, he went on to say, was the fine record compiled in Minnesota, especially on rural roads, during the month of February, when traffic deaths were held to 24, despite generally poor driving conditions throughout the state.

N. W. Bell Company Spends $59 Million on Construction

Telephone Company Now Serves 1,815,000 Phones, up 64,000 During 1954

The year 1954 saw Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. catching up with basic public telephone requests and moving into the field of introducing many new and additional services, President A. F. Jacobson emphasized in the company's annual report issued today.

Another extensive construction program amounting to about $59,000,000 was required to do the job, Mr. Jacobson said. By the end of the year the company's plant investment had reached $494 million dollars—two and one-half times what it was only 10 years ago. The company operates in Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota, and South Dakota.

Mr. Jacobson said that the number of telephones served by the company reached 1,815,000, a gain of 64,000 during the year. There are now 232,000 telephones in rural areas. Over 80 per cent of the rural establishments in the territory served by the company had telephone service, which was close to the 85 per cent figure for towns and cities.

On an average week day, telephone users placed 9.5 million calls.

Speed of handling long distance calls in 1954 was the fastest in history. One reason was that equipment was added in eight more towns and cities to permit operators to dial direct the telephone in a distant city.

The Company's earning rate for the year 4.8 cents per dollar of investment in telephone plant. Revenues totaled $175,000,000 during 1954, and operating expenses including taxes amounted to $153,000,000.

Bill Proposed to Curb Bad Checks

State Credit Bureaus Are Supporting Passage

Grave concern over a constantly rising number of nonsufficient fund personal and business checks being issued in the state has prompted the Associated Credit Bureaus of Minnesota to spearhead a rally in support of a bill now before the legislature that would tend to curb this undesirable practice.

The bill would make a person guilty of a misdemeanor if, within ten days of receiving notice that a check has been returned N. S. F., he or she does not make good the payment.

Ray E. Gorsuch of Winona, president of the state organization, which numbers 18 members and represents more than 8,000 retail outlets, estimated that in excess of 200,000 nonsufficient fund checks were written in Minnesota during 1954. He placed the average amount of these checks at $30.35.

"The bill is not entirely new," Gorsuch explained. "It merely strengthens and puts teeth into an already existing law under which 'intent to defraud' must be proved in order to make the deed illegal."

THIS AND THAT FROM HERE AND THERE

DUCKS DO GET AROUND

Last issue of Minnesota Conservation has a fascinating account, with "migration maps", of the state's duck-banding projects. Comes about the same time from Oklee an account of a blue-winged teal banded August 5, 1954, being shot 39 days later in Jamaica, British West Indies. There is one previous instance of Cuban recovery, two of South American recovery. Several Minnesota-banded redheads have been taken on the Maryland and Delaware coast, and in Texas. Minnesota teal recoveries include birds from Montana, Nebraska, Illinois, Indiana and many from central and northern Canada.

1954 Road Accidents in State Down 7 Pct., But Fatalitites Gain

Accidents on Minnesota streets and highways decreased by 7.6 per cent during 1954 under 1953 figures, according to a report issued today by Earl M. Larimer, director of highway safety. A total of 46,955 mishaps were reported to the state accident records section, as compared with 50,831 in the previous year.

Fatal accidents also were down, with eight fewer in 1954 than in 1953. Fatalities however, did not follow the same pattern, with 639 persons being killed in 1954 traffic accidents, as compared with 638 in 1953.

"This wide variation between total accidents and fatalities," Larimore pointed out," again indicates that the differences between a personal injury or property damage mishap and a fatal accident is more often than not a matter of pure luck. Some motorists who live thru what could have been a fatal accident attribute their survival to their guardian angels. Others, with a more fatalistic train of thought, say that it 'just wasn't their time to die.'"

Relying too heavily upon either guardian angels or 'not time to die,' Larimer cautioned, is what too often results in fatal accidents.

"If every motorist would exert every human effort to drive carefully," he suggested, "and not leave so much of their safety and well-being to other factors, as good a reduction could be made in traffic deaths as has been made in overall traffic accidents."

He pointed out fatalities and accidents can be drastically cut down if motorists will drive with a realization that any improper action on their part can result in serious consequences. An outstanding example of that fact, he went on to say, was the fine record compiled in Minnesota, especially on rural roads, during the month of February, when traffic deaths were held to 24, despite generally poor driving conditions throughout the state.

N. W. Bell Company Spends $59 Million on Construction

The year 1954 saw Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. catching up with basic public telephone requests and moving into the field of introducing many new and additional services, President A. F. Jacobson emphasized in the company's annual report issued today.

Another extensive construction program amounting to about $59,000,000 was required to do the job, Mr. Jacobson said. By the end of the year the company's plant investment had reached $494 million dollars—two and one-half times what it was only 10 years ago. The company operates in Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota, and South Dakota.

Mr. Jacobson said that the number of telephones served by the company reached 1,815,000, a gain of 64,000 during the year. There are now 232,000 telephones in rural areas. Over 80 per cent of the rural establishments in the territory served by the company had telephone service, which was close to the 85 per cent figure for towns and cities.

On an average week day, telephone users placed 9.5 million calls.

Speed of handling long distance calls in 1954 was the fastest in history. One reason was that equipment was added in eight more towns and cities to permit operators to dial direct the telephone in a distant city.

The Company's earning rate for the year 4.8 cents per dollar of investment in telephone plant. Revenues totaled $175,000,000 during 1954, and operating expenses including taxes amounted to $153,000,000.

Minnesota Leads in Fishing Permit Sale

Minnesota continues as the most popular fishing spot in America, according to state fishing license statistics for the United States, released by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Perennial leader in the sales of fishing licenses, Minnesota again topped all others with a total of 1,277,917 paid fishing license holders during the fiscal year July 1, 1953 to June 30, 1954. Michigan finished second with 1,159,925 and California's 1,256,004 was third. Wisconsin was fourth, with 1,080,692.

Bill Proposed to Curb Bad Checks

State Credit Bureaus Are Supporting Passage

Grave concern over a constantly rising number of non-sufficient fund personal and business checks being issued in the state has prompted the Associated Credit Bureaus of Minnesota to spearhead a rally, in support of a bill now before the legislature that would tend to curb this undesirable practice.

The bill would make a person guilty of a misdemeanor if, within ten days of receiving notice that a check has been returned N. S. F., he or she does not make good the payment.

Ray E. Gorsuch of Winona, president of the state organization, which numbers 48 members and represents more than 8,000 retail outlets, estimated that in excess of 200,000 non-sufficient fund checks were written in Minnesota during 1954. He placed the average amount of these checks at $38.35.

"The bill is not entirely new," Gorsuch explained. "It merely strengthens and puts teeth into an already existing law under which 'intent to defraud' must be proved in order to make the deed illegal."

YOU and the FUTURE — No. 3 of a SERIES

How to SURVIVE the END of the WORLD

How can we survive the End of the World? It sounds like an impossible proposition; but it should be quite easy—if we know how. And, with world affairs as they are, it may be wise to start learning.

It is vital to note that surviving the End of the World involves infinitely more than merely dodging Atom Bombs! In the catastrophic final events on this earth, the actual End will be the doing of God—not man. The Bible declares that in the last day God will "destroy them which destroy the earth." The End of the World is repeatedly referred to as "The Day of the Lord."

This is one of the most cheering of all the promises of Scripture—that God will finally intervene in the confused affairs of men!

Is it not clear that the chaotic circumstances in which we find ourselves are not a part of God's design? Then, just as surely as the Bible outlines the rise and fall of nations and depicts the misrule of men made imperfect by sin, so it predicts that one day God will summarily destroy the actual cause of this chaos—sin itself!

Cure for Chaos

He will then, according to Bible promises, start a re-created world again—and permanently—on the perfect path from which it has been lured by unholy forces.

If the express purpose of the End of the World is once and for all to root out the cancer of evil and confusion and to clear the way for all that is good—should not surviving the End of the World be a simple matter?

It is only necessary that every one of us takes every precaution to insure that in that awesome day we are not found infected with sin, and thus be destroyed along with it.

Here is the simple way to survive the End: not merely to go underground with a Geiger counter, but to "seek righteousness, seek meekness: it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger." Zephaniah 2:3.

How obvious it is that no one infected with a sinful nature in that day could possibly be allowed to survive the End of the World, and mar the new creation! This is the simple equipment you must have: the Bible says of those who will survive: "Here are they that keep (1) the commandments of God, and (2) the faith of Jesus." Revelation 14:12.

Two Easy Rules

Do you feel up to par in both of these respects? If you would survive, and live through the ages, meeting this divine standard must become the most urgent consideration of your life!

"The commandments of God, the faith of Jesus." It is a pretty good combination with which to be equipped. At least it will take just that to survive the End of the World. Something to think about, isn't it? (Next: A Noose on Your Neck?)

"Who will pay higher beer taxes?"

THEODORE MERTES

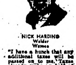
"I understand there's talk about raising the State tax on beer 40%. Now beer is my beverage and everyone knows the consumer pays the taxes — so I'm one, who would really pay."

HENRY SJOBECK
Engineer
Savage
"Beer has long been known as the workingman's drink. I see no reason why we who enjoy beer should be singled out to pay additional taxes. Another tax means a smaller glass or a higher price. If more taxes are added about all a fellow will get from a glass to quench his thirst will be taxes and foam."



NICK HARDING
Welder
Waseca
"I have a hunch that any additional taxes will be passed on to me. Taxes already make up half of what the retailer pays per barrel. Frankly, I'm not in favor of increasing taxes on beer — the common man's drink. It doesn't make sense to me."

Why pick on beer to raise $2,000,000 additional taxes? Nearly half the cost of a barrel of beer delivered to the retailer now, is taxes. The Federal tax is $9 per barrel. The State tax is $1.10 on 3.2 beer and $2.20 on strong beer. The proposed tax would be a 40% increase in State taxes.

This tax on beer is against the best interests of the thousands of Minnesota farmers who received over $27,000,000 for malting barley last year. It's against the best interests of the thousands employed in the industry and it's also against the best interests of the consumer, who must pay this discriminatory sales tax.

HIGHWAYS COST MONEY

Minnesota's primary highway-road-street system covers, according to the report of the State Highway Study Commission, 43,200 miles. Greatest single source of highway revenue from year to year is property tax followed closely by motor fuel tax and motor vehicle registration fees; miscellaneous receipts and federal aid complete for fourth place with bonds and notes in sixth place as revenue producer. Largest expenditures have generally been on state trunk highways, then country roads, city streets, and township roads. It is estimated that nearly $151,000,000 will be required each year for 15 years to maintain, replace, and extend our highway system: $67 million on rural trunk and urban extension highways, $39 million on county roads, $11½ million on township roads, $33½ million on municipal streets.

Electric utilities are the biggest customers for the coal today, taking more than 22 per cent of total production and experts expect this demand to continue growing.

Forecast Passage of Bill for Korea Bonus

A Korean bonus bill for Minnesota veterans was hurried along to the senate tax committee Wednesday with unanimous approval of the senate soldiers welfare committee.

Chances of the bill's passage this session are considered better than even.

Action to make it a committee-sponsored bill followed a 25-minute hearing held jointly Wednesday by the senate group and the house veterans affairs committee.

The house unit wasted even less time. It agreed last Friday to introduce the measure as a committee bill Monday. It was referred at once to the house appropriations committee.

The measure proposes that Minnesota follow its World War II precedent by paying veterans $15 for each month of foreign service during the Korean conflict and $10 for each month of domestic duty. Maximum would be $400.

To qualify under the bill, veterans must have been state residents at the time they went into the armed forces and have served 30 days or more between June 30, 1950, and July 31, 1953.

"Professional" soldiers would be eligible, too. The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, joint sponsors of the legislation, argue that it would be very difficult to eliminate them as was done before.

Col. L. E. Lilygren, state director of selective service, said not more than 111,806 veterans would be eligible. Sponsors estimated previously that the total would be over 120,000.

Sen. Fay George Child, Maynard, said he thinks the Lilygren figure would put the total cost at 25 million dollars or less.

Payment, the sponsors contend, will be relatively painless. Tax revenues dedicated to repayment of the 84-million-dollar World War II bond issue in 10 equal installments have exceeded anticipations to the extent that—after repayment of five installments—there is a 15-million-dollar surplus.

Authors of the bill have provided that the new bonus is to be paid from the accumulation, plus one year's additional levy of the special bonus taxes.

Payoff would come when money is available—probably in 1958 or 1959.

Average payment in World War II was $291. Sponsors think this will be reduced to around $250 because average service during the Korean crisis was shorter.

Since the agreement of March 1953, the Chinese and Japanese Red Cross Societies have cooperated in the repatriation from China of over 26,500 Japanese nationals to Japan.

Leaders Council Sets Dates for Future 4-H Events

Play and Music Contest Elimination Rounds Are Scheduled April 14-15

The county eliminations in the annual 4-H play and music contest will be held Thursday and Friday April 14 & 15, it was decided at the March meeting of the 4-H Leaders Council, held March 7 at the VFW Hall.

Leaders also decided that the good grooming contest, formerly held in conjunction with the final play contest, will be held along with the talent contest. This latter event will take place in May or June.

A district crafts and music school will be held in Thief River Falls on Thursday, March 31. A committee of 4-H leaders, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Norton Nelson, will serve the noon meal at the all day meeting.

Educational topic for the month is crops and soils. Members of the St. Hilaire 4-H club, Bill Wik and Tom Hallamack talked on soil testing and recommended varieties respectfully. James Kolden played a guitar-harmonica duet for the music number. A film "Green Gold", on grassland farming, was shown by County Agent Bill Penning. He closed the meeting with suggestions for stimulating interest in the field crops project.

$395,038 Taxes Paid in Marshall

Total collections of current personal property taxes for Marshall county in January and February this year totaled $395,038.04, a gain of $25,726.77 over the amount of $369,311.27 paid during the same period last year. These taxes are paid in the treasurer's office.

Delinquent taxes collected for the March settlement last year were $11,861 while $9,425 were collected this year or a drop of $2,439.

$149 Million Paid in Unemployment Aid over 18 Years

Director Foresees Less Payments in 1955 Than $26,600,000 Paid in '54

In the 18 years since the Minnesota Unemployment Compensation Program was established, jobless workers of the state have received $149,881,382 in benefits, according to a summary of operations issued this week by Commissioner F. W. Nichols, of the Employment Security Department.

Since the UC fund was established in 1937, the balance available for the payment of benefits has increased steadily from $11,696,121 at the end of the first year that taxes were collected to $133,996,691 at the end of 1953. The reserves at the end of 1954, dropped $12,091,543 to $121,905,148 as a result of abnormal unemployment last year.

Since the program was established, employer contributions have totaled $245,091,149, with interest earned on quarterly balances amounting to $28,878,707.

The 1954 benefit payments of $26,698,183 were approached only in 1950 when $15,599,232 was paid out. The first year, $8,161,[illegible] was paid out. In 1941, a time when there was practically full employment in the state, benefits for the entire year were only $527,690.

This year, the number of new claims has been subsiding substantially since the end of January and present indications are that UC payments will be less than in 1954, but above most former years.

State Board of Health Endorses Use of Fluoride

Points to Experience in Newburgh, N. Y., and Grand Rapids, Michigan

Children in Minnesota communities that are now placing fluorides in their drinking water can look forward to much less tooth decay than their parents and older brothers and sisters have had, says Dr. W. A. Jordan, chief of the section of dental health, Minnesota department of health.

He bases this prediction on reports just released in Newburgh, New York, and Grand Rapids, Michigan, at the end of the ninth year of a ten-year study of the effects of fluoridated water on dental health. Both reports show substantial reductions in tooth decay in children living in the cities that have been fluoridating their drinking water.

In February, Dr. Jordan said, Elk River became the 36th community in Minnesota to start a water fluoridation program. During the same month the city council of St. Cloud voted unanimously to add fluoride to the city's water supply. These two Minnesota cities, Dr. Jordan said, have thus joined over 1,040 communities in the United States, involving over 20 million people, who have approved fluoridation "as a safe and effective means to save teeth."

"The reports from Newburgh and Grand Rapids," Dr. Jordan said, "give overwhelming evidence of the benefits of controlled fluoridation of water. Six-year-old children in Newburgh have used, during all their lives, drinking water that had a fluoride content controlled to one part per million. These children show 72 per cent less dental decay than children of the same age in the nearby city of Kingston, New York, where there is no fluoride in the drinking water. Even the ten-year-olds in Newburgh, who missed getting fluoridated water during their important first years of life, have 5 per cent less tooth decay than the ten-year-olds in Kingston."

The Most Important Question Put to Jesus

There is deep meaning for us all in Jesus' answer to John's searching question (Luke 7), "Art thou he that should come? or look we for another?"

He gave his works as proof of the truth of his words: "Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached" (Luke 7).

HOLD YOUR BREATH

This young lady might miss the next step and take a nasty tumble!

Of course her parents wouldn't dream of letting her try those stairs alone until they had taken every precaution to teach her how to manage them carefully and safely. But regardless of precautions, sooner or later she has to run the risk of trying them on her own.

Every adventure in growing up has its element of danger, and wise parents are very careful to see that the child shall be trained to meet these dangers with the least risk to her physical health.

But what about the far greater risk to this child's moral and spiritual health when she has to face the really big perils of life on her own? When not a broken bone or two but her character is at stake—what then?

The Church will give your child—and help you give your child—the care and training she needs for meeting life's greatest risks safely and triumphantly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare
University of Minnesota

Do You Praise Your Child?

How do you feel when you are praised? Your own reactions are probably very much like those of your children. Sincere praise gives most people a sense of achievement and well-being. It makes them wish to please the praiser, to do the same thing again; even better. Praise is one of the best ways to help a child learn. It helps him discriminate between desirable and undesirable behavior. It rewards the desirable behavior so that it is more likely to be repeated.

Most parents agree with the idea of praising, but still may not praise enough. When a child is striving to achieve some goal it is easy to point out shortcomings. This emphasizes what is wrong and neglects the amazing progress which may already have been made. Praise should be given for progress and effort as well as for accomplishments. There is no general rule for what or how much to praise. Perhaps, however, it is better to overpraise than underpraise.

Punishment as well as praise surely enters into the guidance of children. However, even willful misbehavior may indicate that a child needs more praise rather than more punishment. Most children would rather earn attention by doing right than force it by doing wrong. All children do need their share of attention and the assurance of being accepted and appreciated. If they do not secure attention by desirable behavior they are more likely to seek it through undesirable behavior.

If it is necessary to punish a child, an opportunity should be found to praise him for good behavior soon after. This reassures him of being wanted, furthers his building of standards of good behavior, and rewards desirable behavior.

Is He Going to Be a "Dabbler"?

"Why doesn't George stick to anything? In the past year he's started a dozen different hobbies, and he's lost interest in each one in less than no time." The mother of nine-year-old George is concerned that he may be developing a permanent tendency to wander aimlessly from one activity to another. Will he be a person who can't settle down?

Studies of children from eight to twelve show that at that age the best adjusted children are those who have a wide variety of interests. It is not unusual for a nine-year-old to be collecting stamps, bottle tops, picture cards, and license plates with varying degrees of enthusiasm.

In a few months' time he may also have tried leathercraft, beadwork, woodworking, building model airplanes or cars, plaster casting, soap sculpture, electrical tinkering, and other construction projects. Any one of these may be all absorbing one week, and utterly neglected the next. Aside from the inevitable messiness which such a wide variety of materials is bound to create, this exploratory behavior is beneficial.

Dr. Arthur Jersild of Columbia University says that the child who tries out many different interests and activities is laying a sound groundwork for adult skills and hobbies. He may even be getting some idea of what vocation he may choose. Adults seldom pick a brand new interest, but usually extend and develop activities previously tested in childhood.

Just as it is typical for the elementary school child to have many interests, it is expected that the number and range of his activities will narrow as he grows older. The average nine-year-old engages in about forty different activities in one week; at eighteen this number will be reduced to twenty. The high school student usually selected a few special interests to which he devotes much time.

Vegetable Varieties for 1955

When you plan your vegetable garden this spring, check over the list of varieties available. Each year the University of Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service publishes "New Vegetable Varieties in Minnesota," Extension Folder 154, which suggests varieties that have been tested and found suitable for various parts of the state. You can get a copy free of charge from you county agent or from Bulletin Room, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1, Minnesota.

* * *

Many varieties of snap beans are available this year, but the gardener will find Topcrop, Wade and Tendergreen especially good green bush varieties. Cherokee is an excellent wax bean.

* * *

Peas require a lot of work to harvest and shell and are not as popular in the small garden as they used to be. Burpeana Early Dwarf and Little Marvel are two good varieties for an early crop and Wando or Lincoln for harvest later.

* * *

* * *

Several sweet corn varieties are available but there are a few that have been outstanding in Minnesota trails. Sugar and Gold and Earliest Market King are high quality early varieties. Golden Freezer is a midseason variety well suited to on the cob freezing.

* * *

One of the earliest tomatoes is Fireball. It's not too good later in the season, but it gives a good yield of early fruits. Other early varieties include Hybrid E, Firesteel and Polaris.

* * *

Some other varieties to consider for the garden are Hybrid R squash, Badger Market cabbage, Waltham 29 broccoli, Slobolt lettuce, Cherry Belle radish, Autumn Spice onion and Minnesota Honey muskemelon.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Additional information or assistance on veterans benefits may be obtained by writing, or visiting the VA Center, Fargo, or by personal visits with VA Contact Representatives at the Minot VA Hospital, or the Bismarck or Grand Forks VA Offices.

Q—I am going to night school under the World War II GI Bill. My employer has just told me I will have to take an unexpected two-month trip to call on customers. Because of the trip I will have to interrupt my course. Will I be permitted to resume it under the GI Bill after I return?

A—Yes. Temporary interruptions, because of unexpected circumstances related to your job, are permitted under the GI Bill. If they extend for more than four months, however, you will have to show VA that it was impossible for you to resume training within four months.

Q—I intend to convert my World War II GI term insurance policy to a permanent plan. What will VA consider as my age for purposes of premium rates —my past birthday or my birthday to come?

A—Your age will be considered as your birthday nearest the effective date of your permanent-plan insurance.

Q—As a Korea veteran, may I join with a non-veteran in obtaining a GI business loan?

A—Yes. But VA's guarantee will be based only on that amount of the loan which represents your interest. The guarantee cannot extend to the portion of the loan representing the non-veteran's contribution to the enterprise.

Q—I received an administrative discharge from the armed forces to give up my enlisted status and become an officer. On the basis of that discharge, would I be eligible for Korean GI Bill training?

A—No. Korean GI training may not be taken by persons on active duty. You must be a veteran—out of service—in order to train.

Q—I pay my GI insurance premiums once a year in advance. If I die, what will happen to the money that has not yet been applied to premiums?

A—The money, earmarked for premiums beyond the month during which death occurred, will be refunded to your beneficiary in a lump sum.

Q—I understand that veterans disabled in service after January 31, 1955, may receive disability compensation at peacetime rates—80 percent of the wartime scale. Are there any conditions under which these veterans may get the full wartime rate?

A—Yes. Disabilities resulting directly from armed conflict, or from extra-hazardous service — including service under conditions simulating war — may warrant compensation payments at the full wartime rate.

Q—In order to get my college degree, I am supposed to take a course in public speaking. Would I have to get prior VA approval for that course, on the grounds that it may be considered "A vocational or recreational" in nature?

A—No. Since your public speaking course is an integral part of your GI training program leading to a degree, prior VA approval will not be necessary. If the course were taken by itself — not a part of an over-all educational program — VA's approval would be required.

Q—Has the Presidential proclamation, ending the establishment of entitlement for wartime GI benefits, had any effect on the cut off date for starting Korean GI Bill training? I am a Korean veteran, already out of service.

A—The proclamation has no bearing on when you must begin your Korean GI training. Under the law, you still must start within three years from the date of your separation from military service.

Additional information or assistance on veterans benefits may be obtained by writing or visiting the VA Contact Representatives at the Minot VA Hospital, or the Bismarck or Grand Forks VA Offices.

Q—I intend to file a claim for a pension, based on the death of my husband, a World War I veteran. Is there any deadline for applying?

A—There is no deadline for applying for a death pension. However, if you apply within one year of your husband's death the payments may be made retroactive to the day following his death. If you wait longer than one year, the payments are effective as of the date you filed your application.

A—I am a World War II veteran and I have gone back on active duty. My National Service Life Insurance premiums are being waived while I am in uniform. Even though I am not paying premiums, will I collect dividends on my policy?

A—No. During the period of waiver, GI insurance dividends are not payable.

Q—I mailed VA a letter applying for disability compensation, and VA sent me a form to be filled out. Since I have been out of service more than a year, my compensation can be effective only to the date I applied. Which date will that be—the date of my letter or the date of my formal application?

A—If your claim is approved, your compensation payments may date back to the date your letter was received by VA.

Q—I am studying for a graduate degree under the Korean GI Bill. I have to satisfy a foreign language requirement, but my school does not offer foreign language courses. May I take such a course in a different school?

A—Yes, provided your school does three things: (1) certifies to VA that you are a graduate student; (2) designates the subject you are to take at the second school, and (3) agrees to allow full credit for your language course in fulfillment of your degree program.

TALKING BECOMES REALLY BIG BUSINESS

'Twould be interesting to know how much money is invested in Minnesota telephone lines, companies, offices, and instruments—and how much taxes they pay. Some idea of the immensity of the sum may be gleaned from the fact that last year Northwestern Bell Telephone, only one of many companies in the field, spent $23,000,000 to improve and expand service, adding 28,000 telephones (8,300 of them rural) to bring the state's imposing total to 702,000—just about one for each four persons. Dial phones went into seven communities, and the Twin Cities were welded into one service area. This year Northwestern Bell is pointing toward addition of 35,000 Minnesota telephones—6,500 of them rural—ten more communities with dial service, and a lot more cable mileage going under ground for protective, esthetic, and other reasons.'

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

Minnesota Historical Society

A STRANGE MAN

In the early days of Minnesota there were many strange, interesting and, sometimes vicious, characters. Such a man was John Tanner.

One of Lord Selkirk's parties was making its way from Fort William to the Red River by way of Rainy Lake. It came upon a strange man who acted as its guide. This man was living among the Indians but was not, obviously, one of them.

Lord Selkirk later became interested in this stranger and made a special effort to seek out his past. In 1817 he had notices placed in various papers and finally found that Tanner, as a boy, was taken from his home in Ohio by a band of wandering Indians and finally came to live among Chippewas.

Tanner returned to his new-found people but was soon back with the Indians. He was attached to the Schoolcraft Mississippi expedition as an interpreter in 1832. Four years later he shot and killed Schoolcraft's brother and made his way to the deep woods where he died in 1847.

This man had a son James, who was treated kindly by the early missionaries. However, he imposed upon those who befriended him and, the early stories go, met a death of violence on the prairie frontier.

THE GREAT FORESTS

The natural resources of Minnesota had a very important effect upon the development and growth of the state. The rivers and lakes greatly influenced and facilitated early settlement.

The forests of the state were also very important.

When the state government was established in 1858 the area of Minnesota was a little over 51 million acres. The original forest area covered something over 31 million acres.

This forest area included virtually all of the eastern half of the state and the larger part of the northern half. The effect of this great area of wooded land can be easily imagined. Those who came to the southeastern part of the state found timber, primarily hardwoods, near to any land they homesteaded. This timber provided fuel and the material from which the first homes were built. The rapid settlement of the timbered land was based upon the existing forest resources which first built shelter and then kept homes warm.

The prairies also profited from nearby timber. It has been computed that to build a pioneer home, the house, outbuildings and the big red barn required the logs and lumber which would be cut from fifteen to twenty acres of Minnesota forest lands. Without building materials so close at hand the prairies of Minnesota would not have been so quickly conquered by those who were willing to live in sod houses only because homes of lumber were to come quickly and cheaply.

AN EARLY DOCTOR

The first doctors to engage in general practice in Minnesota came with the creation of the Territory. They came with the first lawyers, ministers and the first newspaper. They were interesting characters and some of them drifted from medicine into the drug store business, the selling of real estate and politics.

These first doctors came to St. Paul and St. Anthony. The balance of the state had no physicians for some years and it was a generation or two before the services of a doctor were generally available among the smaller communities and in the rural areas.

Doctor Richard Bardon of Duluth, combines the practice of medicine with an interest in history. From his studies of the early days of medicine he has found that one of the first physicians to serve any part of the state was William Wulff Borup. His principal task was to look after the health of the fur frontier and especially those found at the various outposts of the American Fur Company. He was located at La Pointe on the South Shore of Superior and was the first doctor west of the Soo. His ministrations took him as far west as Leech Lake. He came to his remote post in 1835.

In one communication to the fur company he made requests typical of his day. He asked for a pound of camphor, two ounces of quicksilver and a pint of the spirits of Pennyroyal. He also asked for bottles, corks and a good tooth drawer.

THE TRUST FUNDS

The people of Minnesota are hearing much about the trust funds of the state which now total more than 250 million dollars, second in size among all of the states of the Union.

These funds strike very far back into the history of the state and nation. Thomas Jefferson drafted the Ordinances of the Northwest Territory in 1787. Interested in education Jefferson prescribed in this document that all states cut from the territory should set aside one section out of every township for the support of common schools.

When the territorial government for Minnesota was being considered in Congress in 1848, Henry H. Sibley was a delegate to Congress from the Territory of Wisconsin. His interest was in the proposed new territory and when the laws for it were under consideration he asked that two sections out of every township be set aside for schools. His argument was that these lands were so remote, and many were so poor, that they would have little value. Congress agreed and Minnesota was the first state to set aside such a large part of its domain for schools.

Under this grant over three million acres of state lands were assigned to the permanent trust funds for education. Some four million acres of swamp lands were later added. A great part of the Minnesota trust funds consists of money received from the sale of lands, timber and the royalties of iron ore found upon school lands.

Town Board [illegible]embers Hear Talks Sa[illegible]rday by Public Officials

In spite of stormy weather, nearly 100 men, more than half of them from the rural areas, shared Saturday afternoon in a joint meeting of town board members and county officials in the Legion club room, the session having been arranged by the Chamber of Commerce as in several past years. Stuart McLeod of this city presided, and called on various men for short talks.

Merle Lindberg, chairman of the county board, stated that steady progress is being made on construction of the new court house, and that the building should be ready for occupancy within a few months.

County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr submitted figures from the county's financial statement for 1954, which he said would appear in the Times today. He pointed out that the mill rate for county purposes has been reduced during each of the past three years, and that there are no current outstanding warrants or unpaid bills.

Joseph Seidel, county engineer, discussed the road situation, stating that Pennington county has an unusually high percentage of county aid roads, totaling 439 miles, which are supported by gas tax funds. He added that the county has 123 miles of state aid roads and 276 miles of township roads. He stated that it will be cheaper in the long run to use blacktop surfacing on the more heavily traveled roads.

Dr. O. D. Beich, chairman of the C. of C. civic development committee, told of efforts being made by the Chamber to make Thief River Falls more attractive to rural people. He cited the part it played in securing additional parking lots and better street lighting, and said a current project is the erection of a building to be used for a public comfort station.

Frank Hardisty, president of the county fair board, told of negotiations conducted with the Pennington county board, which resulted in a decision to call a special election Tuesday, April 19, at which the voters will be asked to approve a $90,000 bond issue to finance the construction

He explained that most of the 31 bureaus into which the chamber membership is divided have held meetings at which an explanation was given of the method by annual dues are set, adding that adjustments were made in some instances where inequalities were detected.

Dr. Beich stated that $5,939 had been pledged to date against a chamber budget of approximately $15,000, and he urged other members to sign up as quickly as possible.

Council Sells $190,000 Bonds at Net 2.5 Pct.

Minneapolis Syndicate Purchases Permanent Improvement Bonds

At a special meeting Tuesday evening, the city council sold an issue of $190,000 permanent improvement bonds to a Minneapolis syndicate on the basis of an interest rate of 2.10 per cent with a premium of $495, or a net rate of 2.05 per cent.

Members of the syndicate, which submitted the best of three bids received, are J. M. Dain Co., Allison Williams Co. and Piper, Jaffray and Hopwood.

R. P. Folsom of T. G. Evenson & associates, Minneapolis bond consultants, who assisted the council in the sale, said he considered the sale very satisfactory.

The bonds, which will be dated February 1, will mature at the rate of $15,000 each in 1956 and 1957, and $20,000 each year from 1958 to 1965 inclusive. The short term of the bonds is held accountable in part for the low interest rate received.

A close second in the bidding was a syndicate headed by the American National Bank of St. Paul, and including the Northern State bank of Thief River Falls, which also offered a rate of 2.10 per cent, with a premium of $318, or $177 less than the successful bid.

Members to Vote on Plan to Deed Fair Grounds to Pennington County

As a preliminary to the election scheduled in Pennington county Tuesday, April 19, to vote on the question of issuing $90,000 in bonds to finance projected improvements to the fair grounds in Thief River Falls, a special meeting of the shareholders of the Pennington Co. Agricultural society, owner of the property, has been called by Frank Hardisty, president, and the board of directors for next Tuesday evening, March 29, at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce room in the Auditorium.

The purpose of the meeting, Hardisty said, is to discuss and vote on a proposal to authorize the fair board to transfer title to the society's property to Pennington county for such consideration as the board deems reasonable.

Under the proposed plan, the agricultural society would lease the fair grounds back from the county and operate the annual fair in much the same manner as in the past.

The issuance by the county of bonds to finance improvements to the fair grounds is authorized under terms of a special law enacted at the current session of the legislature.

Among the improvements planned on the grounds if the bond issue is approved by the voters are a new grandstand, an agricultural exhibit building and a modern comfort station, all of which, fair board members say, have been desired for many years, but have been impossible of realization because of lack of funds.

In a statement read Saturday at a meeting of town board members in this city, Albert Koop, local farmer and member of the fair board, said, that in addition to building an economical grandstand and comfort station, "We also want to build a new agricultural exhibit building about 140 by 200 feet similar to the one at Park River, N. D. Our present facilities are very poor and inadequate. The new building would be dedicated to help promote agriculture, the only big industry we have here or ever will have. It will be used not only during the fair, but for any other agricultural promotion we may have, such as Dairy Day, Northwest Breeders show and sale and the sheep sale and show.

"The cost for each of us," Koop added, "will be very nominal when spread over the county. We are hoping that the county and city will join together to help put this bond issue across."

To Celebrate Friday Night Store Opening with Style Show Apr. 1

To celebrate the first Friday of the current spring on which stores in Thief River Falls will remain open until 9 p. m., a free style show and several vaudeville acts will be presented in the municipal Auditorium Friday evening, April 1, starting at 9:15, it was announced today by Andy Williamson, chairman of the committee on arrangements. The doors will open at 8:45, he added.

Each of the dozen or more ready to wear and men's clothing stores participating will be represented by from two to five or six models, displaying the latest spring fashions. The models will parade down a runway extending out into the Auditorium floor to give the spectators a close up view of the garments.

Mrs. Jeannette Wright and Mrs. Mae Larson are designing a setting for the style revue, and Miss Kay Barzen will serve as commentator.

At intervals during the show, added entertainment will be provided by three personalities, including Dick Weston, comedy ventriloquist with audience participation; Earl Dunn, master of ceremonies, billed as the man with 1,000 voices; and Betty McCall, accomplished accordionist.

In addition, he stated, the substantial total of 6,420 pounds of butter was churned, about the same as a year ago.

Bergland reported that 1,070,295 pounds of milk was received last month, from which 97,598 pounds of cheese was manufactured, while in February 1954 the plant received 567,075 pounds of milk, from which 46,724 pounds of cheese was made.

With higher price supports in effect in early 1954, the price paid for milk in February last year was 84 cents, compared to 77 cents last month.

Seven trucks are currently engaged in hauling milk and cream to the local plant.

A professional rival of Kate, Ken Howard (James Solheim) a reporter on another newspaper, helps her out of her troubles even though she is determined to think he is an enemy. Imogene (Patricia Clinton), Mrs. Skipworth's maid adds many laughs to the play—especially when Hank (Jerry Hendrickson) decided he could go for her in a big way.

Trail Pioneer Notes His 100th Birthday

George (Gunnar) Frostly, celebrated his 100th birthday Friday at Trail, with many friends and relatives gathered for "open house" at the home of his step-daughter, Mrs. Alma Kvestad.

Among the many messages and gifts received by Mr. Frostly, probably the most prized one is a congratulatory message from President Eisenhower.

A chest containing over 100 silver dollars from friends and relatives, which he divided with his wife, was one of the gifts.

Mr. Frostly was born in Norway March 18, 1855, and came with his parents to America in 1861. The family made the journey in a small sailboat, and landed in Quebec, Canada, after two months at sea. From Quebec they went to Chicago, and then settled in Madison, Wis.

There were seven children in the family. One brother, Ole, Mr. Frostly's twin brother, died in Alaska during the famous Alaska gold-rush in the late 1890's. The eldest brother, Kjittel, was killed in the Civil War.

In 1871 the family moved to Hanley Falls, Wis., where his father took a homestead. Mr. Frostly spent some time teaching school there, and in 1896 he filed on a homestead in Johnson township, Polk County, where he farmed until retiring only two years ago.

In 1918 Mr. Frostly married Mrs. Emma Ellesgaard in Gully, Minn. He has two step-daughters, Mrs. Kvestad and Mrs. Leonard Hanson, Minot, N. D. He and his wife, 77, are now residing with Mrs. Kvestad.

Mr. Frostly remembers many incidents of his younger days including the trip across the Atlantic and the three-day storm which all but enveloped the tiny boat.

Wages in Madison during his earlier stay there were 50 cents a day and the only means of transportation was by oxen.

Mr. Frostly clearly remembers Abraham Lincoln as the president when the family arrived and he said that he cast his first vote during Hayes-Tilden campaign of the 1870's. It was about this time that he changed his name from Kjittelson to Frostly.

Mr. Frostly, who saw the Indians being pushed onto the reservations and the rush of the settlers across the plains, was active as town clerk and as assessor for many years. He also stated that he was mowing hay at the age of 84.

World War I Vets Honored by Local Legion Thursday

A large number of World War I veterans and their wives were present at a Legion birthday party in their honor last Thursday evening, at the club-rooms. The occasion was the 36th anniversary of the founding of the national organization in March, 1919, at Paris, France.

Hosts for the evening were Ecklund Holmstrom post and its auxiliary. After a smorgasbord dinner served at 6:30 p. m., there was a short program which featured songs by the auxiliary chorus. W. E. Dahlquist responded for the veterans of World War I.

Dr. Martin Named Northrop PTA Head

Historical Pageant Is Given by Sixth Graders

Mrs. Robert Quale, vice president of the Northrop PTA, presided at the March meeting held Monday evening in the school auditorium.

The nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Harwood Olson, Chairman, Mrs. Douglas Stewart and Mrs. Howard Hoel submitted the following candidates for 1955-1956 officers: Dr. George Martin, president; Mrs. Donald L. Olson, vice president; Mrs. Palmer Lorenson, secretary; and Mrs. Dennis Wegge, treasurer. These candidates were unanimously elected.

Mrs. Melville Simon reported that Northrop PTA now has 505 members, which is 100%. Mrs. Randall Noper reported on the summer round-up and completed arrangements for workers and food donations from Northrop.

A motion was made and carried to sponsor two delegates to the fall conference at Duluth in the fall. Randall Noper, finance chairman W. C. Mayes and Del Seefeldt will serve as a ways and means committee to raise the funds to send the delegates.

An interesting TV show entitled "A Trip Through Time" was presented by Miss Randorf's sixth grade with Linda Gustafson acting as narrator. A quiz show on Minnesota history preceded the historical pageant which was written and produced by a large group of pupils.

There were 119 in attendance, the door prize being won by Miss Randorf's room. Mr. Leigh won the door prize. Lunch was served by the second grade mothers.

$6,000 Insurance Paid in County to Flax Raisers in '54

The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation announced today that approximately $6,000 in losses were paid to Pennington county flax farmers in 1954. Claims were paid to 30 farmers out of more than 400 farmers who carry all risk insurance under the Department of Agriculture program. Most of the losses were caused by rust and drought.

Ralph Childs, acting state director, stated today that more than $456,000 in losses were paid to farmers within the 13 counties in Northwestern Minnesota wherein wheat and flax is insured.

Childs also stated that county representatives of the department will be contacting flax growers in Marshall county for the next two weeks to explain the 1956 program.

of a new grandstand, agricultural exhibit building and a comfort station. He said the cost to the individual farmer and city resident would be small.

McLeod, also a member of the fair board, added that it is proposed to disband the Pennington County Agricultural society, which owns the fair grounds, and to turn the property over to the county, which in turn would arrange with the fair board to continue operation of the fair. He said that the fair association is entirely free of debt and has some cash on hand, but that the needed improvements require outside help.

State Senator Roy E. Wiseth and Rep. Ben Wichterman were present from St. Paul to discuss some of the problems facing the legislature at its current session. Wichterman indicated that he favored the state income tax withholding bill, which he said is expected to result in collection of $2,000,000 in additional taxes each year. He stated that the state levy on real estate will have to be raised substantially this year unless other taxes are increased to meet expenses.

Senator Wiseth contended that Minnesota iron ore is not being taxed too heavily. He said there appears to be justification for an increase in basic state school aid payments above the present figure of $80, but added that there should also be a readjustment of the present equalization aids.

A short question-and-answer period followed, after which those present were treated to coffee and doughnuts.

'Revolt in Berlin' Film Shown in 2 Towns Next Week

Exclusive East Berlin shots of the world shaking uprisings of June 17, never before seen in this country, highlight Providence Barrington Bible College's second film "Revolt In Berlin" to be shown at the Lutheran Free church in Newfolden Wednesday, March 30, and at the St. Hilaire school gym Thursday, March 31.

"Revolt in Berlin" is a timely, informative drama-documentary film based on the titanic struggle between Communism and Christianity. It has been filmed on both sides of the "Iron Curtain" and therefore is authentic. The showing is sponsored by the Newfolden Free Luth. and Evang. Free churches, and St. Hilaire Covenant YPS.

For the facts David Ferrin, the producer, went to Berlin. To get them he braved the threat of Russian soldiers.

The fictional element of this fast moving film carries the persuasive message that Christianity is the only real answer to Communism.

The purpose of the film is two fold. To present documentary evidence of the threat of Communism, and to win souls to Christ. The Gospel story is woven throughout the film.

Members of the Thief River Falls Chapter of Job's Daughters will hold an Easter Lily Sale April 1 and 2 to help crippled children of Minnesota.

Green and white Easter lilies, symbolizing faith, hope and a new chance at life, will be sold by the girls. The lilies have been made by the handicapped themselves and the proceeds from the sale will be turned over to the local Easter Seal committee, headed by Mrs. Herbert Halverson.

With the County Agent

By William Penning
Pennington Co. Agent

I would like to try a new approach to my column today. I would like to make it as informal as I can, almost like a letter to you folks. And in my weekly letter to you I would like to discuss some of the important things that are happening in Pennington County some of the aspects of new farming practices.

Let's visit about the garden that we expect to plant this spring. Spring seems to be a long ways away as we look at the snowy weather we're having this middle of March, but nevertheless, there are things we can do to get ready for planting our garden.

This is the time of the year when we should be looking thru our seed catalogs selecting the seed varieties that we wish to plant. If some of the varieties aren't familiar to you then you should come to the Extension Office and get the extension folder 154 which summarizes last years vegetable variety trials. All varieties discussed in the folder are available from seed men.

Another thing you can do to insure a good garden is don't plant seed that you have saved over from last year. Old seed may not germinate well and poor stands might result, this is especially true of parsnip, parsley, and onion seed. Another thing you can do to have a better garden, is to be certain of the variety of transplants that you grow. To do this you can plant your own seed, the seed that you have ordered this year. Complete plans for cold frames and hot beds are available at the extension office.

The first of March is the proper time to start head lettuce, cabbage, cauliflower, brocili, peppers and egg plants. I would advise you not to seed your tomatoes until early April. It takes only six weeks to produce a good tomato transplant from seed. Another thing you should do is secure a small package of arasan for treating your vegetable seeds. This will prevent seedlings from rotting off at the ground line. All you need per packet of seed is just a small amount that will adhere to the flat end of a toothpick. Shake the packet so that all the seeds are covered with this small amount of arasan.

Make your garden plan now. Show arrangements of crops, length of rows, spacing between rows, spacing within rows and the date of planting each variety. Draw the plan to scale. If these plans are saved from year to year you will have an excellent record of each years garden.

I hope I have given you folks with a green thumb a few ideas on your garden practices for 1955. If you would like more information on gardening I would be very happy to talk with you at my office or if I am not in there are some excellent bulletins on gardening that can help any gardener in our county.

Shelterbelt Saves Feed Costs

Livestock farmers in Pennington County, who have a good shelterbelt, find they average about [illegible] apiece savings in feed costs. This shelterbelt or windbreak protects the livestock in the yard from harsh prairie winds and the animals are then able to use all their feed for production. They don't burn up feed to keep their body warm. If you want such an improvement on your farm, there is still time to order trees. This reminder comes from Parker Anderson, who is the extension forester at the University of Minnesota. That's all the ink I have for today, see you next week.

Don't Wash Linoleum Away

It may not have occurred to you that you can wash your linoleum away. But that is possible.

If you want your linoleum to last, don't scrub it too much. Wipe up spills immediately and keep the floor swept or dusted with a dry mop.

When it's necessary to give the linoleum a thorough cleaning, never use strong soap and don't use too much water. And be sure to follow soapy water with a rinse. Soap fades and discolors linoleum and actually causes it to be washed away. Too much water will make the linoleum deteriorate.

Proper waxing is the key to long wear and good appearance. A film of wax takes plenty of wear and so protects the linoleum. All you need is a thin coat of self-polishing wax, applied at intervals when the wear requires it.

Wax for Asphalt Tile

When you wax your asphalt or rubber tile floors, be sure to use only light coats of a water-base wax. A wax containing any solvent but water will damage the tile. A whiff of the wax will tell you if it smells like dry cleaning fluid—in which case it contains a solvent and should not be used on asphalt or rubber tile. And don't apply lacquer, shellac or any plastic finish. Read the manufacturer's directions to find out exactly what care is recommended for your type of tile.

• • •

Care for Wood Floors

Do you scrub your wood floors with soap and water? If you do, you can expect those floors to warp and crack many years before they should be showing the signs of wear.

Another thing to remember is that self-polishing waxes with a water base should never be used on hardwood. Self polishing waxes are about 85 per cent water, and water from this source is just as injurious to hardwood as water from a scrub bucket.

To keep your wood floors looking well, use either a paste wax or a liquid polishing wax with a solvent base. You can easily recognize a liquid polishing wax because it smells like dry cleaning fluid.

Spots on the floor can be removed or touched up with liquid polishing wax in between periods when the entire floor is waxed.

• • •

Self-Polishing Wax the Easy Way

Next time you use self-polishing wax on your linoleum, asphalt or rubber tile, remember that you'll get better results by doing it the easy way — according to directions. That's the purpose of self-polishing wax — to save work.

First of all, don't shake up the wax. Shaking makes it foamy and it won't dry evenly. In a good quality self polishing product, the wax is in microscopic particles which are always evenly distributed.

To apply self polishing wax, begin by pouring a small amount of wax right on the floor, making a pool about as large as a dinner plate. Soak this up into the wax applier or cloth, then start covering a section with wax, using as few strokes as possible. This type of wax begins to dry as soon as it is on the floor. Disturbing the film as it dries lessens the final shine.

PUBLIC OPINION

Thank You, Mr. Editor

Having been delayed in observing Editorial Number One (A Weed Blooms Again), in Times issue of March 9, I now send in my expression of appreciation of the stand which your writing reflects.

"We have moved away from the old ideas of punishment," says the editorial, which statement resembles the talk of a strict preacher or that of an old line disciplinarian.

Also note, please, the editorial's wind-up sentence, "And we probably will have to retrace our steps to some extent in recognizing the fact that punishment sometimes is a necessary part of the corrective process."

Eliminating the qualifying words, "probably," and, "to some extent," my beloved father, blessed in memory, preached and practised a tenet of that kind. A grade school teacher, I recall, also believed in applied discipline. Report of a teacher's disciplinary action which reached dad's ears, relating to his son, merely provided him with an opportunity to support the teacher and not sympathize with his child. A mayor of a western city reported to me an instance of an irate mother who had reprimanded an officer for bringing her girl home—the officer politely had taken the daughter off the street when she should have been home before that hour.

Let us hope that seeds sown in your editorial may grow into strict enforcement of law. Let us not waste time in being over-concerned about the comforts of the culprit until the will to offend is broken. Let us help the penitent. Let us think also of those who do not offend and who need protection. Let compassion flow—in the proper channel!

Gratefully,
Leonard W. Lindolm, pastor

Editor Times:

There is a lot of discussion going on about the profits made by our Municipal Power Plant. I wonder if a close examination would not disclose that these so called profits are not some what of a Will-o-wisp affair.

From records I have seen supplied by the Power Plant. It seems we are paying approximately one cent per KW produced for engines alone. From the records again, we are replacing these engines every 15 years or less. Is it possible that these engines are worn out in 15 years or less?

Let's inquire further into the possibility of connecting up with REA power and eventually enjoy the benefits of the Missouri River Power development, which will be available soon. Why not do the same as other towns, larger and smaller than Thief River Falls are doing. Let no one tell you that this Missouri River Power will not soon be abundent, and at less cost to us than it is being produced by our present plant.

WHY TAKE A CHANCE?

You have an investment in every acre you plant. Can you afford to let this investment go unprotected. When your crop is lost, your time and seed are gone, too.

Protect Your Investment with LOW COST NON-PROFIT Federal Crop Insurance

THE ONLY INSURANCE PROTECTING YOUR FIELDS AGAINST ALL KINDS OF DISASTER

- EXCESSIVE MOISTURE
- HAIL
- INSECT INFESTATION
- STORM AND WIND
- RUST
- PLANT DISEASE
- DROUTH
- FROST
- FIRE
- FLOOD

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Federal Crop Insurance is a non-profit policy written by your Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. It promotes crop insurance as one more service to Pennington County farmers. The government of the United States backs up your Policy.

WHOM DO YOU SEE?

For full particulars call at the ASC office under the Union State Bank, Thief River Falls or see Ray Eisbrener. They will be glad to answer your questions and write a policy for you.

Over 400 policies in force in Pennington County in 1954 and these farmers know a good deal — there's a reason why! See us today!

WHAT DOES IT COST?

The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation is a government non-profit organization. The cost of insurance is set at a level which is estimated will cover possible losses and will also provide a reserve which may be needed for emergencies. If this reserve exceeds a prescribed minimum, the excess is reflected back to policy holders in the form of reduced premium rates.

WHAT DOES IT PAY?

Crop Insurance doesn't guarantee you the return and profit of a bumper crop, but it protects your investment in planting a crop. When nature fails, insurance steps in and PAYS ... pays you enough to plant a crop next year.

In 1954 approximately $6,000 was paid to Pennington County farmers because of losses on wheat and flax. These payments looked mighty good to farmers making plans for 1955. If you are insured you will always have a CASH RETURN. You quit gambling with the weather for such HIGH STAKES!

See Infestation of Grasshoppers in Area This Year

Minnesota Department of Agriculture Reports on Survey Made in 1954

Grain and grass crops in the area of Marshall, Polk, Pennington, Kittson and Roseau counties will very likely in danger from grasshoppers, according to latest figures released by the Office of the state Entomolist in St.

This prediction is based upon the 1954 adult and egg surveys conducted by the division of plant industry of the Minnesota department of agriculture.

According to the charts available, a severe infestation will be located in the northern corners of Norman and Mahnomen counties and will extend in a threatening measure northward through Polk, Red Lake and Pennington counties, a wide section of Marshall, the southeastern corner of Kittson and eastward into Roseau county, gradually decreasing before it reaches the Canadian border.

Farmers are warned by the department to begin checking for 'hoppers in early summer along ditch edges, roadsides and fence rows. Wherever ten or more insects to the square yard are noted, damage can be serious. Thirty-five grasshoppers to the square yard can strip the area bare.

Total taxes on beer in Minnesota would represent more than one half of the brewers' price should a proposed law increasing the state excise tax on beer be passed by the legislature, according to State Representative John J. Kinzer, of Cold Springs, Minnesota.

The 43rd annual Minnesota state high school basketball tournament will get under way at the Williams fieldhouse on the University of Minnesota campus in Minneapolis on Thursday afternoon, with eight regional champions competing for the state title.

Only two of last year's tournament entries—Austin and Bemidji—gained berths in this year's tourney. Last year's state champion Brainerd team was side-tracked in its bid for another trip to the state tourney when they were beaten by Staples in a district tournament finals games.

The first round pairings for the Thursday contests are as follows: 2:00 p. m. Region Five (Minneapolis Washburn) vs. Region Six (Morris; 3:30 p. m. Region Four (New Prague) vs. Region Seven (Esko); 7:30 p. m. Region Three (Ortonville) vs. Region Eight (Bemidji); 9:00 p. m. Region One (Austin) vs. Region Two (Fairmont).

Play will continue with a pair of semi-finals tilts on Friday night, and on Saturday night, at 9:15 p. m. the championship finals will be played. The consolation semi-finals, with the losers of the first round games competing, will be played on Friday afternoon; and on Saturday evening the consolation finals will be played.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Hockey

The Warroad Lakers won the 1955 U. S. intermediate hockey championship on Sunday when, in the second game of their best-of-three series against Great Falls, they defeated Great Falls, 7 to 6. In the opening game of the series, which was played at Great Falls, the Lakers, with Gordy Christian and Frank "Campbell" Eisenzoph each getting the "hat trick," defeated the Falls team on Saturday night, 11 to 8. In Sunday afternoon's triumph, the Lakers were "sparked" by the three-goal performance of Art Stratton, and a two-goal effort by Joe Cyr.

The Winnipeg Maroons, coached by Bill Robinson, and with a number of Northwest Hockey league players on the roster, are down, two games to zero, in their best-of-seven Allan Cup playdown series against the Fort William Beavers. The series, after having played two games at Winnipeg, will be concluded at Fort William, and the odds are heavily against the Maroons.

The Brandon Wheat Kings, with Church Russell, Ron Castelane, and Bill Juzda in the lineup, are leading the Lloydminster Jets in their best-of-five Manitoba - Saskatchewan intermediate hockey series. Juzda, who had been side-lined because of a siege of the flu, is back in action, and doing his usual sturdy game at the blueline.

Interclass Champs: Seniors

George Gifford's Senior class team, with Dale Liggett scoring a pair of free throws and Vernon Solheim dropping in a field goal to provide the winning margin, defeated Lee Kjos' high flying Freshman team, 38 to 34, on Monday afternoon in the finals of the interclass basketball tournament.

In tournament first round games last Wednesday, the Seniors, with Vern Solheim leading the scoring, defeated Louie Wedul's Sophomores, 41 to 31; and the Frosh, by a 43 to 34 score, eliminated the Juniors.

The championship finals on Monday afternoon was nip-and-tuck until the final minutes of the game when the Seniors pulled away to a four-point lead. The Frosh, composed of Dave Hanson, Dave Rasmussen, Jim Bennes, Keith Johnson, Kenny Jones, and Kenny DeLap, all members of Joe Mikonich's Prowler 'B' squad, has been favored to defeat the Seniors, but coach Gifford's club was successful, for the most part, in bottling up the Frosh's lanky Dave Hanson, and that factor provided the win.

Again and Again and Again

Not since 1951, when coach Snooks Sullivan's East Grand Forks Green Wave defeated Bemidji, 40 to 37, in the regional finals, have we seen the Lumberjacks lose an eighth regional tilt. We had hoped that we would have that pleasure on Saturday night when, in the regional finals, the Lumberjacks met the Kennedy Rockets.

For two periods of play the game was in doubt, and, with score at 20 to 15 for Bemidji at the intermission, a Kennedy victory was a possibility. But not for long, for in the opening minutes of the second half Bemidji poured in points so fast that the score-board began to smoke, and a game that had been tense and closely-contested became a rout. The final score was 58 to 27, and that was a fair indication of the abilities of the two teams on Saturday night.

The Lumberjacks did not use the aggressive all-court press that we have been accustomed to see, and instead they utilized a strict man-to-man defense, with the Jacks picking up their men down the floor. First class defensive jobs were turned in by Jack Whiting, who held Kennedy's big Mark Nyberg to one field goal and four free throws; Darrell Erickson, who covered the Rockets' sensational scorer, Virg Sonju, so completely that the blond junior scored but three field goals and a free throw; and Rich Carter, who also did some covering of Sonju when Erickson was caught down the floor.

Erickson and Carter, in addition to doing fine work on defense, were the "power" of the Bemidji attack, getting 17 and 16 points respectively. Whiting, an All-state selection last year, picked up three personal fouls in the first period of Saturday night's game, and that fact handicapped the hard-working Bemidji center. Carrying three personals, Whiting was used more as a decoy, pulling Nyberg away from the lane and permitting Erickson to drive in for lay-ups.

The toughest job that any Lumberjack had, defensively, was Fred Barker's. Barker was assigned to cover Kennedy's five-foot, four-inch Gary Olstad, and, although he permitted Olstad to score four field goals and three free throws, the Bemidji guard must be given credit for a good job. Barker did n't prove much of a hindrance to Olstad in bringing the ball up the floor, for Olstad's dribble was unstoppable, but Barker was able to disrupt Olstad's play enough so that the Kennedy guard had difficulty in getting the ball in to Nyberg and Vig Sonju.

Guess we'll have to concede that Bemidji had the region's best team, and hope that they go "all the way" in this week's state tourney.

All-Regional

There were a number of top-flight basketball players competing in the regional tourney at Grand Forks, but the boys that impressed us particularly were Crookston's Henry Hulst; Kennedy's Virg Sonju; Ada's Sherman Moe; and Bemidji's Jack Whiting and Darrell Erickson.

Hulst and Sonju, were by all odds, the tournament's sharpest marksmen, getting their field goals the hard way, shooting while off-balance. Sherm Moe did a terrific job for Ada, but he was not given much help by the other Ada scorers, with the result being that Kennedy could "sag" back on him and make it difficult for the lanky Viking to get to the basket.

Whiting, while he didn't sparkle as a scorer, proved to be the key man in the Bemidji attack, and he set up many of the Lumberjack plays, and on the fast break. Whiting was usually the spear-head. Erickson gave the fans an idea of how a guard, when he gets an opening, should drive in to score on a lay-up. Erickson's play demoralized the Pirates in the first round game, and his combined defensive and offensive play was the high-light of the finals.

TRF Midgets Take Grand Forks 5-3; PeeWees Losers

Local Sextets Break Even in Pair of Exhibition Games Tuesday Evening

It was a win and a loss for the two local sextets in the pair of exhibition hockey games played in the Arena rink on Tuesday night, with the local Midgets defeating the Grand Forks Midgets, 5 to 3, and the Grand Forks PeeWees beating the local PeeWees, 7 to 0.

In the first game, the Grand Forks Midgets, on first period goals by Gary Granum and Dick Bachmeier, moved into a 2 to 0 lead; and when Jim Severson scored at 2:51 of the second period, the visitors held a commanding 3 to 0 advantage. Young Dale Wennberg, with Arlen Hjelle centering out the puck, scored for the locals at 4:38; and at the 10:02 mark the same duo marked up another tally, with Wennberg scoring.

The game was tied at 3-all at the 1:47 mark of their period when Wenberg, with Hjelle assisting, beat goalie Haggerty. Junior Froehle, getting a center-ice pass from Dave Gall, came in to beat Haggerty at 8:27 from close in, giving the locals a 4 to 1 lead; and Wennberg, scoring his fourth goal of the game, came in on a solo rush at the 9:06 mark to feint the goalie out the net, and flip the disc into the cage, giving the locals a well-earned 5 to 3 triumph.

In the PeeWee game, the Grand Forks PeeWees, with center Jerry Wentz scoring three goals, shut out the locals, winning by 7 to 0 score. Grand Forks, held to a 1 to 0 score in the first period, tallied three times in the second period, with Wentz, Vern Hebert, and Pat Keeley scoring. Two of the Grand Forks goals in that period were scored while the locals were skating shorthanded.

Wentz, Quale, and Art Belsecker connected for Grand Forks goals in the final period, with Belsecker's tally being scored in the final seconds of play.

Bemidji Wins 3rd Straight Region 8 Title

Defeats Kennedy 57-28; to Face Ortonville in 1st Round of State Meet

Coach Burt Fortier's Bemidji Lumberjacks won their third successive regional basketball championship on Saturday night when, after being held to a 20 to 15 score at the half-time intermission, they "exploded" for a 27-point third period and then went on to defeat the Kennedy Rockets, 57 to 28, in the finals of the regional tournament played on the North Dakota fieldhouse court in Grand Forks.

Bemidji will enter the first round competition in the state high school tournament in Minneapolis on Thursday night when, at 7:45 p. m., they meet Ortonville, the Region Three representative.

The 5000 fans who dared the icy roads and blizzard conditions to be in attendance at the regional finals on Saturday night saw the Kennedy Rockets, by playing cautiously and setting up a tight zone defense, hold the favored Bemidji Lumberjacks to a 20 to 15 score at the half. The Lumberjacks held a 12 to 5 lead at the end of the first period, and then were outpointed by the Rockets, 10 to 8, in the second period.

Opening the second half, Kennedy attempted to "fast break" with the Lumberjacks and the result was that Bemidji racked up seven points in the first minute of play, and totaled 27 points during the third period to "insure" the game. The Jacks added ten points in the final period while Kennedy marked up eight points.

The Bemidji scoring was headed by guard Darrel Erickson, who garnered 8 field goals and one free throw for 17 points; and forward Rich Carter, who looped in five field goals and six free throws for 16 points. Kennedy's Virgil Sonju, who had scored 33 points in the Rockets' win over Ada in the semi-finals, was held to three field goals and a free throw by the close-guarding Jacks. Gary Olstad, Kennedy's nimble and quick-dribbling guard, paced the Rockets' scoring in the finals against Bemidji, with the sophomore playmaker connecting for four field goals and three free throws.

In the consolation game, played as a preliminary to the championship game on Saturday night, the Ada Vikings, by some expert work from the free-throw line, defeated the Crookston Pirates, 61 to 53. Coach Al Droen's Pirates, with forward Henry Hulst scoring 14 field goals and a free throw, led the Vikings from the field, 24 field goals to 17 field goals for Ada. Crookston committed numerous personal fouls, and Ada marked up twenty seven points on free throws. Ada's Sherman Moe was the game's high scorer with eight field goals and sixteen free throws.

In first round tournament games played on Friday, and before a crowd of 6000 fans, the Bemidji Lumberjacks by a lopsided 79 to 41 score, defeated the Crookston Pirates; and the Kennedy Rockets, trailing Ada by a 17 to 16 score at the end of the first period, pulled into a 37 to 25 lead at the half, and then raced away in the second half to win by a 77 to 48 score.

Bemidji, showing remarkable drive and aggressiveness, piled into Crookston to build up a commanding 22 to 6 lead at the end of the first period, and at the half-time stop the Jacks held a 41 to 14 advantage over the hapless Pirates. The Jacks continued to pile up the points in the third period, having a 58 to 20 lead. In the final period, coach Fortier used numerous reserves in the Bemidji lineup and the Pirates edged out the Jacks in the period's scoring, 21 to 20.

With Mark Nyberg covering both the boards in fine style, and with Virg Sonju hitting on field goals, and with their watch-charm guard, Gary Olstad sifting through the defense for close-in shots, the Kennedy Rockets, in the second half, made a shambles of their game with Ada, winning by a decisive 77 to 48 score. In the Kennedy scoring, Virg Sonju had 33 points, Olstad had 21 points, and Nyberg scored 17 points.

Enraged Bull Fatally Gores Argyle Farmer

Funeral services were held last Wednesday for Arthur S. Hagen, 50, Foldahl township farmer, who died in Warren hospital March 13 of injuries sustained when he was attacked by a bull on his farm Saturday afternoon, says the Warren Sheaf.

Services were held from the Alma Lutheran church with Rev. Gordon Berntson officiating. Mrs. Ole Oss and Curtis Solum provided the funeral music.

Mr. Hagen was attacked by his brother Norman's Holstein bull while leading the four-year old animal to the barn. The goring happened about 4:30 p. m. Saturday and was not discovered until almost 6:30 by Mr. Hagen's family. Calls were made to his brother Norman, the Quanrud Funeral home for ambulance service and to the Marshall county highway engineer for a plow to clear the ¾ mile lane into the farm yard. No doctor was available at the time. It was 9:30 p. m. before Mr. Hagen was gotten to the hospital. The farm is located in section 18, Foldahl township, 8 miles east and 1 mile south of Argyle.

The bull, which had showed no previous sign of hostility, attacked Mr. Hagen in the barn yard and he crawled to the safety of the barn. Marshall county coroner Dr. E. E. Pumala ruled death due to "a crushed chest, shock, multiple internal injuries, all ribs broken."

Pallbearers included five surviving brothers, Ingvald, Norman, Elmer, Clarence and Herbert Hagen, and Kenneth Anderson. Honorary pallbearers included Clarence Gast, Donald Whitlow, Elmer Welin, Lloyd Settерholm, Elmer Leidberg and Evan Hanson. Interment was in Alma Lutheran cemetery.

Arthur S. Hagen was born Jan. 22, 1905, in Oslo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sivert Hagen. He moved to Donaldson and was married to Esther Wold at Greenbush on Nov. 28, 1937. They lived at Donaldson until 1942 when they moved to their farm in Foldahl township.

He is survived by his wife; five brothers; a sister, Mrs. Minnie Anderson; two daughters, Arlene and Sandra; his father and a number of nieces and nephews.

Propose Changes in Handling Game and Fish Licenses

Would Give Agents 10-cent Commission Instead of 10 Per Cent as at Present

A sweeping change in the method of issuing game and fish licenses in Minnesota that would save $186,000 per year in cost of operation was recommended to Governor Freeman and the legislative by Chester S. Wilson, commissioner of conservation, on March 15, the last day of his service in that position. This proposal was based on the findings of Howard B. Monson, supervisor of administrative services for the conservation department, and Milton W. Johnson, supervisor of the license section, on a recent trip to study licensing methods in force in Wisconsin and Michigan.

Under a bill drafted by the department, all local agents for the sale of game and fish licenses, would be appointed by the commissioner, and the county auditors would be eliminated as middlemen for distrubuting licenses, and appointing local agents. A flat fee of 10c per license would be paid to agents, instead of 10% commission, as at present.

"This proposal follows the Michigan system, under which a large volume of licenses is handled successfully," Wilson stated. "However, they allow agents only 5c per license. Their officials feel that this is too low. We recommend a 10c fee, which we think is fair, though less than the 10% commission now paid in Minnesota.

"Wisconsin issues licenses through county clerks under a system similar to ours, but at much lower agents' commissions. Experience in both Wisconsin and Michigan shows that licenses can be successfully issued at much lower cost in agents' commissions than we are paying in Minnesota. The money which we would save for the game and fish fund under the new system would go a long way to buy wetlands for wildlife or pay for other worth while conservation projects."

State 4-H Search for Talent Event Being Held Again

Local, County Contests Are Scheduled to Be Finished Before June 1

A Search for Talent contest to 4-H club members in the state will be held for the sixth successive year, Leonard Harkness, state 4-H club leader at the University of Minnesota, announced today.

The event is being sponsored by the University of Minnesota agricultural extension service in cooperation with Cargill, Inc. Awards will be given by Cargill to county, district and state champions.

Local clubs will hold competition for members within the next few months, Harkness said, since county contests must be completed before June 1. District events will be held during the summer, and the state finals are scheduled as one of the 4-H events during the state fair.

Contestants must be between 10 and 21 years of age. Local clubs may select an individual or group to present a musical, dramatic or other talent number at the county talent show. However, talent numbers must be limited to six participants, not including the accompanist.

Several winners in past Search for Talent contests have been invited to perform at the Share the Fun breakfast at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

State Heart Fund Drive over Top

The 1955 Heart Fund drive in Minnesota has gone over the top. With reports still coming in from the state's 87 county chairmen, the total stood today at $321,030. Quota for the state has been set at $310,000.

State chairman Loane J. Randall of St. Paul, who headed members of the Minnesota Association of Life Underwriters in the drive, said that this figure would be increased even more by June 30th.

THE PENNINGTON COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY PROPOSES A PROGRAM OF FAIR GROUNDS IMPROVEMENTS

The Board of Directors of the Pennington County Agricultural Society have come to what they term "The Fork in the Road." The windstorm of June 7th, 1954 brought this to an abrupt disclosure. One section of the grandstand was blown down, and realizing that we did not have enough time nor money to rebuild this portion before the fair, temporary bleachers were constructed for the 1954 fair.

The Directors have come to the conclusion that the problem with which they now are confronted is too great to be financed by private contributions and borrowing. The Agriculural Society now has about $10,000 in cash that is available for an improvement program. The property of the Society is unencumbered. It is now proposed by the Directors that all of the property be turned over to Pennington County in return for which the county should assume the responsibility for the financing that will be necessary to develop the property for general community purposes.

The Board of Directors met with the Board of County Commissioners for the purpose of discussing their problem. The Commissioners agreed that if enabling legislation could be secured to permit the County to finance the project that they would cooperate. Necessary legislation has been passed and the Commissioners have agreed to proceed with the election, submitting the question to the voters of the county.

The Plan of the Agricultural Society, if the issue is approved, is to:

- BUILD A GRANDSTAND AND LIVESTOCK EXHIBITION BUILDING,
- MAKE IMPROVEMENTS TO 4-H BUILDING,
- CONSTRUCT MODERN REST ROOMS,
- REPAIR AND REMODEL WOMEN'S BUILDING,
- COMPLETE THE INSTALLATION OF WATER AND SEWER SERVICE AND IMPROVE GROUNDS FOR PARK AND PICNIC AREA.

The benefits of this proposal would be for the development of our main industry—AGRICULTURE. For future development of this industry, we must have facilities for Dairy Days; Purebred Livestock Shows & Sales Northwest Crop Show, Northwest Poultry Show, and many other agriculture developments for the benefit of all. The small cost of $90,000 bond issue.

IN THE PROCESS OF CHANGE

Whatever else may be happening to the dairy industry, the production records of the local creamery clearly indicate that Thief River Falls is growing as a market for dairy products. G. S. Bergland, manager, reports a continuing growth in the volume of whole milk received at the plant. The February total this year was practically double that of a year ago and in another month the cheese department will be operating 24 hours a day, Bergland states. He estimates this year's volume of cheese at 1,250,000 pounds, with butter production continuing at about the same level as last year.

Dairying and dairy product manufacturing processes are undergoing great changes in the area. These changes require substantial investment at both the farm and the processing plant, and it is unfortunate that they are forced upon us at a time when income is down. There appears to be no alternative however and it is encouraging to know that necessary improvements are being made in spite of the extra burden they impose at the present time. It is encouraging, too, to know that a more diversified market is softening the blow of the reduced butterfat value.

Whether we like it or not, we are moving in the direction of larger and more efficient units of operation. Ten years from now we probably will have fewer but larger dairy herds, and fewer but larger processing plants. Dairying is becoming a highly specialized operation requiring more and more a big investment in equipment. For those who are able and willing to specialize the future for dairying is bright. There is little encouragement however in the prospect for dairying as a side-line and seasonal activity.

THE YALTA PAPERS

Secretary of State Dulles has been both censured and praised because of the release of the Yalta papers. As we see it the action should be neither condemned nor applauded. We will add it to our list of much discussed events that are of little importance.

All of the important matters contained in these papers have been made public in various forms over a period of years. The mistakes have been thoroughly discussed and, in the light of later developments, have been generally admitted.

It probably would have been better if they had not been released in the way they were made public, but this view is based solely on a feeling of respect for Sir Winston. Had he wished them to be released he no doubt would have suggested it and it is to be regretted that he now has been caused some embarrassment.

There will be ample time for the historians to weigh and evaluate the relative merits of the three men who played so important a part in that critical period of the world's history. The publication could just as well have been delayed until after Churchill joins Roosevelt and Stalin in the sanctuary of the grave. Another year or two would make little difference.

REGULATING THE DAIRY INDUSTRY

A milk control bill that would create a state authority with broad powers to regulate the dairy industry, and control the marketing of dairy products from the producer's farm to the consumer's table, is now before the legislature. The fact that the measure is sponsored by groups in the Twin Cities, and has been presented without the support of the organizations that speak for the rural segments of the dairy industry, is in itself justification for deferring action on it in the present session.

There is need for clarification of the industry's marketing problems. Here in Minnesota we have one group of producers who are asking the federal government to remove the barriers that are said to be keeping their milk off the markets of the large eastern cities. Another group, or maybe it is the same one, insists that the kind of barriers we don't want raised against us in the East are necessary here in Minnesota. Governor Orville Freeman now finds himself in the awkward position of advocating two views that are directly opposed and contradictory to each other.

Before we create a new statewide authority to regulate the dairy industry better we agree on what will be the purpose of the regulation.

Spring arrived on schedule Monday according to the calendar but it wasn't until yesterday that tough old Jack Frost showed signs of yielding ground to the welcome liberator. Now, in spite of all the discouraging predictions of colder-than-usual weather for several weeks more, we are sure that Winter is definitely on the way out. He is fighting a stubborn rear guard action as he falls back and he may stage an occasional attack, but by the tenth day of April the ice will out of the river (we hope) and we will be well on the way to another planting time.

By a vote of 71 to 11 the Senate confirmed the appointment of John Marshall Harlan as justice of the Supreme Court and now the court is back to full strength again. Among the eleven who voted against Harlan was Senator Langer of North Dakota. It was a typical Langer gesture of defiance and occasioned no surprise. By his generally antagonistic approach, and his preference for discord rather than harmony, he has reduced greatly his own stature and influence. With his ability and courage and experience he could have been a very helpful force in advancing the interests of the north-central area.

The Legislature

BY W. E. DAHLQUIST

The report submitted to the Legislature by the Highway Study Commission appears to have failed to accomplish its purpose. It was hoped that by such a study it would be possible to reconcile urban and rural differences on the distribution of highway use revenues. The hoped-for harmony has not been achieved.

This commission, consisting of 28 legislators and representative citizens, did a commendable job. A thorough study was made of Minnesota's highway problems, urban and rural. Necessary factual material and the best available estimates on future needs were secured. By a vote of 22 to 6 a plan was adopted.

There apparently was unanimous agreement except on one point. The six dissenters were not satisfied with the 8 per cent that was recommended for cities of more than 5,000 population. They wanted this amount increased to 10 per cent.

The position of the six dissenters is justified by the metropolitan press mainly because a large portion of the highway revenue is collected in the metropolitan area. It goes along with their often expressed opinion that they should have more of the school aids because they pay more of the income tax.

It is this attitude that is disturbing. The people of the metropolitan area, getting incomplete and slanted reports, are developing a persecution complex that is not good.

I am sure a fair analysis of all of the state's activities would prove conclusively that Minnesota does far more for Minneapolis and St Paul than these cities do for the state. For each of their own dollars the people of these cities pay to the state my guess is that they get back at least two dollars.

Of the state's approximately 12,600 full time employees in the classified service, more than one-half live in the metropolitan area. This does not include the state's official family. And it does not include the University of Minnesota.

The University of Minnesota alone, through its direct expenditures and, indirectly, by its many services and activities, causes more rural dollars to be distributed in Minneapolis and St. Paul than these cities contribute to the development and maintenance of facilities in the rural areas.

Minneapolis and St. Paul fight vigorously for economy in state government outside the metropolitan area. They don't want their local payrolls cut however. Minneapolis is sure the University isn't half big enough. Any suggestions that a little orderly pruning of the giant might be helpful brings forth a chorus of:

Woodman, spare that tree,
Touch not a single twig.
The U's our greatest industry,
We want us to grow big.

This attitude toward important local payrolls is understandable. Urban Builders are no more selfish in these matters than are their rural cousins, the Boosters of Beanville and the Pushers of Punkin Center.

But it is unfortunate when, due to a selfish and provincial point of view, a program that is good for the state as a whole is defeated.

No good ever comes of a city-versus-country fight. There always will be some conflicting interests and not always will the settlement of these differences be entirely equitable and fair. But over a period of time in one way or another, things will equalize. There must be reasonable give as well as take in these matters. Adn, after all, we are all a part of the state of Minnesota. Whatever is good for the state as a whole is good for us too.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Finally Talked Herself Out

A certain talkative young lady almost spent a night locked in "Doc" White's drugstore.

She entered Doc's store about 11 PM, going directly to the pay phone. At eleven-thirty Doc went home—not having seen a customer for a half hour. Around midnight he got a call from the store ... she had finally run out of conversation (and money) and found the front door locked tight.

Doc vowed he'd leave her there to teach her a lesson. But Mrs. W. spoke up: "Now you go turn her loose. It's hard to cut a good conversation short — something only a woman understands!"

From where I sit, however, plenty of men are as hard to pry away from a telephone as any female. Some people are just naturally long-winded, while others are the silent type—just as some of us like coffee and others prefer a glass of beer. The important thing is to be considerate... before friends start giving us the "busy signal."

HIGHWAY PATROLMEN GET AROUND A LOT!

Minnesota Highway Patrol comprises 198 officers and 18 supervisors. A tabulation of their activities speaks volumes. In the biennium 1952-54 they spent 812,585 hours patroling the imposing total of 11,234,638 miles. Accidents encountered averaged almost exactly one per thousand miles — 11,169. These alert guardians of Minnesota motorists listed 70,328 specific instances of help and first aid—just about one every 160 miles. Unfortunately they had to make 52,586 arrests, and issue 146,515 warnings. Just about 10 cents a mile was collected in fines imposed, $1,072,514.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD
Institute of Child Welfare
University of Minnesota

It Takes Time To Be Sure

Mother puts her arm around two and a half year old Billy and pushes him forward a bit. "Say 'Hello' to Mrs. Jones," she urges. Billy looks down and tries to slide behind his mother.

Mother explains to Mrs. Jones "He chatters like a magpie all day long, but when someone he doesn't know comes, he's silent as a sphinx."

Such behavior is not unusual. Young children need time to appraise an unfamiliar situation. They need time to observe a strange person and to make certain that mother is going to be around and can be relied on. In time, of he is allowed to make his observations undisturbed, the young child will likely make his own contribution. It may not be "Hello" or even his latest multisyllable word, but it will be part of himself. It will represent a definite advance in his social development.

Often a toddler will make his first advance with a concrete object bringing the stranger a new or a prized possession. When he is assured of the stranger's good motives he shows he is at ease by his smiles, and eventually his conversation.

A strange adult who swoops down upon a young child is asking for the retreat or the tears which frequently follow. A wise guest will not try to force contact with the child. If matters are not rushed the child will be attracted to a quiet stranger who refrains from making frightening gestures and impossible demands. Mothers should not be embarrassed by the child's lack of social skills; these are learned little by little.

Young children need to watch. Let them go at their own pace. This process can seem terribly slow to an adult. But a young child's pace is slow, and hurrying it may only make the child more sure he'd rather watch.

ICE ON HIGHWAYS CUTS TRAFFIC IN FEBRUARY

One of the effects of the severe and extensive icy conditions on Minnesota's rural trunk highways during February is shown in the drastic reduction in travel as registered by the 26 automatic traffic recorders at rural locations. Road use was down more than 17% under February of last year, roads were in generally good winter driving condition. Not a single station came up to the 1954 counts, with the closest being the one southwest of Knife River on T.H. 61 where increased taconite mining activities served to maintain travel just a fraction of a percentage point within last February's travel.

Reports on Quest of Sources of Water in Marshall, Kittson Co.

As a part of the water resources survey of the area by the United States Geological Survey, four test holes were drilled in Marshall and Kittson counties last year. The holes were drilled to study the occurrence of ground water in the deeper formations.

One hole was drilled on the western limits of Warren, one east of Hallock, a third a mile east of Lancaster and the last near Lake Bronson State park in the underground water phase of the survey. The results in the Warren test hole were disappointing in so far as finding bearing formations were concerned, water bearing formations tween the glacial drift and the bedrock, according to Robert Schneider, district geologist and water resources division representative, in a special letter to the Warren Sheaf.

One of the main purposes for drilling the deep test hole at Warren was to determine the extent of the formations below the glacial deposits. However, once through the glacial deposits only the bedrock was found which has never been penetrated.

In the Warren test hole about 280 feet of sedimentary rocks were penetrated above the hard, crystalline basement rock and no water bearing beds were encountered between the glacial drift and the crystalline bed rock. However, three gravel strata were penetrated which were water bearing.

In the glacial deposits, sand and or gravel were found from 80 to 97 feet, 145 to 1662 feet and 210 to 220 feet. Judging from records of other wells and chemical analysis, it is probable that the water strata from 145 to 162 feet and 210 to 220 feet is highly mineralized. The sand and gravel at 80 to 97 feet appears to be rather limited insofar as its lateral extent is concerned and therefore not abundant enough over the area to be classed as a water-bearing strata. These water bearing areas are the same of those found in previous drillings and from which the Warren city water supply is now being taken.

In 1955 it is planned to continue the surface water study and as a part of the groundwater study the area of outcrop of the water-bearing geologic formations will be mapped and an undetermined number of shallow test holes will be drilled to study the occurrance and character of the formations. Additional samples of ground water will be taken from wells and test holes for chemical analysis.

The United States Geological Survey is conducting this investigation in cooperation with the Iron Range Resources and Rehabilitation Commission and the division of waters of the state department of conservation. The purpose of the investigation is to evaluate the surface and ground water resources both as to quantity and quality.

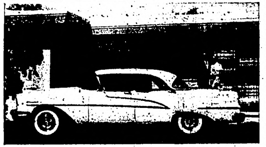
Records of discharge of the major streams in the area are being obtained at 18 gauging stations at which 15 are equipped with automatic recording gauges and three with manual gauges.

In addition, records of the stage-only are collected at six stations, three of which are equipped with recording gauges.

Samples of surface water are collected at selected stations along streams for chemical analysis. At seven stations samples are collected daily and at nine stations samples are collected periodically.

Ground water samples have been analyzed from selected wells throughout the area. Most of the farm wells in the area have been visited in order to make water level measurements, collect data on the chacter of the water bearing formations and to study the occurrence of ground water.

Oldsmobile Holiday Sedan Offers Style, Comfort



Unobstructed side vision, with no door pillars to bar the way, is the outstanding feature of this brand new body type, the four-door Deluxe Holiday sedan, as presented in the 1955 Oldsmobile "98" series. The sports flair of the Holiday coupe is combined with the comfort and roominess of a four-door sedan in this new model. Conventional center posts are eliminated through reinforcing the pillars upon which the doors are hinged. Inside and outside, the new Holiday sedan embodies the utmost in glamor and luxury. Richly appointed custom upholstery is offered exclusively in the "98" and Super "88" series of this model, representing a further advance in interior automotive design.

Plans for Grand Forks TV Go Ahead

Television owners in this area will get another channel this year as plans for the Grand Forks station K N O X TV go steadily ahead. The new station is expected to transmit on channel 10 with a power of over 300,000 watts off an 1,100 foot high antenna.

Location of the tower presents a problem since it can't be too near the jet base scheduled for construction 15 miles west of the Forks. There is some possibility that the tower will be erected in Minnesota.

State Takes Bids on Road Work in N. W. Minnesota

Bids on 12 trunk highway construction projects have been received by State Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffman, with the total of low proposals adding up to $3,181,120. Work covered by the projects includes improvements to more than 120 miles of trunk roads, a bridge and a set of traffic controls signals.

The projects in this area, with the low bids, include:

Norman County, No T. H. 75—Grading and concrete of 1.4 miles in Ada on Thorpe avenue and on East Main street north, Hallett Construction Co., Crosby $210,000.

T.H. 75—Grading and concrete paving of 17.3 miles between Jct. T.H. 81 and Ada and five concrete box culverts, Hallett Construction Co., Crosby, $817,340. Work to start June 1 and to be completed within 80 working days.

Roseau County, T.H. 11—Plant mixed bituminous surfacing of 12½ miles between Warroad and Roosevelt, Megarry Bros., St. Cloud, $117,449. Work to start June 1 and to be completed by August 15.

State VFW Posts Raise $100,000 for Cancer Research

To Aid in Financing Research Institute on University Campus

University President J. L. Morrill and Dr. Owen H. Wangensteen, chairman of the University's department of surgery, were presented with a certificate announcing that the Minnesota department of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has raised over $100,000 in their campaign to get $450,000 for an 11-bed nine-laboratory cancer research clinical institute to be built on the University campus.

The certificate was presented March 15 by Department Commander Edwin Ofstie; Department Auxiliary President Mrs Ottilia Evans and Harold C. Nymon, department cancer chairman and departmental senior vice commander.

The $100,000 has been raised by 238 Minnesota VFW posts and 220 auxiliaries, including those in Thief River Falls, which have staged dinners, banquets, dances, bake sales, card parties, ice fishing contests, wrestling matches as well as other special events. Leaders of the various local cancer committees have not been experienced fund-raisers; however, they have managed to pass the $100,000 mark in less than 18 months.

At the annual VFW encampment in 1953 in St. Cloud, the organization voted to raise $450,000 for the Institute without any public solicitations for donations. Their project choice was made after conferences with the University's college of medical sciences — particularly the department of surgery.

The campaign officially opened September 30, 1953, after being approved by the University's Board of Regents.

The Boy Scouts of America submits an annual report to Congress which granted the organization a federal charter in 1916.
